

DELIGHTFUL DERMA VIVA, THE IDEAL POWDER

will make the skin as white and beautiful as a babe's. Is absolutely invisible. If your hands, arms or neck are red, brown, dark or streaked, try it once and note the wonderful improvement. In liquid form, flesh pink and white—50 cents. In powder form, white, flesh pink or brunette—50 cents. Accept no substitutes. Sold by JOHN E. DALY.

DON'T MISS IT!

MASQUERADE DANCE!

To be given by Wisconsin Aerie No. 373, F. O. Eagles

Thursday Evening, Feb. 19, 1914

AT

Amusement Hall Roller Rink

Good music furnished by Ellis 8-piece orchestra

The Fraternal Order of Eagles has again secured the Roller Rink and will give a Grand Masquerade Dance to the general public. Three prizes will be given as follows: Best Dressed Couple $8.00. Most Comic Couple $4.00. A Rooby Prize of $2.00. The Grand March will take place at 11:30 p. m., after which masks will be removed.

Everybody Dance From the Start Whether Masked or Not

Dancing $1.00 Ladies Free Spectators 25c

Come at 8:30 and Dance until 2:30

Society Brand CLOTHES

Ask us to Show

you this stunning garment. It's worth while to secure it—and to wear it.

While you're considering this clothes-question, resolve that this Spring you're going to enjoy the same style that best-dressed men of New York and Chicago enjoy.

It takes an artist to produce real style, to anticipate the trend of fashion, to know to a nicety just the proper swing of a lapel, the exact cut of a coat, the shaping of a collar.

And it is these little things—which make the big things—that have made Society Brand Clothes win the favor of exacting dressers the country over. See them today.

We are now showing New Spring Styles in Men's and Young Men's Suits.

Abel & Podawiltz

GRAND RAPIDS, WIS.

REVIEW OF FOOTBALL SEASON

(Written by Lillian Miller.)

It is generally conceded by Grand Rapids and neighboring cities that the 1913 football season of the Lincoln High school has been exceptionally successful from every viewpoint.

Seven games were played during the season. The first played with the Stevens Point Normal resulted in an agreeable surprise for the Lincoln High school team, as they naturally expected to find much stronger and more experienced players in a Normal than in a High school. The score of the game was twenty-five to nothing. The next game was played against Wausau, an old rival, in which the team was also successful, although the score was not quite as high as that of the preceding one, being two to nothing. The game played with Marshfield was won with a good score, fifty-two to nothing. However, the Lincoln team won its highest score when it played Manawa on the home field, seventy-five to nothing. The next game was played with La Crosse. It was a hard fought game, but the Lincoln team won, nine to nothing. The game with Merrill was an exceptionally hard one. Both sides were determined to win; neither would give up, and when the game was finished the score showed that neither side had gained anything. Team after team was defeated and the only school to score against the Lincoln team was that of Sparta, which now holds the state championship, possibly due to the fact that Sparta's players averaged two years older than the Lincoln team. Also the officials of the former school put more stress upon athletics than upon anything else, while the latter consider athletics only as an adjunct to regular work. However, the boys took their defeat nobly, like men, saying, "The better team won."

The team, as a whole, was an excellent one. The boys of the team are strong, not only physically, but also mentally. They are not only leaders in football, but leaders in everything they undertake. The question "to smoke" or "not to smoke," if one is a football player was conclusively answered by the school board, backed by the Superintendent and the Faculty. These rules against the use of tobacco by football players, at first appeared very stringent, but now the discipline of two years ago is showing in the excellent football team of this year.

A big factor in the success of the boys was their team work and their faithful and consistent training. They all worked together and there was no particular star player. The team was willing to work and was willing to accept criticism. They practiced faithfully about two hours daily. They did not become puffed up after they had won several games, but on the other hand, they practiced just as faithfully as they had before. The persistence of the boys and the help given them by the second team made the team what it is. The members of the second team deserve a portion of the honor given and justly due to the first team. It was their determination and faithfulness that helped the first team to win the games of the season.

The boys played the following positions: Glen Shellhammer (Freshman), center; Neil Nash (Senior) quarter; Karl Zimmerman (Senior) right guard; Carlton Stamm (Senior) left guard; Ernie Smith (Sophomore) left tackle; Albert Trudell (Senior) right tackle; Harold Babcock (Senior) right half; Dean Babcock (Junior) left half; Leon Foley (Senior) left half; Myron Hill (Senior) full back; Harrison Kruger (Sophomore) left guard; Ernest Anderson (Senior) right guard and right back; Wesley Natwick (Junior) right tackle; Chester Ridgman (Junior) right end; Howard Jullen (Junior) quarter; Albert half back; and Edmund Moulton (Sophomore) center.

The boys were very well behaved when they played games out of the home town. They were never quarrelsome, but took everything very good-naturedly. The clean sportsman-like method of their playing drew many favorable comments from outside cities. Surely the Lincoln High school has a right to be especially proud of this year's team.

The captain of the team, Neil Nash, is an excellent leader, not only in football, but in other school activities such as debating and oratory. Out of the ten boys in the debating team eight are on the football team. Surely this proves the worth of the boys.

Individually, the boys are all strong and manly. Karl Zimmerman was editor of the High school paper last year. He is a young man of determination who carries out all he plans to do. Leon Foley is president of the Senior class. Myron Hill was president of the Junior class last year and is vice president of the Senior class this year. He is also Captain of the basketball team. The boys all do good school work, much better than they did before they were on the football team.

Death of Adolph Eberhardt.

Adolph Eberhardt one of the old residents of the town of Grand Rapids, died on Monday at his home after an illness of some length, death being due to cancer of the stomach. Deceased was born in Milwaukee, Wisconsin 65 years ago, but came to Wood county in 1865 and has since made his home here, being engaged in farming most of the time.

He is survived by his wife and six children, five boys and one girl, they being Louis who lives on the farm, Henry of Port Edwards, Wisconsin, Charles and Henry of Grand Rapids, and Miss Clara Eberhardt of Appleton. There are also two brothers, Charles and Albert and one sister, Mrs. Bertha Hoh of Appleton.

The funeral will be held this afternoon from the First Moravian church, Rev. C. A. Mellicke to conduct the services.

Louis Ule has gone to Brokaw where he will work on the rebuilding of the paper mill that was recently destroyed by fire at that point.

Subscribe for the Tribune.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Council met in regular session, Mayor Cohen presiding.

Aldermen present: Bamberg, Gaulke, McCarthy, Edw. P., Calkins, McCarthy, E. T., Getzler, Plenke, Lukasek, Yeschke, Prebbanow, Witter, Damon, Tomczyk, Binneboese. Aldermen absent: Bamberg, Gaulke, Ketchum.

On motion the reading of the minutes of the last meeting was dispensed with.

The committee on general business reported on the petition of P. Halberg and others, for a street light at the intersection of Freeman St. and 4th Ave. N., recommending that the light on 3rd Ave. be changed to 4th Ave. and Freeman St. On motion the report was accepted.

The Street Committee and City Engineer to whom was referred the communication from the Village of Port Edwards, relative to the changing of a certain highway in the City of Grand Rapids made the following report:

We have carefully examined the ground and conditions at the site of the proposed change. We find that the required excavation would approximate 1300 cubic yards or about 700 yards in excess of that required to make the necessary cut.

We believe the city would benefit by the proposed change, and would recommend that the work be done, provided arrangements could be made with the Nekosia-Edwards Paper Co. to use the excess of dirt at the cost of them of delivering same where needed to fill and level their wood yard, and providing further, that the Nekosia-Edwards Paper Co. furnish (without cost to the city) at their pit, material sufficient to clay the entire length of the proposed change to a depth of 8 inches, 33 feet wide, approximately 800 yards of clay.

Edward F. McCarthy, William Prebbanow, John Bamberg, E. L. Philico.

On motion the report was accepted by unanimous vote, the clerk calling the roll.

The water works committee to whom was referred the cost of the new pumping station, reported that they had checked up the bills with the stubs in the Clerk's office and find the same to be O. K. Also the total cost of the new pumping station to be $8,124.41.

Wm. Prebbanow, Frank Calkins, Herman Plenke.

On motion the report was accepted. Finance committee and committee on electric light were granted an extension of time until the next meeting of the council.

On motion the bids of A. S. Norton and F. H. Norton for street cleaning were laid on the table.

On motion by unanimous vote the Clerk calling the roll Supt. of Public Works, G. R. Schuman was authorized to attend the meeting of the highway commissioners at Madison at the expense of the city.

On motion Supt. of Public Works, G. R. Schuman, Alderman Getzler, Prebbanow and Plenke were appointed a committee to confer with Wm. Goldberg on the sprinkling proposition.

On motion the petition of John Miller and others for an arc light at the intersection of 12th Ave. N. and Fremont St. was referred to the committee on general business.

On motion the petition of H. Henke and others for an arc light at the intersection of McKinley St. and 11th Ave. North was referred to the committee on general business.

Moved and seconded that where the water main is laid on two sides of a lot that there be a reduction of 1-3 off the longest side. Motion carried by unanimous vote the clerk calling the roll.

On motion by unanimous vote the Clerk calling the roll, the following bills were allowed:

Wm. Valley Lumber, printing $29.40
Rickerson & Schenck, paving brick 500.00
Water works labor 200.00
F. Leimbach, drainage 1.25
Prof. Pfeiffer, stamps etc. 3.42
Citizens Nat. bank, int. on O. D. 26.71
J. A. Stahl, labor and supplies 18.00
J. E. Parley, supplies 1.01
W. W. Lutz, labor and supplies 1.25
Consolidated W. P. & P. Co. rent on lots 22.70
Richardson & Schenck, paving brick 500.00
Jackson & Tomczyk, poor orders 13.52
Gottschalk & Anderson, poor orders 12.24
Consolidated Coal Co., coal 64.25
On motion the bill of F. L. Steib for overcharge on water main was referred to the Board of Public Works.

On motion the bill of Anton Hartl for overcharge on brick paving was referred to the City Engineer.

On motion the bill of Mrs. E. Miller for error on assessment was referred to City Clerk.

On motion by unanimous vote the Clerk calling the roll, the Mayor's salary was fixed at $300.00 per annum. On motion by unanimous vote the Clerk calling the roll, the City Attorney's salary was fixed at $12.50 per month for attending all council meetings, drawing all ordinances and resolutions as requested by the Mayor and Council and advise the Mayor; $15.00 per day for actual office time spent on City Work; $10.00 per day in Justice Court; $25.00 per day for Courts of Record.

On motion the balance of the salaries were unchanged.

The City Treasurer's report for the month of January was presented, ordered filed and spread on the minutes.

Grand Rapids, Wis., Feb. 2, 1914.
To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council of the City of Grand Rapids: Gentlemen—I herewith submit the report of my office for the month of January, Jan. 6, balance in bank $123.12
Taxes collected during Jan. $13,385.78
Total $13,508.90
Orders paid by bank $5,428.23
Feb. 2, balance in bank $7,970.30
Jan. 6, balance in bank $1,04

ANNUAL MEETING

HOSPITAL ASS'N.

Riverview Hospital Association held its annual meeting on Feb. 10, at the office of the Consolidated W. P. & P. Co., at which time the following directors were elected: George W. Mead, L. M. Alexander, Mrs. Rogers Mott, Mrs. L. P. Witter, Mrs. T. E. Muller, Otto Reunius and Mrs. James Wright.

The Reports of the treasurer and secretary follow:

Treasurer's Report:

Memberships and Donations	$123.12
Gifts	2.00
Miscellaneous receipts	128.78
Cash received Feb. 1, 1913 from
Mrs. E. W. Ellis, Treasurer	323.17
Total	$577.07
Disbursements:	$523.74
Groceries	$383.67
Meals	200.00
Butter and Eggs	25.40
Bakery	32.85
Laundry	128.17
Light	48.17
Water	231.59
Telephone	25.50
Insurance	36.00
Postage	1.25
Labor	128.17
Nurses fund	101.50
Jan. 1, 1913	10.00
Printing	7.00
Funeral	10.00
Furnishings	102.83
Drugs and supplies	32.04
Jan. 1, 1913	128.47
Note paid on $200	120.00
Cash balance Feb. 1	27.24
Total	$523.74

CAROLINE J. MOTT, Treas.

Secretary's Report for 1913.

The twelve months that have passed since this association held its last meeting have been full of activity at Riverview hospital.

The appearance of the house and barn has been greatly improved by two coats of paint, new railings at either side of the porch steps have removed a hazard for those passing back and forth. The sidewalk, curbs and crossings have been laid, and some necessary filling in has been done in front of the grounds and in the driveway.

Inside the house the good condition which was reported last year still prevails. It used to require something of an effort to obtain many things necessary to keep the house running smoothly but there has been a gradual change. The societies in charge of the various rooms take pride in keeping them properly furnished and equipped, and there is forming quite a widespread habit, which we hope will continue to grow, of remembering the hospital at holiday times, and in fact whenever there are useful things which can be spared. Those of you who have read the papers, know of the generous and thoughtful gifts which have been made during the year; practical proofs of appreciation of the skill, careful planning and untiring energy which have made our hospital a success.

There are three nurses receiving training, the doctors taking turn in giving a series of talks, each choosing the particular branch of the subject in which he is most interested. These lectures are constantly demonstrated by Miss Zillmer and the knowledge applied under her direction. The nurses are paid a small sum monthly and an equal sum is deposited in a special account to be paid to them when they graduate. They have answered a few calls in the city during the year but most of the time there have been too many patients at the hospital to make it possible for them to be spared.

We have succeeded in obtaining our supply of alcohol from the Government, free of all tax, which results in a large saving. Also, through the kindness of Mr. Brazeau the subject of cancelling our taxes was brought before the County Board, and the property was declared exempt.

During the year 1913 there have been seven deaths and five births at the hospital. 126 patients have received treatment compared with 86 in 1912, and 55 patients in 1911. This growing patronage speaks for itself. It is no uncommon thing to hear a patient say, "This is my second," or "This is my third" experience in a hospital, and nowhere else have I received as good care as I have received here in Grand Rapids.

There have been times during the last year when the hospital was so full that patients had to be refused admission.

For a great part of the time the house has been self-supporting, and the subscription money has been used to pay off part of the large note, the interest on which has amounted to a considerable sum each year. This is all very good news, but it in no way warrants any less interest or activity. On the contrary, there is still a mortgage of $3,000. to be paid and while our increased patronage denotes a thoroughly healthy condition, that condition can only be maintained, as it has been brought about, by concerted effort and support.

ELIZABETH WRIGHT, Sec.

County Clerk Fred Eberhardt was at Mauston on Thursday and Friday where he went to help the County Clerk of Juneau county to get his books started right. They recently installed a new accounting system down there the same as is used at the court house here, and it seems that those having the matter in charge had not familiarized themselves sufficiently to carry the matter along successfully, consequently they encountered trouble. Many of the counties through the state are adopting or have adopted the new system, there being a delegation here on Tuesday for the purpose of conferring with Mr. Eberhardt and getting a start on the new way of handling things.

Legal Blanks for sale at this office.

Water tax collected 1898.20
Total 1898.20
Orders paid by bank 1237.61
Feb. 2, balance in bank 117.79
Respectfully submitted,
Joe Wehr, City Treasurer.

On motion council adjourned.
J. A. Cohen, M. G. Gordon, Mayor, Clerk.

Water tax collected 1898.20
Total 1898.20
Orders paid by bank 1237.61
Feb. 2, balance in bank 117.79
Respectfully submitted,
Joe Wehr, City Treasurer.

On motion council adjourned.
J. A. Cohen, M. G. Gordon, Mayor, Clerk.

Water tax collected 1898.20
Total 1898.20
Orders paid by bank 1237.61
Feb. 2, balance in bank 117.79
Respectfully submitted,
Joe Wehr, City Treasurer.

On motion council adjourned.
J. A. Cohen, M. G. Gordon, Mayor, Clerk.

Water tax collected 1898.20
Total 1898.20
Orders paid by bank 1237.61
Feb. 2, balance in bank 117.79
Respectfully submitted,
Joe Wehr, City Treasurer.

On motion council adjourned.
J. A. Cohen, M. G. Gordon, Mayor, Clerk.

Water tax collected 1898.20
Total 1898.20
Orders paid by bank 1237.61
Feb. 2, balance in bank 117.79
Respectfully submitted,
Joe Wehr, City Treasurer.

MEDFORD A TRIFLE LIGHT

The local basket ball team met the boys from Medford Saturday night, and there was nothing to it but Grand Rapids from start to finish. At the end of the first half the score was 12 to 5 in favor of the locals and at the end of the game the home team had rolled up a count of 35, while the visitors had succeeded in making only 12.

A good sized crowd turned out to see the game, and the spectators were an enthusiastic bunch, also it would probably have been more exciting had the score been a good game this season and they are entitled to the liberal support they have been receiving.

List of Jurors.

The following list of circuit court jurors were drawn Wednesday by the jury commission, to serve at the March term of circuit court which convenes Monday, March 9th.

Marshfield City—Otto Schumann, Erhard Kleinhelm, William Britten, Joseph C. Marsh, C. A. Brown, Chas. Marbus, Fred H. Wendt, Fred Lupien.

Grand Rapids City—E. C. Rossier, Guy Nash, A. Sutor, F. H. Jackson, Alton Gibbs, Wm. M. Slattery, Chas. Nash, Chas. Nobles.

Stiglitz Town—Frank Klevine, Henry Hackbart, Rudolph Roether.

Auburndale Town—Fred Schulz, Jr.

Port Edwards Vill.—Hugh Madden, Nekosia Village—Robert Bepler, Chas. Okene, J. B. Harrington.

Arpin Town—Fred Nelson, Walter Winebrenner.

Madison Town—Wm. Schulz, Louis Linzmayr, Jr., Geo. Schmidt, Jr.

Richfield Town—John Jenkins.

Attitown City—Carl Simonson.

Cramroor Town—Robert Rezin, Sr., Oliver Roland.

Rock Town—Aug. Walters, Hans H. Paulsen.

Lincoln Town—E. E. Royce.

Mrs. Molelepa.

Mr. Joseph Molelepa, Jr., and Miss Agnes Mee were married at St. Andrews church, Chicago, Ill., Saturday evening, February 14th. Father Roland officiated. The bride was dressed in white crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of Lillies of the Valley. Miss Anna Molelepa, a sister of the groom, served as maid of honor, she wore a pale blue silk gown and carried a large bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Edward Mee was best man.

Reception was held at the bride's home and many beautiful and costly presents were received. The groom formerly lived at Grand Rapids and has been in the employ of the American Express Co. in Chicago for several years.

Looking Over The Records.

Marshfield Herald:—After a two days examination of the Water & Light books, finding no material change in the final report made by the judiciary committee to the city council, W. E. Wheelan, attorney for L. B. Carl and the bonding company that furnished Mr. Carl his bond, the task of settlement was delayed for several days to give Mr. Wheelan another chance to verify the shortages charged. Mr. Wheelan is understood will return next week in company with Frank Rourke, an expert bookkeeper, and re-check the books and transactions of Mr. Carl. The examination was conducted in the city hall in the presence of several city officials. Mr. Wheelan on leaving said he had nothing for publication concerning the final disposal of the case.

Celebrate Lincoln's Birthday.

Lincoln's birthday was celebrated at the G. A. R. hall Wednesday evening by the members of Wood County Post and the Woman's Relief Corps in a most fitting manner.

A banquet had been prepared by the ladies and this was partaken of by those present, after which a short program was presented of more than ordinary merit. A vocal trio comprising Mrs. Charlotte Lynn-Campbell, Mrs. Fred Stamm, and Walter Lynn was the first on the program, which was followed by a solo by Mrs. Campbell. Mr. J. Fisher gave a eulogy on Abraham Lincoln, which was followed by a trio by Mrs. Fred Stamm, Walter and Carlton Stamm, and another solo by Mrs. Campbell. There were numerous encores and the occasion was a most pleasant one from beginning to end.

For a New Federal Building.

Representative Browne has asked for $100,000 for the erection of a postoffice building at Grand Rapids. While we may not get it right away, there is nothing like asking. Nothing like having your lightning rod up when a thunder storm passes over. Marshfield is also included in the list of eligible, the amount asked for being the same as at Grand Rapids.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENTS

The following advertisements are paid for at the rate of 5 cents per line by the person whose name follows the advertisement.

Candidate For Justice of Peace.

Due to the fact that many voters have asked me to be a candidate; I have, after due and careful consideration decided to run for the office of Justice of the Peace. I humbly ask for your full support. Edward N. Pomschville, 324 3rd St.

Elopers Were Arrested.

A couple was arrested in this city Monday evening by the local police upon advice from the Sheriff of Portage county. The couple were elopers from Stevens Point and the lady in the case was a married woman from over there. They were taken back to Stevens Point on Tuesday.

BOY WANTED

over 16 years of age to learn the printing trade. Must have finished 8th grade.

Lambert-Harding Printing Co.

KETCHUM STABLES

DESTROYED BY FIRE

E. C. Ketchum suffered a loss of $4,500 on Sunday afternoon when his barn in the northern part of the city was destroyed by fire. Not only was the barn burned, but also five horses belonging to Mr. Ketchum, hay, oats, corn, straw, harness, gasoline engine, tools, etc. The insurance aggregates $3,500, part of which was on the horses.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Ketchum, who saw it from the house, and at that time it had got a good start, and when Mr. Ketchum and some of the men arrived at the scene it was impossible to get the horses out of the structure on account of the fierceness of the flames and the dense smoke that pervaded the building.

When the alarm was turned in the east side fire department responded at once, but the Ketchum place is located outside the limit, where the water works system is available, and as a consequence it was necessary to "all the steamer into use, and notwithstanding the fact that steam was soon gotten up it was not quick enough to be of any practical use in saving the barn or its contents.

The fire is supposed to have originated from a stove that was in the barn, although there is nothing definite about this part of it. There was a stove there with a low fire in it, and one of the men had visited the building only a short time before, at which time everything was all right.

The loss is certainly a severe one to Mr. Ketchum, as his horses were some of the finest in the city, and were always a source of admiration by lovers of horsemanship and were animals that cannot be replaced on short notice.

Dedication Exercises at Biron School.

(Contributed.)

Dedication exercises at the new Biron school building were held on Thursday evening, February 12th. The assembly room of the new building was prettily draped in the national colors, red, white, and blue.

The program consisted of an address by Mr. Jackson of the Training School, which was greatly appreciated and brought forth much applause. Superintendent Geo. A. Varney also gave a short, but interesting talk in which he congratulated the people of the district on having erected such a splendid school building. The pupils of the school sang "Happy Greeting to All." The exercises were closed by singing "America."

The exercises were followed by a "basket" supper. Coffee was served along with the supper. More than twenty-three dollars was realized from the sale of baskets. The proceeds will be used for purchasing equipment for the new building.

Considerable interest was shown in these exercises by the large crowd which was present and all report a very enjoyable time.

Terminal Division For Adams.

Adams County Press.—The C. & N. W. road have given out that Adams, Elroy and Janesville have been definitely settled upon as terminal points for the Madison division.

This decision has been made public owing to the demands made by trainmen last spring. The matter of terminals has been indefinite up to this time, and it left them in a very unsettled state, as many wished to buy or build homes and under conditions as they were it was uncertain when they would be called upon to move.

This will give our sister village of Adams an added impetus, and should bring many new residents there to reside and add prosperity to those already there.

Banks Closed Monday.

Monday being the 23rd of February and the day before being Washington's birthday, the banks will close on Monday for the purpose of celebrating the event. Just why the banks cannot celebrate the birth of Washington on Sunday, the same as the rest of us, is not known, but no doubt they could easily explain the matter if interviewed on the subject.

Rev. Cisewski, pastor of St. Lawrence Catholic church is recovering from an attack of diphtheria.

SUIT AGAINST GORE ON

MRS. M. E. BOND PREFERRED CHARGES INVOLVING U. S. SENATOR FROM OKLAHOMA.

DEMANDS HE PAY $50,000

Brother of Governor Cruce Defends Blind Lawmaker and Charges That Case Is Political "Frame-Up"—Says Enemies Threatened.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 13.—More than 500 persons were present when the trial of the $50,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Minnie E. Bond against Thomas Pryor Gore, United States senator from Oklahoma, was begun before District Judge George W. Clarke on Wednesday. A. C. Cruce, brother of Governor Cruce of Oklahoma, is defending Senator Gore. Mrs. Bond was dressed plainly in a blue serge suit and small, chic hat. She and her husband left the courtroom after a conference with her attorneys. The questioning of the jurors was under way when Senator Gore entered court. The blind senator followed by a man in a suit and hat, he leaned heavily on the arm of his wife. She took a seat directly at his elbow and an animated conversation took place as she gave the blind statesman a word picture of the courtroom setting. Senator Gore also was accompanied by D. F. Frawley, Tacoma, Wash., collector for Texas and Oklahoma, and G. M. Kay, brother of Mrs. Gore.

In the opening statement for the defense, A. C. Cruce, brother of Governor Cruce of Oklahoma, characterized the charges as a "frame-up" and said he would prove that a certain clique of politicians threatened to "frame" Gore because of their failure to get certain federal appointments. He said he would prove that Mrs. Bond solicited the appointment with Gore on March 24, and that Gore had told her repeatedly that he had pledged his support to another for the office sought by her husband. He said Gore was told to the local room, talked with Mrs. Bond, and as he reached for his cane on the bed Mrs. Bond grabbed his hand and pulled him upon her. When he was in this position the three men were in position to see the occurrence.

CANAL OFFICIAL SUSPENDED

Manager of Commissary Department Is Charged With Having Accepted Gratuitates.

Panama, Feb. 11.—Col. George W. Goethals, chairman of the Panama canal commission, suspended John Burke, manager of the commissary department. Colonel Goethals' action came at the conclusion of the hearings which gave Burke a chance to clear himself, the charges that he had accepted gratuities and had been guilty of irregular business transactions. Colonel Goethals also suspended W. F. Shipley, chief clerk of the commissary department, the reason given being "incompetence."

GOOD ROADS BILL IS PASSED

House Adopts Shurtleff Measure by Vote of 282 to 42—$25,000,000 Invested.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The bill passed the Shurtleff good roads bill by a vote of 282 to 42 on Tuesday. Leaders of all three parties in the chamber joined in the final debate urging its adoption. The measure provides that $25,000,000 shall be expended annually by the federal government in cooperation with the several states in the construction of rural post roads. In each instance the state is to appropriate an equal amount of money for this work to that given by the federal government.

NEWS FROM FAR AND NEAR

Racine, Wis., Feb. 11.—Matty McCue defeated Jack White in a ten-round bout here.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 12.—Members of local women's clubs who succeeded in having four women police provided for this city, took up with the council the question of giving them a woman chief.

Ottawa, Ill., Feb. 12.—State's Attorney C. S. Wiley applied to Governor Dunne to issue requisition papers for the return to Illinois of Joseph Butte, arrested recently at Davonport, Ia., on a charge of embezzlement.

New York, Feb. 12.—John D. Rockefeller donated through his secretary that he intends to discontinue the use of his Forest Hill home at Cleveland. Also he denied that he left that city because of his disagreement with the Cuyahoga county board of assessors.

U. S. Starts Ocean Patrol.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Upon request of the maritime nations of the world the United States started a patrol of the North Atlantic ocean for the protection of lives at sea. President Wilson ordered the cutter Seneca out.

Man Files Over Mont Blanc.

A Swiss Department of Ice, France, Feb. 12.—M. Parnell, a young French aviator, flew over Mont Blanc at a height of about three miles. He left Geneva, Switzerland, after waiting a week for a clear day.

Fire Fatal to Two Children.

Superior, Wis., Feb. 12.—Two children were suffocated and their mother, who risked her life in an attempt to save them, narrowly escaped death in a fire that partly destroyed the home of Peter J. Schroeder.

Beveridge Home Sold in Tax Sale.

Indianapolis, Feb. 12.—Among 1,500 pieces of Indianapolis property sold by County Treasurer Van Hake to secure delinquent taxes was the Washington boulevard home of former Senator Albert J. Beveridge.

Asks Law to Aid Labor Men.

New York, Feb. 10.—John Mitchell, in an address here, made a strong plea for the passage of a law compelling employers to recognize the right of the working men to one day's rest out of every seven.

Vanderbilt Yacht Is Total Loss.

Galveston, Tex., Feb. 10.—A wireless message from Panama says that efforts to locate the wrecked Vanderbilt yacht "Warrior" have proved futile. The yacht has been abandoned as a total loss.

SUCCESSFUL REVOLUTION IN PERU

The rule of Guillermo Billinghurst, president of Peru, came to an end the other day when he was seized and arrangements for his banishment made. The congress thereupon appointed a board of governors. Our illustration shows the national palace in Lima and Billinghurst.

THEFTS WRECK BANK

HEAD OF MEMPHIS CONCERN ADMITS GUILT AND IS JAILED.

Makes No Effort to Give Bail—Criminal Proceedings Follow Closing of Bank.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 11.—The Mercantile bank closed its doors Monday. Officers of the institution, acting under supervision of J. L. Hutton, state superintendent of banks and receiver for the bank, are examining the books in an effort to determine the exact amount of the shortage. C. Hunter Ralpe, president of the bank, admits that he alone is responsible for the default.

General indications are, it is said, that the deficit was a deficit in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.

Mr. Ralpe has made no effort to give bail, according to attaches of the criminal court. He was arrested on a bench warrant charging embezzlement of $788,804.76 of the bank's funds, and was taken to the county jail.

The bank president was escorted before Judge Palmer by Sheriff Tate and Deputy Sheriff W. W. Palmer. Taking the warrant under which the banker was arrested and which was sworn out by Attorney General Estes, the court read the document to Mr. Ralpe and asked him if he had anything to say.

"I am guilty," replied the banker. "Mr. Attorney General," continued the court, "what bond do you recommend?"

Before the attorney general could reply the banker interrupted with: "I don't want to give bond; I want to go to jail."

He was taken to the jail by Deputy Sheriff Palmer.

CAR MEN GAIN WAGE RAISE

Indianapolis Traction Employees Profit by Decision of the State Utilities Board.

Indianapolis, Feb. 13.—An increase of wages was granted, but the street car men's union was not recognized, although it is provided that an employee shall not be discriminated against because of his union affiliation. In the decision given on Wednesday by the state public utilities commission, in the controversy between the local street car company and its employees. The wages per hour granted by the commission range from 21 cents for the first year to 27 cents for five years or more of service with the company. The old rate was 20 cents for the first year.

GIVES BIG SUM FOR PEACE

Carnegie to Distribute $2,000,000 to Churches for Promotion of War Between Nations.

New York, Feb. 12.—Andrew Carnegie gave $2,000,000 to be used through the churches for the promotion of international peace. The income of the fund, about $100,000 a year, will be expended by a board of 26 trustees, representing all the leading religious denominations in the United States.

This gift is in addition to the $10,000,000 foundation established by Mr. Carnegie December 14, 1910, "to hasten the abolition of international war."

Named Consul at Jerusalem.

Washington, Feb. 11.—President Wilson nominated Otis A. Glazebrook of Elizabeth, N. J., to be consul at Jerusalem.

U. S. Army Aviator Killed.

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 11.—Lieut. H. B. Post, of the Wright camp of the aero corps, U. S. A., fell 800 feet into the bay and was instantly killed. Lieut. Post was taken from the bay dead half an hour after he fell.

Senate Body Favors Lobinger.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The nomination of Charles S. Lobinger of Nebraska, named by President Wilson to be judge of the United States consular court in China, was reported favorably by the senate judiciary committee.

Mother and Son Cremated.

Urichville, O., Feb. 11.—Mrs. Rachel Blue, seventy, and her crippled son, John, forty, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their home. An overheated stove is thought to have caused the fire.

Four Men Hurt in Wreck.

Salem, Mass., Feb. 11.—Four men were injured, one dangerously, and an engine and two cars were demolished when the Boston & Maine train from Marblehead to Salem was wrecked near here.

Italian Cruisers for Panama Fete.

Rome, Feb. 11.—The Italian minister of marine gave orders to put a squadron of warships into commission to go to America to take part in the ceremonies attending the opening of the Panama canal.

One Dead, Twelve Hurt in Wreck.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 11.—William Bloomfield, a traveling man of Superior, Neb., was killed and a dozen passengers injured, some fatally, in a wreck on the Omaha railroad at Bigelow, Minn.

BANDITS CAPTURED

MAXIMO CASTILLO AND BAND, WHO KILLED AMERICANS, ARE CAUGHT AT GABALIN RANCH.

EMELIO GARCIA TELLS STORY

Nine Citizens of United States Die When Train Plunges Into Tunnel Set Afire by Bandits—Forty Mexicans Perish.

Pearson, Chihuahua, Mex., Feb. 12.—Maximo Castillo and his band were captured at Gabalin ranch by a detachment of soldiers under command of Major Samaniego, who came up from El Valle, according to a report brought by a courier here on Tuesday. The whole band will be brought to Casas Grandes, it is stated. General Castillo was previously reported to be hiding in the vicinity of the ranch, and a detachment of soldiers from Madera, Pearson, Casas Grandes and El Valle have been pursuing him. Emilio Garcia, chief lieutenant of Maximo Castillo, was captured near Ralchito on Tuesday and turned over to the United States army authorities on the border side of the train. Garcia, it is alleged, confessed his part in the plot to burn the train.

Cumbre, Chihuahua, Feb. 10.—Many charred bones and several metal buttons and buckles from clothing were the only traces discovered of the bodies of the 40 passengers and crew of the train wrecked in the Cumbre tunnel of the Mexico & Northwestern railway Wednesday night.

A rescue party equipped with oxygen helmets to guard them against the effects of the smoke and fumes of the still smoldering wreckage made their way from the south portal of the tunnel, over the wreckage of the burned freight train to the locomotive and forward cars. Nothing remained of the cars but the metal frames and trucks, and it is believed that the bodies of the imprisoned passengers must have been completely destroyed by the intense heat.

The crew of the freight train, escaped and placed the blame on Castillo's bandits.

Juarez, Feb. 10.—Nine Americans and 40 or more Mexicans, whose fate has been a mystery since the burning of the Cumbre tunnel by bandits, were suffocated. The tragedy is ascribed to Maximo Castillo, bandit leader. A special train carrying 30 Americans, led by W. J. Burrows, 30 coffins and a rescue outfit left Juarez for the scene. The rescue train was prepared early in the evening, but was delayed a short time by a telegram from Secretary of State Bryan, who instructed Consul Edwards to see that a soldier guard preceded it so that the American side attack by Castillo. General Benavides provided 300 rebel troops and these were sent ahead of the rescue party on another train.

The exact number of persons aboard the passenger train is not known. First reports put the number at 85, but a request for 75 coffins was made by a searching party led by Dr. F. C. Herr of Madera.

$2,266,972 Concerns the Liabilities.

London, Feb. 10.—Following a meeting of the creditors of the defunct foreign banking firm of Coulson-Berthoud, it was announced that the firm's gross liabilities were $2,266,972. The failure was due partly to the loss of the depreciation of certain industrial stocks in the United States.

Son of T. F. Ryan Is Punished.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 13.—The commissioner of vehicles revoked the automobile reciprocity privilege of John F. Ryan, son of Thomas F. Ryan, the multimillionaire of New York for reckless driving.

Woman a Majority Candidate.

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 13.—Mrs. Mary Kennedy announced on Wednesday her candidacy for mayor of Mount Carroll. She is believed to be the first woman to seek office of mayor in Illinois.

Thaw Is Airship Entrant.

New York, Feb. 12.—America will be represented in the "international water flying race" at Monaco by the flying boat with automatic balancing device invented by Alexander Blair Thaw II of this city.

C. A. Comiskey Is Very Ill.

Rome, Feb. 12.—There is improvement in the condition of Charles A. Comiskey, president of the Chicago club of the American league, who was taken ill while traveling from Naples to Rome.

Travis Wins Golf Tourney.

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 10.—By winning the Lake Worth golf tournament Walter J. Travis of Garden City repeated his victories of 1912 and 1913. Travis defeated John Naething, Englewood, 3 to 2.

U. S. Tug With Thirty Missiles.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 10.—All wireless stations along the Atlantic are sending out appeals for news of the naval tug Potomac which went out to try to rescue crews of two schooners. The tug carries 30 men.

DEATH IN U. S. QUAKE

SEVERAL EASTERN STATES FEEL SHOCK FOR 20 SECONDS.

Dishes Rattle, Pictures Are Thrown From Walls and Many People Are Badly Frightened.

New York, Feb. 12.—Cities as far north as Montreal and as far south as Philadelphia felt distinct earthquake shocks of varying intensity between 1:34 and 1:37 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Indications were that the entire northeastern section of the United States was in the zone of tremors. At no point included in the tremors caused a cavern of the kind recorded in New York city, Albany, Elmira, Rome, Syracuse and other points. In Canada shocks were felt at Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Prescott, Brockville and other places.

One death was caused by the earthquake. In Birmingham, N. Y., the tremors caused a cavern of the kind recorded in New York city, Albany, Elmira, Rome, Syracuse and other points. In Canada shocks were felt at Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Prescott, Brockville and other places.

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 12.—Earth tremors were perceptible here. At a large manufacturing plant two high chimneys attracted attention by their swaying. At Ithaca, particularly of the Cornell university campus, the shocks were felt plainly.

At Ogdensburg several chimneys fell. Telephone girls fled from their switchboards. In some homes furniture was overturned and dishes were thrown from tables.

Auburn, N. Y., Feb. 12.—Earthquake shocks were felt distinctly here. The Fort Hill section of Auburn being thrown into slight panic.

Philadelphia, Feb. 12.—An earthquake tremor was felt in this vicinity. At the Philadelphia navy yard the shock was distinct and naval officers timed it at 1:33 o'clock.

Montreal, Que., Feb. 12.—An earthquake shock was felt at 1:35 o'clock at Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Prescott, Brockville and many other points. The tremors here lasted 15 seconds. They were of sufficient strength to cause tables and chairs to sway.

St. Louis, Feb. 12.—Three earthquake shocks were recorded on the seismograph at St. Louis university.

EVELYN THAW IS RELEASED

Richmond Judge Allows Evening Performance at Green Bay on Dismisses Charges.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 13.—Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw was formally placed under arrest just after finishing her participation in the first act of the matinee on Wednesday. The warrant was issued on complaint of Chief of Police Welner, and it charged that she did "unlawfully but not feloniously" appear at the theater in a public performance, thereby "outraging public decency and to the detriment of public morals and common nuisance of all the citizens of this commonwealth."

Members of the committee are: Wisconsin branch of criminology, President B. R. Goggins, Grand Rapids; District Attorney Charles E. Briere, Grand Rapids; R. E. Smith, president of the state board of control, Merrill; Judge Franz C. Escheweller and Judge August C. Backus, Milwaukee.

Hardware Men Elect.

The two mutual insurance companies of the Wisconsin Retail Hardware Association held a meeting at the Auditorium at Milwaukee and elected the following officers: President, O. P. Schlarfer, Appleton; vice-president, R. C. Murdock, Beloit; treasurer, H. L. McDonald, Janesville; secretary, P. J. Jacobs, Stevens Point.

State Corporations.

Articles of incorporations were filed to the office of Secretary of State Donald: Lenroot-Finn agency, Superior; capital, $25,000; incorporators, James Finn, James A. Finn, A. A. Lenroot, H. W. Thiel Manufacturing company, Milwaukee; capital, $15,000; incorporators, H. W. Thiel, Emil Plantz, Agnes Thiel.

Larsen Construction Company.

Capital, $20,000; incorporators, Louis A. Larsen, Benjamin H. Lampert, A. B. McDonald.

H. P. Hoyer Company, Milwaukee.

Capital, $25,000; incorporators, E. P. Hoyer, M. J. Hoyer, Louis W. Schmidt.

Berlin Fabric Manufacturing Company.

Capital, $15,000; incorporators, M. Safford, H. E. Exner, H. M. Safford.

Stetsonville Co-operative Mercantile and Shipping Company.

Capital, $10,000; incorporators, John B. Kupper, H. E. Exner, H. M. Safford.

Dale Granulated Milk Company.

Dale, capital, $100,000; incorporators, J. J. Stocker, Magdalene Stocker, H. H. Miller.

New State Patents.

Charles A. Bartlow, Milwaukee, cranking device for internal combustion engines; Thomas W. Capen, Milwaukee, assignor, by mesne assignments, to Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., tube mill feeder; James B. and O. R. Erwin, Milwaukee, extinguishing fires in oil tanks; Oscar F. Flischelick and W. A. Krab, Milwaukee, starting mechanism for multi-cylinder internal combustion engines; Frederick Gettelmeier, Milwaukee, pasteurizing apparatus; Lewis H. Gilbert, Milwaukee, sandal.

CONVENTION IN CITY OF MADISON

BUTTERMAKERS FROM ALL SECTIONS OF WISCONSIN ATTEND GATHERING AT CAPITAL.

HEADS ELECTED FOR YEAR

Albert Carswell of Clear Lake Is Chosen President—Members Visit Butter Exhibit at the Dairy School.

Madison.—At the state convention of the Buttermakers' association in Madison, members from all parts of Wisconsin were present.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Albert Carswell of Clear Lake; vice-president, A. W. Zimmerman of Norfolk; secretary, G. H. Benckendorf of Madison; treasurer, Fred Werner of Waterloo. C. J. Dodge, Windsor, was elected for the full term a member of the executive committee to succeed Mr. Carswell. H. E. Griffin of Mt. Horeb was elected to a year's term on the executive committee.

The members of the association will visit the butter exhibit at the dairy school. "Cleanliness as a Factor in Successful Creamery Operation" was the subject of a paper by L. L. Bostead of Basco. Thomas Cornelissen of the U. S. department of agriculture gave some "Practical Hints on the Workings of the Creamery." E. A. Winslow of Eau Claire spoke on "The Licensing of Creameries and Creamery Operators." Prof. C. E. Lee of the college of agriculture discussed a "Problem in Creamery Operation." The scores of the butter exhibits were announced.

G. H. Crownhart, chairman of the industrial commission, explained the workings of the women's compensation law to the buttermakers. After explaining that the law was entirely voluntary and giving various explanations of the amounts and limits of liabilities, Mr. Crownhart got down to the accidents in the dairy business.

"I find," he said, "that the accident hazard in the buttering business is not as great as it has been in the past. There has not been a serious accident since the law went into effect. But the rates charged by the insurance companies for accident insurance are entirely too high. The line companies now charge $1.32 a hundred dollars. It ought to be at least six cents. However, the insurance companies are not in a position to get the facts on the industry and its accidents hazard that the industrial commission can get."

The fishy flavor in butter was explained to some technical detail by L. A. Rogers of the U. S. department of agriculture. Investigations, he said, seemed to show that the fishy flavor was due to the use of cream with a high acidity, the chemical change of the air in the little bubbles in the butter during its stay in the cold storage plant and to the acids in the cream forming metal salts from the cans and churns in which the cream is placed.

State Painters Plan Exhibition.

The first of what is anticipated will be a series of annual events will be the exhibition, March 19 to April 16, of the newly organized Wisconsin painters and sculptors. The exhibition is to be held in the Milwaukee Art society's galleries and every painter or sculptor of the state, whether a member of the organization or not, is invited to send work for the exhibition.

The Wisconsin Painters and Sculptors.

The Wisconsin painters and sculptors now have thirty members. Officers are: President, George Niedeker; vice-president, Ludwig Holberg; treasurer, George Raab; secretary, Miss Mabel Key. Besides the officers, the cause of art, Frederick Layton and Samuel O. Buckner have been invited to become honorary members of the organization.

The constitution states that the society is formed for the purpose of bringing together art workers of the state in a spirit of fraternity and to present each other and to hold periodical exhibitions.

Jobs for Wisconsin Men.

According to word from Washington, D. C., Commissioner Osborn of internal revenue appointed the following Wisconsin men to office under the new tax section of the tariff bill: Emil Whitaker of Milwaukee as income tax inspector; A. G. Boethe, Highlands, as income tax agent; Daniel J. Boyle, Appleton, as field deputy collector; H. H. Hamilton, Berlin, as Wisconsin deputy collector.

McGovern Promoted Military Men.

Capt. H. E. Pomeroy, commanding Co. G, Second Infantry of Appleton, was promoted by Gov. McGovern to be major, vice J. A. Nemitz, Oshkosh, who was promoted recently to be lieutenant colonel. Lieut. George Merkel is promoted to be captain in command of Co. G to succeed Pomeroy. Lieut. Lothar G. Graf is promoted to be first lieutenant to succeed Merkel. Lieut. William Smith of Madison, is promoted to captain of Co. G, First Infantry, vice Capt. M. J. Olson, resigned.

Fire Loss Is Greater.

The January fire loss in the state was $468,793, resulting from 220 fires reported, according to State Fire Marshal Clem P. Host's monthly statement. Insurance carried on these risks was $711,030. In January, 1913, there were 205 fires, losses of $307,325, and insurance of $335,445.

Quilling Made President.

A. Quilling of Oshkosh was elected president of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, group No. 1, in convention at New Richmond. J. S. Gates of Superior was chosen vice-president and the other elections are: Secretary and treasurer, J. M. Smith of Shell Lake; members of the executive committee, Joseph H. Yeager of Hudson, John C. Sprague of Spring Valley; members of the nominating committee of the state association, P. J. Favell of Chippewa Falls and L. A. Baker of New Richmond, alternate.

State Curlers Elect Parkinson.

At the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Curlers' association in Portage, these officers were elected: President, W. K. Parkinson, Phillips; first vice-president, Gabe McCallum, Arlington; second vice-president, W. F. Winsor, Madison; secretary and treasurer, John A. Raup, Portage; L. J. Tucker, Pardeeville; Carl Gruhn, Columbus; John Dick, Galesville; Elmer Wetherby, Mauston; umpire, W. H. Roehm, Portage.

McGovern Urges Market Board.

Janesville.—Gov. McGovern addressed the Twilight club here on the high cost of living and advocated his proposed market commission as a means of reducing present prices.

Will Build Cheese Factory.

Sheboygan.—The Cedar Grove Milk company has just been formed with $12,000 capital and will build a new cheese factory. The incorporators are: E. H. Huenink, H. J. Huenink and John Voskuil.

McGovern Urges Market Board.

Janesville.—Gov. McGovern addressed the Twilight club here on the high cost of living and advocated his proposed market commission as a means of reducing present prices.

Postoffice Employees Plead Guilty.

Sheboygan.—Edward Zander of Manitowish, an employee in the postoffice for eighteen years, pleaded guilty before Judge Paul T. Krez to a statutory charge and was fined $500.

Soo Buys Fond du Lac Site.

Fond du Lac.—The Soo line purchased the property of the Fond du Lac Implement company, located east and adjoining their depot here. The purchase price was $6,000. The Soo may build a new station here.

May Sell Big Power Plant.

Eau Claire.—Negotiations are pending between the Chippewa Valley Railway Light and Power company of this city and eastern parties for the purchase of the traction interests of the Eau Claire company.

"Sage of Glendale" Ill.

Sparta.—James R. Lyon, the "Sage of Glendale," one time Republican political power in western Wisconsin, is seriously ill at his farm home near Kendall.

Black River Falls.—At the annual meeting of the Farmers' Creamery association the following officers were elected: President, Fred Dechtrah; secretary, Alvin E. Roberts; treasurer, James E. Dimmick. The value of the butter made during 1913 was $7,142.00.

Marshall.—At the annual meeting of the Disco Creamery association the following officers were elected: President, H. H. Heggie; secretary, J. H. Harmer, and treasurer, O. L. Vollum. It was decided to erect a $1,500 home for the use of the butter maker.

New Richmond.—The Commercial hotel, a three-story frame structure, was destroyed by fire with part of its contents. The blaze caught from a chimney. The loss is approximately $10,000, partly insured. This was the first hotel built in New Richmond after the cyclone of 1899. Anthony Meath was the proprietor. It will be rebuilt.

Marshall.—A two-story extension to the Marshall high school will be started as soon as Architect Gustav Krasinski has completed the plans for the work, which will almost double the size of the building.

THIRD ANNUAL ROAD SCHOOL.

The third annual road school of the Wisconsin highway commission opened in Madison with an attendance of 65 county highway commissioners, probably 45 highway superintendents or foremen and several purchasing committees from various counties.

The school was welcomed by Governor McGovern, who congratulated the commission and its co-workers on their work.

The people, he said, are complaining of high taxes—and they are high, he confessed. He pointed out, that in 1911 not a dollar was levied by the state for highway purposes. In 1912 $350,000 was levied and in 1913 $1,600,000. This vast fund, he said, must be used wisely and effectively so that the taxpayers may not find cause to complain. He told the commissioners it was up to them to make good.

The governor said that a large part of the income tax for 1913 now being collected is due to the assessment for state aid for highways, and he urged the commissioners to see to it that they serve the fund in the interest of economy.

H. J. Kuelling of Milwaukee, president of the Wisconsin Highway Commission association, who responded, said that the school was called for the purpose of assisting the county commissioners and that it was their duty to contribute to it and by being both helped and helped.

Chairman J. A. Hazelwood of the highway commission said a chief purpose of the school was for the exchange of ideas and to broaden the perspective of the view of the work for the coming year. More than $4,000,000 will be available during the year 1914 for the building and improvement of the roads of this state. To administer this vast fund efficiently and effectively,

The Flight of the Princess

An Audacious Hazard of Nikolai, Independent Agent, as Related by His Lieutenant, Summers
By H. M. EGBERT

(Copyright, 1914, by W. G. Chapman)

Nikolai had unfolded his scheme to me as our train ran through the pleasant, fertile plains of Saxony. "What would deter you, Summers," he said, "is the rank of the persons most intimately concerned. Now to my mind that is the best guarantee of success for our undertaking. You can strike at kings and queens where you cannot with impunity attack those of lower rank. Why? Because these persons, being themselves outside the law, are loath to have recourse to it. We take our lives in our hands. It is true, but we revert to the old condition when each man was a law unto himself. I think we can succeed just because of the improbability of such an attempt. And we can hold her to heavy ransom for the cause."

"But a princess!" I urged. "Where can we hold her?"

"If once we get her into our automobile," said Nikolai, "no power on earth can hinder us. We take her direct to the old castle that we have rented for the summer. It is two miles from any habitation and escape would be impossible."

"I admit, he added, meditatively, that an accomplice within the castle would help us materially." He fell to thinking and would speak no more. Our plans were as follows: The Princess of Cassel-Wexel was to be married to the Polish Prince Ponia-towski. The marriage was viewed with great aversion by the subjects of the tiny principality of eastern Germany, while the princess herself was rumored to cherish no unkindly feeling toward a handsome but impetuous guards officer, whose aspirations were of course destined to remain unfulfilled. Possibly, in these days of democracy, the king might in the end have given his consent, but the Polish marriage was necessary in the interests of state and czar and Kaiser had set their hearts on it. So it seemed improbable that anything could avert the approaching nuptials.

But two weeks were to intervene before their consummation. Nikolai's scheme was to obtain admittance to the castle in the guise of an underservant or of an American chauffeur, the supply of whom, for the many royal automobiles, was constantly beneath the demand. Then with me as his assistant, we were to entice the princess for a ride, to kidnap her and to secrete her in our castle, twenty-four miles away, and with the aid of the ransomed state, until a ransom could be arranged.

We put up at the little capital town dominated by the castle of the king of Cassel-Wexel, which seemed entirely to overshadow the narrow streets that encircle it. In spite of the popular prejudice against the marriage Hoch Cassel was en fête, and flags bearing the Russian and German arms, hung from every window. Nevertheless scraps of conversation that we overheard, contemptuous references to "the Polak," whose carriage driven by magnificent bays raced through the streets at all hours to the imminent danger of worthy citizens' necks, bore witness to the condition of the public mind.

"A chauffeur and a mechanic," exclaimed our landlord, when we broached to him the fact that we desired a position. "And Germans born, returning from America to the fatherland? Young men your fortunes are made. His Highness Prince Rudolph loves all Americans since his return from that country last spring. And he is installing innumerable automobiles in place of his old carriages. Go up to the castle at once and ask for the Herr Chamberlain, he will take you on. Oh, the salary is liberal, two marks a day and everything found."

That morning we succeeded in obtaining an interview with the Chamberlain. Both of us were thoroughly proficient in the running of automobiles and we were immediately assigned positions in the royal stables—Nikolai as a chauffeur, I as a cleaner.

Each of the chauffeurs had two automobiles in his charge, it was his duty to have them always in good repair, and when any of the royal family desired to ride, the chauffeur went with the vehicle that was selected. The other men were of the mechanic type and regarded us with animosity, except young Schmidt, a splendid specimen of a man, and of a bearing which would have commended rather with peculiar stock than with the humble family from which he had sprung. We three roomed together in a quaint, old-fashioned apartment at the back of the stable, and all night long when our confidence had been established he raved of the princess. It would have become exceedingly monotonous, but for the fact that Nikolai and I saw in him a possible tool for the fulfillment of our design.

"You have not seen her?" he exclaimed, as he got into bed. "Ah, the universe was not completed until God made her. Such eyes—they would melt the candles upon our lady's altar. Such hair—radiant as the sun. And when she smiles—! And they would marry her to an insolent, half-bred Polak, whom she despises."

"I hope the princess will select my automobile when next she goes riding," said Nikolai.

"The young mechanic burst into a roar of laughter.

"Ho! ho! That's a good one!" he laughed. "Why don't you know that she never stirs from the castle unless an armed servant accompanies her? Why, it is said that she is in love with a rascal of a guardsman, who would elope with her, and, though banished from Cassel-Wexel, is he believed to be lurking in Hoch Cassel. No, my friend, you will never see the princess, into your automobile, for if you so much as turn your head when driving her you receive a month's wages and dismissal on the spot."

"Summers," said Nikolai to me on the following morning, as we sat together in the stable "there is only one course for us to pursue. That young Schmidt is a regular sentimentalist German, and it is evident that, in his clownish way, he has fallen in love with the princess and would die to serve her. Now to unfold our scheme to him would mean immediate disclosure and our arrest. We must instill into his mind the idea that we are secret agents of the princess, who wishes to escape to her lover. Under that belief he will join us in our scheme—possibly the princess will herself willingly come with us—and we will drive into the country. Then stopping the machine we will induce young Schmidt to descend under some pretext or other and will at once start for again and leave him behind us. Could anything be simpler?"

The plan did indeed seem feasible. On the following night, having received many confidences from Schmidt as to the princess's dislike for her Polish suitor, Nikolai very cautiously led up to his plan.

I was not prepared for what followed. Schmidt had been sitting upon his cot half undressed listening with open mouth. Of a sudden he sprang to his feet and leaping across the room sprang upon Nikolai and threw his arms around his neck and kissed him impetuously upon either cheek.

God has sent you here," he cried. I was the valet of the Herr Leuten-

"And the automobile?" asked Nikolai.

"You can obtain a permit to stay until midnight in the stable under pretense of making repairs. At twelve the castle gates are closed and armed sentries parade the grounds. We must take the risk of passing them. Surely we can gain the entrance before they have time to shut the gates—and they will not dare to fire on the princess. Now you must have the automobile waiting, ready to start, and the moment that we descend, we shall make a rush for it and away we go."

"The only undesirable feature of that program," said Nikolai, "is that the actual work will be performed by another. That clod of a German is our sole reliance."

"He will not betray us," said I. "The clown is an admirable tool—and simple as a child. Why, in America such a man with latent ingenuity and resources, would make his millions; yet here he is content to remain a clown."

"God sends clowns to help the wise," said Nikolai.

Our conversation had been in English, and, though Schmidt knew that we had spent years in America, he was manifestly uneasy. Nikolai apologized for the use of the foreign tongue, and we spent the remainder of the evening discussing ways and means until our plans had been completely worked out.

On the following day I managed to put the princess's largest automobile out of commission by injuring the motor. Then I reported the matter to the chamberlain, who cursed me freely.

"Every day we need that machine for the guests who are arriving," he said.

When he had cooled down I suggested that Nikolai and I could repair the damage that evening if we could obtain a permit to remain in the stable. He cast a sharp glance at me, hemmed and hawed and finally consented. This was the first success, at eight o'clock we were left alone in the converted stable where the machines were housed.

"Mind you do good work," grumbled the chamberlain, coming on us suddenly and finding us seated in a corner discussing our project. "Curse

'Here! Get out of this!'" yelled Schmidt; and, pushing me aside, he took the wheel. The machine was leaping over the Prince of Cassel-Wexel's rose bushes. We rushed across the broad lawn toward where an open space appeared in the high wall that surrounded the castle. "Close the gates!" I heard somebody yell; and the cry seemed to be taken up on every side. But they were too late. Just as the iron gates began to turn inward and we were hurrying out upon the highroad that led into Hoch Cassel I heard the cries behind us die away; the lights in the castle windows, now all ablaze, drew together as we literally cut off the highroad abruptly and rushed the machine along a narrower path that led into the open fields. The night was dark, and here and there one of his furious night riders God grant we do not run into his bays, for they gallop like the wind, and heaven knows how many miles they could run before we distanced them. At eleven o'clock we were in the princess's window. When you see the flicker of a match be ready."

At half past ten, when the suspense was beginning to be unbearable, the chamberlain paid us a surprise visit.

"Well, fellows, have you mended the machine?" he asked.

"It is getting on," said Nikolai, guardedly, assiduously bending over a spare tire, which he was carefully deflating.

"It must be ready by morning," stormed the chamberlain, tearing his hair. "His highness, the prince, requires it to go to meet the parents of his Highness Prince Ponia-towski. Ten thousand devils! It is the best and fastest of them all!"

"Calm yourself," said Nikolai. "I mean, delinquent to be assuaged, Herr Chamberlain. We have located the injury. By twelve it will be mended."

We hoped he would go. But he stood there having apparently taken a sudden and unexpected interest in the great racing automobile. We had

as the iron gates began to turn inward and we were hurrying out upon the highroad that led into Hoch Cassel I heard the cries behind us die away; the lights in the castle windows, now all ablaze, drew together as we literally cut off the highroad abruptly and rushed the machine along a narrower path that led into the open fields. The night was dark, and here and there one of his furious night riders God grant we do not run into his bays, for they gallop like the wind, and heaven knows how many miles they could run before we distanced them. At eleven o'clock we were in the princess's window. When you see the flicker of a match be ready."

At half past ten, when the suspense was beginning to be unbearable, the chamberlain paid us a surprise visit.

"Well, fellows, have you mended the machine?" he asked.

"It is getting on," said Nikolai, guardedly, assiduously bending over a spare tire, which he was carefully deflating.

"It must be ready by morning," stormed the chamberlain, tearing his hair. "His highness, the prince, requires it to go to meet the parents of his Highness Prince Ponia-towski. Ten thousand devils! It is the best and fastest of them all!"

"Calm yourself," said Nikolai. "I mean, delinquent to be assuaged, Herr Chamberlain. We have located the injury. By twelve it will be mended."

We hoped he would go. But he stood there having apparently taken a sudden and unexpected interest in the great racing automobile. We had

as the iron gates began to turn inward and we were hurrying out upon the highroad that led into Hoch Cassel I heard the cries behind us die away; the lights in the castle windows, now all ablaze, drew together as we literally cut off the highroad abruptly and rushed the machine along a narrower path that led into the open fields. The night was dark, and here and there one of his furious night riders God grant we do not run into his bays, for they gallop like the wind, and heaven knows how many miles they could run before we distanced them. At eleven o'clock we were in the princess's window. When you see the flicker of a match be ready."

At half past ten, when the suspense was beginning to be unbearable, the chamberlain paid us a surprise visit.

"Well, fellows, have you mended the machine?" he asked.

"It is getting on," said Nikolai, guardedly, assiduously bending over a spare tire, which he was carefully deflating.

"It must be ready by morning," stormed the chamberlain, tearing his hair. "His highness, the prince, requires it to go to meet the parents of his Highness Prince Ponia-towski. Ten thousand devils! It is the best and fastest of them all!"

"Calm yourself," said Nikolai. "I mean, delinquent to be assuaged, Herr Chamberlain. We have located the injury. By twelve it will be mended."

We hoped he would go. But he stood there having apparently taken a sudden and unexpected interest in the great racing automobile. We had

as the iron gates began to turn inward and we were hurrying out upon the highroad that led into Hoch Cassel I heard the cries behind us die away; the lights in the castle windows, now all ablaze, drew together as we literally cut off the highroad abruptly and rushed the machine along a narrower path that led into the open fields. The night was dark, and here and there one of his furious night riders God grant we do not run into his bays, for they gallop like the wind, and heaven knows how many miles they could run before we distanced them. At eleven o'clock we were in the princess's window. When you see the flicker of a match be ready."

At half past ten, when the suspense was beginning to be unbearable, the chamberlain paid us a surprise visit.

"Well, fellows, have you mended the machine?" he asked.

"It is getting on," said Nikolai, guardedly, assiduously bending over a spare tire, which he was carefully deflating.

"It must be ready by morning," stormed the chamberlain, tearing his hair. "His highness, the prince, requires it to go to meet the parents of his Highness Prince Ponia-towski. Ten thousand devils! It is the best and fastest of them all!"

"Calm yourself," said Nikolai. "I mean, delinquent to be assuaged, Herr Chamberlain. We have located the injury. By twelve it will be mended."

We hoped he would go. But he stood there having apparently taken a sudden and unexpected interest in the great racing automobile. We had

as the iron gates began to turn inward and we were hurrying out upon the highroad that led into Hoch Cassel I heard the cries behind us die away; the lights in the castle windows, now all ablaze, drew together as we literally cut off the highroad abruptly and rushed the machine along a narrower path that led into the open fields. The night was dark, and here and there one of his furious night riders God grant we do not run into his bays, for they gallop like the wind, and heaven knows how many miles they could run before we distanced them. At eleven o'clock we were in the princess's window. When you see the flicker of a match be ready."

At half past ten, when the suspense was beginning to be unbearable, the chamberlain paid us a surprise visit.

"Well, fellows, have you mended the machine?" he asked.

"It is getting on," said Nikolai, guardedly, assiduously bending over a spare tire, which he was carefully deflating.

"It must be ready by morning," stormed the chamberlain, tearing his hair. "His highness, the prince, requires it to go to meet the parents of his Highness Prince Ponia-towski. Ten thousand devils! It is the best and fastest of them all!"

"Calm yourself," said Nikolai. "I mean, delinquent to be assuaged, Herr Chamberlain. We have located the injury. By twelve it will be mended."

We hoped he would go. But he stood there having apparently taken a sudden and unexpected interest in the great racing automobile. We had

as the iron gates began to turn inward and we were hurrying out upon the highroad that led into Hoch Cassel I heard the cries behind us die away; the lights in the castle windows, now all ablaze, drew together as we literally cut off the highroad abruptly and rushed the machine along a narrower path that led into the open fields. The night was dark, and here and there one of his furious night riders God grant we do not run into his bays, for they gallop like the wind, and heaven knows how many miles they could run before we distanced them. At eleven o'clock we were in the princess's window. When you see the flicker of a match be ready."

At half past ten, when the suspense was beginning to be unbearable, the chamberlain paid us a surprise visit.

"Well, fellows, have you mended the machine?" he asked.

"It is getting on," said Nikolai, guardedly, assiduously bending over a spare tire, which he was carefully deflating.

"It must be ready by morning," stormed the chamberlain, tearing his hair. "His highness, the prince, requires it to go to meet the parents of his Highness Prince Ponia-towski. Ten thousand devils! It is the best and fastest of them all!"

"Calm yourself," said Nikolai. "I mean, delinquent to be assuaged, Herr Chamberlain. We have located the injury. By twelve it will be mended."

We hoped he would go. But he stood there having apparently taken a sudden and unexpected interest in the great racing automobile. We had

as the iron gates began to turn inward and we were hurrying out upon the highroad that led into Hoch Cassel I heard the cries behind us die away; the lights in the castle windows, now all ablaze, drew together as we literally cut off the highroad abruptly and rushed the machine along a narrower path that led into the open fields. The night was dark, and here and there one of his furious night riders God grant we do not run into his bays, for they gallop like the wind, and heaven knows how many miles they could run before we distanced them. At eleven o'clock we were in the princess's window. When you see the flicker of a match be ready."

At half past ten, when the suspense was beginning to be unbearable, the chamberlain paid us a surprise visit.

"Well, fellows, have you mended the machine?" he asked.

"It is getting on," said Nikolai, guardedly, assiduously bending over a spare tire, which he was carefully deflating.

"It must be ready by morning," stormed the chamberlain, tearing his hair. "His highness, the prince, requires it to go to meet the parents of his Highness Prince Ponia-towski. Ten thousand devils! It is the best and fastest of them all!"

"Calm yourself," said Nikolai. "I mean, delinquent to be assuaged, Herr Chamberlain. We have located the injury. By twelve it will be mended."

We hoped he would go. But he stood there having apparently taken a sudden and unexpected interest in the great racing automobile. We had

as the iron gates began to turn inward and we were hurrying out upon the highroad that led into Hoch Cassel I heard the cries behind us die away; the lights in the castle windows, now all ablaze, drew together as we literally cut off the highroad abruptly and rushed the machine along a narrower path that led into the open fields. The night was dark, and here and there one of his furious night riders God grant we do not run into his bays, for they gallop like the wind, and heaven knows how many miles they could run before we distanced them. At eleven o'clock we were in the princess's window. When you see the flicker of a match be ready."

At half past ten, when the suspense was beginning to be unbearable, the chamberlain paid us a surprise visit.

"Well, fellows, have you mended the machine?" he asked.

"It is getting on," said Nikolai, guardedly, assiduously bending over a spare tire, which he was carefully deflating.

"It must be ready by morning," stormed the chamberlain, tearing his hair. "His highness, the prince, requires it to go to meet the parents of his Highness Prince Ponia-towski. Ten thousand devils! It is the best and fastest of them all!"

"Calm yourself," said Nikolai. "I mean, delinquent to be assuaged, Herr Chamberlain. We have located the injury. By twelve it will be mended."

We hoped he would go. But he stood there having apparently taken a sudden and unexpected interest in the great racing automobile. We had

as the iron gates began to turn inward and we were hurrying out upon the highroad that led into Hoch Cassel I heard the cries behind us die away; the lights in the castle windows, now all ablaze, drew together as we literally cut off the highroad abruptly and rushed the machine along a narrower path that led into the open fields. The night was dark, and here and there one of his furious night riders God grant we do not run into his bays, for they gallop like the wind, and heaven knows how many miles they could run before we distanced them. At eleven o'clock we were in the princess's window. When you see the flicker of a match be ready."

At half past ten, when the suspense was beginning to be unbearable, the chamberlain paid us a surprise visit.

"Well, fellows, have you mended the machine?" he asked.

"We must shake him off," Schmidt said. "Have you a pistol?"

Neither of us was armed. Incredibly as the thought appeared to be, we had left our revolvers in our "best" clothes.

"Hark," cried Schmidt again.

Above the whirr of our automobile, above the noise of the wheels, we heard three sharp reports like pistol shots. Schmidt smiled grimly.

"The prince is urging his horses with his whip," he said, and drove the machine on at full speed. We leaped out to side, coming within an ace of overturning now in one ditch, now in another. And all the while we heard the sound of the galloping bays.

"He takes the shorter road down the mountain," said Schmidt. "At the crossroads, one mile ahead, we meet."

We said nothing; there was nothing to say. We sat in silence behind the driver, whose arm still encircled the waist of the princess; and she seemed either to sleep or to be happy there. It was a strange denouement—that we, who had planned the plot, should thus play second fiddle to this clown.

The sound of the horses' hoofs grew louder. The clods appeared in front of us. And then, emerging from behind a cluster of trees, galloping furiously down the mountain side, we saw the coach of the prince, and a man upon the box who lashed his maddest horses. Suddenly Schmidt pressed the brake. There was a long grinding skid—and we came to a halt just as the driver pulled in his sweating team and rushed for our machine.

"Hold the princess," cried Schmidt, and rushed toward him. And then—

Well, I do not know how it happened, but suddenly, before we could collect ourselves for defense, the two of them were upon us, and in a trice we were pinned under them and helpless.

I felt a pistol pressed against my forehead. I looked up into the laughing eyes of Schmidt. And the man with him was not the prince, as I had seen his photograph in the shop windows of Hoch Cassel, but a young fellow of about Schmidt's age and build and carriage.

"Gentlemen," said Schmidt calmly, "since you are at our mercy, yield and give us your pledge to obey our instructions. I should be loath to kill you."

"Who are you?" spluttered Nikolai.

"Herr Leutenant von Offenbach, at your service," said Schmidt, bowing.

"Gentlemen, my brother. Do you pledge yourselves?"

We did. We had to. We got into the automobile again and the five of us proceeded at a more leisurely pace, leaving the prince's coach standing in the road, the horses trembling and shivering in front of it.

"I will not ask you what your motives were, gentlemen, in seeking to steal my promised bride," said the lieutenant. "It may have been some chivalrous intent, or some more sinister reason. But inasmuch as you have played into my hands, I thank you."

"I own that at one time I had begun to despair, imagining you to be spies of the Polak, until I happened to overhear some of your very frank English conversations, which, needless to say, I understood perfectly. It was then that I contrived to have my brother, who was acting as the Polak's coachman, run away with his team and pretend to pursue us. The actual distance covered by the coach was less than a mile. The sounds came clearly at night from that mountain road—and your imagination did the rest. I do not think he could have caught us had not the route he was to take been carefully laid out by us in advance."

"It is now taking my bride across the frontier, where before the night is gone, we shall be united according to the rites of the Roman Catholic church, which, as you know, are indissoluble. I trust that I may have the pleasure of your company as witnesses."

"Well," whispered Nikolai, after a pause, "we thought that we were making use of our friend Schmidt, but it seems that he was making tools of us. Confound him," he added, suddenly enraged. "We played into his hands at every step. Why, we even cranked up his automobile for him."

"And ran over the chamberlain," I added, laughing at the recollection.

"And lost our ransom," continued Nikolai in a whisper.

"Well," I said, "we're here and we can't help it. And so let us say 'good luck' to them."

WHY THE TERM HORSEPOWER

Originated With Watt, Who Produced the First Practical Steam Machinery.

When we say that an engine develops 100 horsepower we do not mean that one hundred horses could produce the same result. And, as the editor of Power remarks, there are few engineers who could tell just how the terms "horsepower" came into use. Its origin is related in the following quotation from "Farey on the Steam Engine," published in 1827.

"The machinery in the great breweries and distilleries in London was then moved by the strength of horses, and the proprietors of those establishments who were first to require Mr. Watt's engines always inquired what number of horses an intended engine would be equal to."

"In consequence, Mr. Watt made some experiments on the strong horses employed by the brewers in London, and found that a horse of that kind, walking at the rate of 2 1/2 miles per hour, could draw 150 pounds avoirdupois by means of a rope passing over a pulley, so as to raise up that weight, with a vertical motion, at the rate of 220 feet per minute. This exertion of mechanical power is equal to 33,000 foot pounds (or 33 cubic feet) of water raised vertically through a space of 1 foot per minute, and he denominated it a horsepower, to serve for a measure of the power exerted by his steam engines."

This estimate is much beyond the capacity of the average strong horse, says Power. Smeaton and other early engineers estimated that 22,000 pounds per minute was more accurate.

Electricity for Chickens.

Chickens which lose their timidity and become bold and pugnacious under the influence of electrical stimulus were described by Mr. Thorne Baker in a paper read before the Royal Society of Arts at London. Mr. Baker said chickens could be grown under electric stimulus at about double the rate, thus doubling the output of a chicken farm and halving the food bill per chicken. The vitality of the treated chicken was remarkable. During the treatment they were so highly write proper myself. I have been through two grammars, and can't say they did me no good. I prefer madder to engage in German or draw in vocal music on the piano."—For Scott Tribune.

Confession.

Servant Girl—Have you any love letters manuals?

Clerk—Naturally a large assortment. Is it to be a higher grade?

Servant Girl (bashfully)—It's a sergeant.—Flamingo Blazer (Mandich)

No Grammar for Her.

In a Fort Scott school the teachers gave orders for all pupils to buy a certain kind of grammar, and bring the book to the class the next day. When school started one little girl walked to the front of the room and carefully laid a note on the teacher's desk. She picked it up, rather surprised, but she was more surprised when she read the following note. "I do not desire that muddle shall engage in grammar, as I prefer her to engage in more useful studies, and can learn her speak and articles in both countries; and it has accumulated a large library of Americana in Berlin, for the use of German scholars and exiles or visiting Americans. Such an institution seems peculiarly German in the very thoughtfulness with which it has substituted systematic methods for the naturally haphazard means of instruction, but it is all the more to be wished that as between other European nations and the United States similar bureaus could be brought into existence.—New York Evening Post.

They Placed Her in the Automobile.

you for a pair of Yankee idlers. You will mend that machine and make it as good as new or stay here all night until you have done so."

I laughed when he was gone. The injury was soon repaired, and we remained waiting for the appointed hour to arrive. Once Schmidt looked in cautiously and reassured us.

"It is all right," he said. "But there is one difficulty—happily not a serious one. His Highness the Polak is out on one of his furious night rides. God grant we do not run into his bays, for they gallop like the wind, and heaven knows how many miles they could run before we distanced them. At eleven o'clock we were in the princess's window. When you see the flicker of a match be ready."

At half past ten, when the suspense was beginning to be unbearable, the chamberlain paid us a surprise visit.

"Well, fellows, have you mended the machine?" he asked.

"It is getting on," said Nikolai, guardedly, assiduously bending over a spare tire, which he was carefully deflating.

"It must be ready by morning," stormed the chamberlain, tearing his hair. "His highness, the prince, requires it to go to meet the parents of his Highness Prince Ponia-towski. Ten thousand devils! It is the best and fastest of them all!"

"Calm yourself," said Nikolai. "I mean, delinquent to be assuaged, Herr Chamberlain. We have located the injury. By twelve it will be mended."

We hoped he would go. But he stood there having apparently taken a sudden and unexpected interest in the great racing automobile. We had

as the iron gates began to turn inward and we were hurrying out upon the highroad that led into Hoch Cassel I heard the cries behind us die away; the lights in the castle windows, now all ablaze, drew together as we literally cut off the highroad abruptly and rushed the machine along a narrower path that led into the open fields. The night was dark, and here and there one of his furious night riders God grant we do not run into his bays, for they gallop like the wind, and heaven knows how many miles they could run before we distanced them. At eleven o'clock we were in the princess's window. When you see the flicker of a match be ready."

At half past ten, when the suspense was beginning to be unbearable, the chamberlain paid us a surprise visit.

"Well, fellows, have you mended the machine?" he asked.

"It is getting on," said Nikolai, guardedly, assiduously bending over a spare tire, which he was carefully deflating.

"It must be ready by morning," stormed the chamberlain, tearing his hair. "His highness, the prince, requires it to go to meet the parents of his Highness Prince Ponia-towski. Ten thousand devils! It is the

As light as a feather

Above All Other Brands

of flour is the VICTORIA brand, it represents all that is highest and best in flour. All we ask of you is to give a trial at your grocer's—after that you will use no other kind we are sure. One of the greatest merits of our flour is uniformity, one batch of bread is just like another, and all are equal to the best. Just try it and be convinced.

Grand Rapids Milling Co.

STOP LOOK LISTEN

You should worry if you are not carrying any Fire or Life Insurance.

INSURANCE

I have been appointed agent for the Travelers Insurance Co. of Hartford. This company leads in age, success, strength and liberality.

Let me quote you rates on Life, Accident and Fire Benefit Insurance.

Edward N. Pomainville

THE REAL ESTATE MAN

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

GRAND RAPIDS BEER

PHONE 177

By all means have a case in Your Home

Staub's Electric Shop

137 First St. N. East side

Many Forms of Electric Light

are possible with the aid of appropriate fixtures. You can have the light when you like, where you like and how you like. Why not arrange with us to light your house as it should and can be. We'll supply everything including the light itself and the fixtures of add beauty to its power. You have no idea how moderate the expense will be. Ask about it.

The Badger Shoe Hospital

is now ready for all kinds of shoe repairing. Shoe Repairing with first-class up-to-date shoe machinery.

All Work Guaranteed. Prices Reasonable.

H. NEIMAN, Prop.

Grand Ave., next to Siskies Barber Shop.

Kellner Coal Co.

Coal and Wood

Don't Forget US when you need anything in the line of fuel

Telephone 305

Grand Rapids Tribune BY DRUMP & SUTOR.

Grand Rapids Wis., Feb. 18 1914

Entered at the Post Office at Grand Rapids Wisconsin, as Second Class Mail Matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One Year $1.00
Six Months .60
Three Months .35

Advertising Rates—For display matter a flat rate of 12 cents an inch is charged. The columns of the Tribune are 14 inches long, making a one column advertisement cost $2.88 for one insertion. Additional insertion cost at the same rate. All local notices, cards of thanks, resolutions of respect, and all notices of entertainments where an admission fee is charged will be charged at 5 cents per line.

Correspondents are requested to write on one side of the paper only, and to sign their names to communications. It does not matter if you write every week, sign your name anyway, as it will not be published.

DEMOCRATIC STATE PRES.

After reading some of our "progressive" exchanges' explanations on the tax problem, the Times began to think that possibly it had been on the wrong track. The "progressives" hold that the high tax is a good thing and there would be no fault found if the darn "stalwarts" would keep their noses blocked. A farmer near Chilton dropped into our office Wednesday and was told that this cry about high taxes did not amount to anything far at best it was only a stallwart holler to get the offices. He replied, "It may be a good thing for the man who pays $156.00 on sixty acres of land with your buildings on the same it is not a snap. I am not a stallwart myself but I can holler when I am stuck."—Chilton Times.

Not content with increasing the taxes of Wisconsin by a big margin, the last legislature created an addition to the statutes dealing with the collection of tax monies, which imposes upon the treasurers of every city, village and town to enforce the payment of two per cent additional for all taxes not paid by Feb. 1st. It has been the practice in many places to extend the time of making payments beyond the regular time, without additional expense, but a penalty of two per cent is now required from those who do not find themselves able to pay promptly at the first call. The increasing taxes in Wisconsin is certainly getting to a point of vexation to property owners and is more than likely to command serious consideration when the army of voters enter the polls at the election next November.—Plymouth Reporter.

How would it be if all legislators elected next fall were pledged to see that about nine-tenths of the present laws of the statute books of Wisconsin be repealed. This would weed the thing out and leave the essential laws for enforcement. As it now is we have many freak laws that never have been, nor does anyone care to have enforced. Then there is the class of laws that look fair on the face but in reality are almost fakes, like the fee splitting law and the eugenic marriage law. Another law that has never been enforced and as far as we can see never had any sense to it, is the law that forbids a newspaper man to mention tuberculosis or consumption in a news item where one is ill with, or has died, from this disease. So we could go on and name many a law that our state would be better off without. Perhaps the biggest joke of all is the law against the sale of cigarettes and cigarette papers, when you can visit our state capital and find these contraband articles on open sale almost in the shadow of the state house. Wheels and bugs. That must be what works the gray matter in some of our legislators' craniums.—Iola Herald.

Postponement of Meeting.

Racine, Wis., Feb. 12, 1914.

Dear Editor: Kindly notify your readers that the Regular Annual Meeting of The Wisconsin Holstein Breeders' Association, announcement of which was recently sent you to take place at Waukesha, Wis., on March 4, 1914, has been postponed to March 11, 1914. Program for the meeting will soon be ready and will be sent to all who apply for them to the secretary. Postponement is advisable because the meeting on the former date would conflict with the holding of the Pabst Stock Farm Percheron Dispersion Sale at Oconomowoc, which it is likely many Holstein breeders desire to attend.

Very truly yours,
C. Schroeder, Sec.

NOTICE.

To Whom It May Concern:—The name of the Chas. W. Rood Construction, company was on the 13th day of January A. D., 1914, changed to the C. W. Rood Construction company, by which name said corporation will be hereafter known and will transact all business.

Dated this 28th day of January A. D., 1914.

C. W. ROOD CONSTRUCTION CO.
By Chas. W. Rood, President.
By G. M. Hill, Secretary. 3t.

PLEASANT HILL.

The Valentine social at the church was well attended and a good time was had by all.

Will Strope and Henry Whitlock attended an Odd Fellows convention at Stevens Point Friday and Saturday.

Look out for wedding bells in our community soon.

John Geise has moved onto his farm which he recently purchased of John Maxwell.

Several of our farmers attended the Schluenger auction Tuesday.

The ladies aid met with Mrs. C. A. Robertson, Tuesday.

August Heyburg is hauling logs to Fenske's mill. He will build a new house this summer.

Miss Volba Stonedahl of Madison is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Christensen.

Miss Ida Christensen spent Sunday at home.

Fred Fox sold a horse to parties near Vesper Tuesday.

Harry Johnson attended the lecture at Pittsville Saturday evening.

The weather has been the coldest the past week we have had this winter. Our thermometer registered from 2 to 34 below zero each morning.

Subscribe to the Tribune.

NEWS ITEMS FROM NEARBY PLACES

Farmer Badly Frozen.—Word reached this office from Stratford that John Oberberger, a farmer residing near Stratford came near losing his life by freezing last Saturday night. Winters he works in the Connor mill and on the night in question left Stratford, so it is said, between eight and nine o'clock in the evening for home. This was the last seen of him until about three o'clock the next morning when he was found by his wife lying in the snow by the side of the house. He was nearly unconscious from the cold, both hands and feet being so badly frozen, that amputation may be necessary. Saturday night was bitter cold and it is supposed on reaching home he was so chilled that he fell in the snow and was unable to rise. He would have perished had not his wife gone out in search of him.—Marshfield Herald.

Will Enlarge Hotel.—It was reported this week that C. E. Blodgett, owner of the Blodgett hotel, one of the best hostels in the state, had decided to go ahead with the plans which provide for a modern three-story brick building on Second St. to serve for hotel purposes. Mr. Blodgett confirmed the report. He has also decided to add another story to the Bodega. The second street building will have a nine-foot high basement, to be built of brick and cut stone. The dimensions are 36x154 feet. This structure will be connected with the main building by means of a corridor at the second floor elevation. This addition will increase the number of guest rooms by forty-six, twenty-four of which will have bath accommodations. All the latest conveniences will be installed.—Marshfield News.

Would Change the Game Laws. (Shawano Journal.)

A movement is on foot for some very radical changes in the state game laws, and an association is already being formed to press measures before the next legislature which, if adopted, will effect these radical changes.

The movement has had its start in Racine county and one of the objects of the association is to protect the songbirds of the state from hunters, but it is also the idea of the organization to protect hunters from careless men and one of the propositions which is embodied in the plan is the giving county clerks of counties the power to decline issuing hunting licenses to irresponsible persons whose carelessness they think may result in accidents.

Another feature of the law will be to confer on all owners of agricultural land the right to become game wardens without pay with powers to make arrests on their own lands. This is the portion of the bill which will probably have the most opposition, as it would be a very broad conferring of the police powers. One of the arguments in favor of this portion of the law is that it will give farmers a right to arrest people shooting songbirds on their land, and it is said that Racine county farmers have many of them joined the movement for the legislation proposed is obtained they will be able to prevent the destruction of songbirds which, it is claimed, are great protection to the farmer because they eat insects which destroy crops.

It is the intention to make the movement for the legislation state wide. All the counties of the state are to be canvassed for signature to the petitions. Already a great number of signatures have been obtained in Racine and Milwaukee counties.

A Wrong Impression.

Some people have somehow got the idea that the new law providing for a county board of education is to do away with district school boards. This new county board of education, consisting of five members, will be elected at the spring election. They will not take the place of any officers now existing. All the school boards will have the same duties and privileges as they now have. These five new county officers will be elected by the county at large, excepting the cities which have city superintendents, and any voter on school matters is eligible to the office.

Home at a Bargain.

Seven room house and one lot on Grand Ave., good repair, built three years ago, good cellar, electric lights. Will be sold at the remarkably low price of $1200 if taken at once as owner wants to leave city. This is considerable less than cost of house. A great bargain and a good speculation. C. W. Bender. 2t.

Legal Blanks for sale at this office.

Another Early Settler Has Gone.

Hilbert Favorite:—Joseph Niles, a resident of this village for seven years and one of the earliest settlers in this section of the state, died at his home here on Friday evening, after an illness of seven weeks. Pleurisy was the cause of his demise.

Deceased was born in Germany the 11th day of November, 1829. In 1874 his family emigrated to America and settled on a farm one and one half miles from here, just north of the Math Niles farm. They resided on the homestead for thirty-three years, then retired from active work and moved to this village. Ten children were born to them of which eight survive. They are: Math of here, John, who conducts a harness shop at Grand Rapids, Nick of North Dakota, Frank, at home; Mrs. Math Jackels of Chilton, Mrs. Nic Britten of Ladysmith, Mrs. Joe Ortg of Crystal Falls, Mich., and Mrs. Anton Baer of here. His wife, now Margaret Jackels, forty-five grand children and one great grand child also survive.

The funeral was held Monday morning at 10:00 o'clock from St. Mary's church, Rev. Max Oswald officiating, with interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

Beside the children, the following from out of town were here: Math Jackels of Appleton, Mrs. Nic Jackels and Mr. and Mrs. John Jackels of Kaukauna, John Brittnacher of Greenleaf and Wm. Weeks of Chilton.

Deceased was the father of John Niles, the west side harness maker. Mr. Niles went down to attend the funeral.

—Try a Lucky Sam when you want a good smoke. Only five cents.

School Board Proceedings.

Lincoln Building, Grand Rapids, Wis., February 9, 1914.

Regular meeting of the Board of Education was called to order at 7:28 p. m. by President I. P. Witter.

The following Commissioners were present: Hill, Reeves, Searis, Ragan, Witter, Kellogg, Rowland, Babcock, Bein, Horton, Johnson, Hatch, and Mellicks (13). Absent, Commissioners Peatens, Nash, and Natwick.

On motion, the reading of the minutes of the regular meeting held January 12, 1914, was dispensed with.

It was moved and carried that the regular order of business be changed to give Mr. Warren E. Hicks, State Assistant for Industrial Education, an opportunity to address the Board concerning Continuation and Industrial Schools.

The following bills were then, on motion, allowed and ordered paid: Chas. W. Minard, milk, Domestic Science $1.32

Grand Rapids School Supply Co., drawing supplies $29.78

C. Reiss Coal Co., coal $316.12

Bossett Bros. Coal Co., hauling and storing coal $68.95

G. B. & W. R. R. Co., freight on coal $148.25

G. R. Foundry Co., furnace grates $9.54

F. Lambricht, draying $1.00

Sam Church, school supplies $16.85

G. R. Tribune, office supplies $3.50

J. R. Staab, electrical supplies $15.25

Grand Rapids Plumbing & Heating Co., repairs $14.38

Lewis Schroeder, Emerson re-f. L. Stab, supplies $1.75

D. M. Huntington, gauge glass $1.75

D. M. Huntington, gauge glasses $1.75

McManley & Pomainville Hardware Co., Hardware $1.91

Wood County Reporter, printing $5.70

Natwick Electric Co., electrical supplies $28.46

John Niles, gymnasium repairs $1.40

Nash Hdw. Co., Engineer's supplies $4.25

Electric & Water Co., lights and power, electric glue-pot $71.84

Wood Co. Telephone Co., telephone repairs $9.00

Mrs. G. S. Beardsley, Domestic Science supplies $7.98

Wells, Fargo & Co., Express $2.35

Standard Varnish Works, Man. Tr. supplies $14.25

Associated Mfg. Co., Janitors' supplies $12.00

O. C. Davis Co., repairs $2.98

Standard Oil Co., gasoline $25.60

A. C. McClurg & Co., books $4.02

Northington Bros., laundry $3.85

Lyons & Carnahan, typewriting manuals $1.55

American Association for Labor Legislation, books $3.00

Woelz Bros., Commercial Department file $1.75

Gregg Pub. Co., Commercial books $5.24

Johnson & Hill Co., supplies $25.58

Lewis J. Eron, plumbing, low ell $21.95

Wm. Burchell, draying and freight $10.43

W. F. Nollner, night man, January $21.00

Wm. Dahlke, boiler repairs $3.50

American Express Co., express $1.89

First National Bank, January interest $153.96

It was moved and carried that the bill from the City Water Works for water used in the various schools from July first to December 31st, be referred to the Finance Committee to take up the matter with the management of the Grand Rapids Water Works.

On motion, the Chairman of the Committee on Buildings and Grounds was empowered to install a 15 horse power motor to run the ventilating fan in the Lincoln high school. The chairman of the Committee on Buildings and Grounds was further instructed, on motion, to supply a suitable truck for the use of the firemen in the boiler room.

Motion to adjourn, was then carried. (Signed) Isaac P. Witter, President.

C. W. Schwede, Clerk of Board of Education.

BIRON.

Joe Grandshaw and Nick Marceau of Rudolph were in our berg Sunday.

Mrs. Shaurette has gone to Rudolph with her household goods to be shipped to Canada. Mrs. Shaurette is to leave for Canada in a few days.

Peter Akey is now busy cutting ice below the dam for the people of Rudolph.

Dave Sharkey quit his job on the beaters and is now unloading pulp.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Will of Eau Claire are here for a few weeks at the A. A. Akey home and family.

Eugene Croiteau and W. J. Pobart's Mrs. Pobart and Mrs. Croiteau are sisters of Mrs. Will.

Andrew Galganski was at home in your city Saturday and Sunday.

Clarence Walner was home Saturday and Sunday at Port Edwards to visit with his family. Mr. Walner is to move here soon.

Joe Eleacher is now loading cord wood for the company.

Milo Brown was on the sick list Saturday.

Geo. Bates of your city was calling on friends a few hours the past week here.

Curtis Croiteau has disposed of his saloon property to some party the past week.

The box party at the school house was well attended and everybody reports having had a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Will will soon leave after their visit in our berg for Muscatine, Iowa, where they will make their future home on a nice farm which Mr. Will recently bought. All our best wishes go with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Urbanowski were in your city Saturday night at the parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Klappa.

Fred Trudell was in our berg on Sunday and stopped at his old boarding place for a while.

Mrs. Chet Atwood was in your city Saturday shopping.

Frank Carlson and his girl took the show in your city Saturday night.

Albert Flick says he has some chickens that will break all records around here. He says his chicks will lay eggs the year round without setting. It's a good one on you Albert. Come again.

We don't suppose the eugenists ever have in mind anything as radical as triplets.—Toledo Blade.

ANCIENT ADVICE STILL GOOD

Each succeeding age gets a deal of satisfaction out of thinking itself a much improved edition of the age gone before. Because it is so good to get back to the simple ways of life, and to be able to have for the more anxious made of business due to the application of power to machinery, we have not gone so very far after all beyond either the practice or the vision of the men of old.

A book called "Farms Management" lies on the writer's table. It is a translation from the Latin of Cato and Varro. Cato lived during the century preceding the birth of Christ; Varro died twenty years before the beginning of the Christian era. Like the men who cultured Romans of their day, both of these men were farmers—farm managers, more correctly speaking—and a considerable part of their writings were about farm matters. Here is some good advice for the 1914 buyer of a farm.

"When you have decided to purchase a farm, be careful not to buy rashly; do not spare your visits and be not content with a single tour of inspection. The more you go, the more the place will please you, it is worth your attention. Give heed to the appearance of the neighborhood—a flourishing country should give its prosperity. When you go in, look about you, that, when needs be, you can find your way out."

Take care that you choose a good climate, not subject to destructive storms, and a soil that is naturally strong. If possible, your farm should be at the foot of a mountain, looking to the South, in a healthy situation, where labor and cattle can be had, well watered, near a good sized town, and either on the sea or a navigable river, or else on a good and much frequented road. Choose a place which has not often changed ownership, one which is sold unwillingly, that has buildings in good repair."

Again Cato is speaking about the proper location for a building site. He says: "Try your best to locate the standing at the foot of a wooded hill where the pastures are rich, and turn it so as to catch the healthful prevailing breeze. The best situation is facing the east, so to secure shade in summer and sun in winter. But if you must build the bank of a river, take care that you do not let the standing face the river, for it will be very cold in winter and unhealthy in summer. Like precautions must be taken against swampy places for the same reasons and particularly in the case of the house, which is a building which cannot be seen with the eyes and which breathe through the nose and mouth into the body where they cause grave maladies."

"But," said Pundaricus, "suppose I inherited a farm like that, what should I do to avoid the malaria you describe?"

"The answer to that question is easy," said Agricus. "You should sell the farm for what you can get for it, and if you can't sell it, give it away."

It is questionable whether, either in scientific knowledge or in moral sense, we have advanced far beyond these standards, despite our germ theories of disease and our theological opinions concerning original sin.

But this interesting anecdote, which might be lengthened out almost indefinitely, would be most incomplete without the following advice from Varro concerning cattle:

"He who wishes to buy a herd of neat cattle should take care first that they are of an age to produce rather than of a breed, large, with black eyes and broad horns, large black eyes, hairy eyes, but cheek bones, snub-nosed, not hump-backed but rather with the back bone slightly roached, wide nostrils, blackish lips, a neck muscular and long with dew lapp hanging from it, the barrel large and well ribbed, the shoulders broad and the quarters good, a tail sweeping the heels, the end being frizzled in a heavy brush, the legs rather short and straight with knees projecting a little and well separated, the feet narrow and not inclined to spread in walking, the hoofs not being splined but consisting of light and even bones, and a hide which is not rough and hard to the touch. The best color is black, next red, third chestnut and last white; for a white coat indicates weakness, as black indicates the reverse of the other two colors red is more common than chestnut, and both black and white. In addition you should be particular that the bull is of good breed, which is determined from his conformation and his get, as calves usually resemble their fathers in their size."

Try this standard out in your herd, and see whether Mr. Varro of 100 B. C. would be eligible to membership in a keen, up-to-date live stock breeders' association of two thousand years beyond his time.

—Farm, Stock and Home.

ORDER LIMITING TIME TO PRESENT CLAIMS AND NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

State of Wisconsin, Wood County, in County Court.

In the Matter of the Estate of Louis Barrette, Deceased.

Letters of Administration on the estate of Louis Barrette late of the City of Grand Rapids, in said county of Wood, deceased, having been duly granted to Mary Barrette by this court.

IT IS ORDERED, That the time from the date hereof until including the 1st day of August, A. D., 1914, be and the same is hereby set apart for the presentation of all claims and demands of all persons against the said Louis Barrette, deceased, be examined and adjusted before this court, at its Court Room in the Court House in the City of Grand Rapids, in said County, at the regular term thereof appointed to be held on the first Tuesday of September, 1914, and all creditors are hereby notified thereof.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place at which said claims and demands will be examined and adjusted as aforesaid, and of the time above limited for said creditors to present their claims and demands be given by publishing a copy of this order and notice for four consecutive weeks, once in each week, in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in the county of Wood, the first publication to be within fifteen days of the date hereof.

Dated this 27th day of January, 1914.

By the Court,
J. W. J. CONWAY, County Judge.
J. J. Jeffrey, Attorney for Estate.

ORDER LIMITING TIME TO PRESENT CLAIMS AND NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

State of Wisconsin, Wood County, in County Court.

In the Matter of the Estate of Louis Barrette, Deceased.

Letters of Administration on the estate of Louis Barrette late of the City of Grand Rapids, in said county of Wood, deceased, having been duly granted to Mary Barrette by this court.

IT IS ORDERED, That the time from the date hereof until including the 1st day of August, A. D., 1914, be and the same is hereby set apart for the presentation of all claims and demands of all persons against the said Louis Barrette, deceased, be examined and adjusted before this court, at its Court Room in the Court House in the City of Grand Rapids, in said County, at the regular term thereof appointed to be held on the first Tuesday of September, 1914, and all creditors are hereby notified thereof.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place at which said claims and demands will be examined and adjusted as aforesaid, and of the time above limited for said creditors to present their claims and demands be given by publishing a copy of this order and notice for four consecutive weeks, once in each week, in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in the county of Wood, the first publication to be within fifteen days of the date hereof.

Dated this 27th day of January, 1914.

By the Court,
J. W. J. CONWAY, County Judge.
J. J. Jeffrey, Attorney for Estate.

CHAS. C. ROWLEY, M. D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON

Office specialty Oculopathy, 14 MacKinnon Block. Phones 150 and 466.

D. A. TELFER

DENTIST

Office over Wood County National Bank on the East Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. Telephone No. 260.

J. J. JEFFREY

LAWYER

Loans and Collections, Commercial and Probate Law. Office across from Church's drugstore. Telephone 251.

GEO. L. WILLIAMS

ATTORNEY AT LAW

Office in Wood Block, over post office, Telephone No. 91. Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

DR. EDWARD HOUGEN

Physician and Surgeon

Located in Wood County National Bank building. Office hours as usual. Office phone 318.

GOGGINS & BRAZEAU

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

Office in the MacKinnon Block on the West Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

W. Melvin Ruckle, M. D.

—PRACTICE LIMITED TO—

EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT

Glasses fitted Correctly. Eye and Ear Surgeon, Riverside Hospital. Office in Wood County National Bank Building. Telephone No. 254.

J. R. RAGAN

Licensed Embalmer and Undertaker

House phone No. 69, Store 312. Spaford's Building, East Side. John Brnsor, Residence phone No. 435.

W. E. WHEELAN

ATTORNEY AT LAW

Office in Daily Block, East Side. Telephone No. 243. Grand Rapids, Wis.

GEO. W. BAKER & SON

UNDERTAKERS AND LICENSED EMBALMERS

North Second Street, East Grand Rapids, Wis. Business Phone 401, Night Calls 402.

Grand Rapids Veterinary Hospital

Dr. V. P. Norton, Prop.

The only fully equipped veterinary hospital in the city, having all the latest and most modern appliances to serve our patrons. Telephone #12, Residence 151.

D. D. CONWAY

ATTORNEY AT LAW

Law, Loans and Collections. We have $2,000 which will be loaned at a low rate of interest. Office over First National Bank, East Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. Telephone 328.

DR. S. E. COTTRILL

Veterinarian

Old Wheel Livery, 3d St. S. near west side Market Square, office phone 385, residence phone 595.

My Personal Attention Given to All Work

THE OPEN DOOR SILO

AND PAT. DOOR FRAMES FOR SILOS, CEMENTS on first side THE OPEN DOOR SILO CO. VESPER, WOOD CO., WIS.

CONFIDENTIAL

Your neighbor knows nothing about your business at this bank. Every transaction is held in STRICT CONFIDENCE.

Your business is solicited on that basis, courteous treatment and absolute safety.

Wood County National Bank

Grand Rapids, Wis.

Capital and Surplus $200,000.00

A Commercial and Savings Bank.

IM OILING UP FOR A RECORD RUN THEN USE THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW

THE flavor you get in "Right-Cut" is the real tobacco flavor—full and rich.

"Right-Cut" is the Real Tobacco Chew—a new blend of old, mellow, sappy leaf, seasoned and sweetened just enough to bring out all the tobacco flavor.

One 10-cent pouch of "Right-Cut" lasts longer than you can buy for twice the money in the old kind.

The Real Tobacco Chew 10 Cents a Pouch

ASK your dealer today. If he doesn't sell "Right-Cut," send us 10 cents in stamps. We'll send you a pouch.

We guarantee it to be pure chewing tobacco and better than the old kind.

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY

50 Union Square, New York

Buy Sal-Vet at Home

Save Time Save Freight

The Great Worm Destroyer

SAL-VET

Ride Your Stock of Worms

Worms are deadly, dangerous foes—enemies to health of hogs, sheep, cattle and horses—PROFIT DESTROYERS—thieves that rob you right and left—night and day. You can't have thrifty, profit-producing stock and worms. SAL-VET will drive out these blood-sucking, life-sapping parasites and repay you many times its small cost. It sharpens the appetite, improves digestion, helps fall stock grow faster, keeps them healthier, so they'll sell quicker and for more money. Easy to feed—animals doctor themselves. Money back if it fails to fill every claim made.

Send your Sal-Vet order to: Otto's Pharmacy, 1000 Grand Ave., Grand Rapids, Wis. We are exclusive agents for SAL-VET and guarantee it to every purchaser. You save both time and freight charges by dealing with us.

OTTO'S PHARMACY

The REXALL Store

Grand Rapids, Wis.

Your Reputation is a Big Asset

Every move you make in business should be to add to that asset. Your name should be as good as gold and as your name. The more checks you put into circulation the more familiar your name becomes to other business men, and your reputation is established through your bank account.

Your Check as Good

DEPOSIT your cash here and get a check book.

The Citizens National Bank

Capital and Surplus $110,000.00

City and County Depository. "Watch Us Grow"

THE OPEN DOOR SILO

AND PAT. DOOR FRAMES FOR SILOS, CEMENTS on first side THE OPEN DOOR SILO CO. VESPER, WOOD CO., WIS.

THE OPEN DOOR SILO

AND PAT. DOOR FRAMES FOR SILOS, CEMENTS on first side THE OPEN DOOR SILO CO. VESPER, WOOD CO., WIS.

THE OPEN DOOR SILO

AND PAT. DOOR FRAMES FOR SILOS, CEMENTS on first side THE OPEN DOOR SILO CO. VESPER, WOOD CO., WIS.

THE OPEN DOOR SILO

AND PAT. DOOR FRAMES FOR SILOS, CEMENTS on first side THE OPEN DOOR SILO CO. VESPER, WOOD CO., WIS.

CONFIDENTIAL

Your neighbor knows nothing about your business at this bank. Every transaction is held in STRICT CONFIDENCE.

Your business is solicited on that basis, courteous treatment and absolute safety.

Wood County National Bank

Grand Rapids, Wis.

Capital and Surplus $200,000.00

A Commercial and Savings Bank.

IM OILING UP FOR A RECORD RUN THEN USE THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW

THE flavor you get in "Right-Cut" is the real tobacco flavor—full and rich.

"Right-Cut" is the Real Tobacco Chew—a new blend of old, mellow, sappy leaf, seasoned and sweetened just enough to bring out all the tobacco flavor.

One 10-cent pouch of "Right-Cut" lasts longer than you can buy for twice the money in the old kind.

The Real Tobacco Chew 10 Cents a Pouch

ASK your dealer today. If he doesn't sell "Right-Cut," send us 10 cents in stamps. We'll send you a pouch.

We guarantee it to be pure chewing tobacco and better than the old kind.

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY

50 Union Square, New York

OTTO'S PHARMACY

The REXALL Store

Grand Rapids, Wis.

Your Reputation is a Big Asset

Every move you make in business should be to add to that asset. Your name should be as good as gold and

Your Check as Good

as your name. The more checks you put into circulation the more familiar your name becomes to other business men, and your reputation is established through your bank account.

DEPOSIT your cash here and get a check book.

The Citizens National Bank

Capital and Surplus $110,000.00

City and County Depository. "Watch Us Grow"

THE OPEN DOOR SILO

AND PAT. DOOR FRAMES FOR SILOS, CEMENTS on first side THE OPEN DOOR SILO CO. VESPER, WOOD CO., WIS.

THE OPEN DOOR SILO

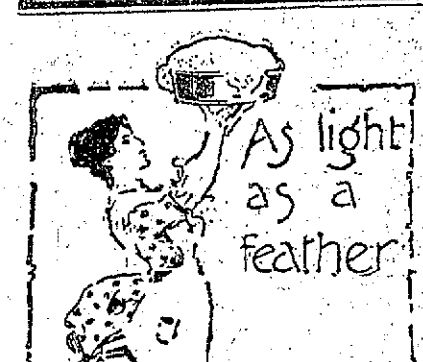

AND PAT. DOOR FRAMES FOR SILOS, CEMENTS on first side THE OPEN DOOR SILO CO. VESPER, WOOD CO., WIS.

THE OPEN DOOR SILO

AND PAT. DOOR FRAMES FOR SILOS, CEMENTS on first side THE OPEN DOOR SILO CO. VESPER, WOOD CO., WIS.

THE OPEN DOOR SILO

AND PAT. DOOR FRAMES FOR SILOS, CEMENTS on first side THE OPEN DOOR SILO CO. VESPER, WOOD CO., WIS.

Above All Other Brands
of flour is the VICTORIA brand. It represents all that is highest and finest in flour. All we ask of you is to give it a trial at your grocer's—after that you will use no other kind. We are sure. One of the greatest merits of our flour is uniformity, one batch of bread is just like another, and all are equal to the best. Just try it and be convinced.

Grand Rapids Milling Co.

STOP LOOK LISTEN

You should worry if you are not carrying any Fire or Life

INSURANCE

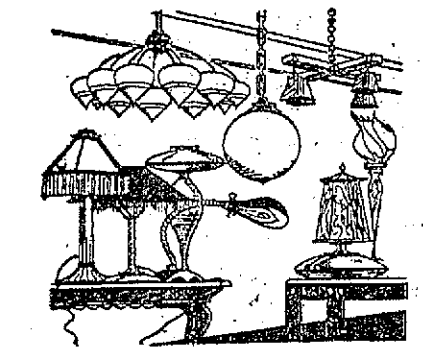

I have been appointed agent for the Travelers Insurance Co. of Hartford. This company leads in age, success, strength and liberality.

Let us quote you rates on Life, Accident and Sick Benefit Insurance.

Edward N. Pomainville

THE REAL ESTATE MAN
Grand Rapids, - Wisconsin

GRAND RAPIDS BEER
PHONE 177
By all means have a case in Your Home

Many Forms of Electric Light

are possible with the aid of appropriate fixtures. You can have the light when you like, where you like and how you like. Why not arrange with us to light your house as it should and can be. We'll supply everything including the light itself and the fixtures of add beauty to its power. You have no idea how moderate the expense will be. Ask about it.

Staub's Electric Shop
127 First St. N. East side

The Badger Shoe Hospital

is now ready for all kinds of shoe repairing. Shoe Repairing with first-class and date shoe machinery.

All Work Guaranteed. Prices Reasonable.

H. NEIMAN, Prop.

Grand Ave., next to Siskies Barber Shop

Kellner Coal Co.

Coal and Wood

Don't Forget US when you need anything in the line of fuel

Telephone 305

Grand Rapids Tribune
BY DRUMB & SUTOR.

Grand Rapids, Wis., Feb. 18, 1914

Entered at the Post Office at Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, as Second Class Mail Matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

One Year, $1.00
Six Months, .60
Three Months, .35
Advertising Rates—For display matter, a full rate of 12 cents an inch is charged. The columns of the Tribune are 24 lines long, making one column advertisement space for one insertion. Additional insertions cost at the same rate. All notices of death, obituaries, etc., are charged at a special rate. An admission fee is charged with each notice.

Correspondents are requested to write on one side of the paper, and to sign their names to communications. It does not matter if you write in code, as long as the name is given, as it will not be published.

DEMOCRATIC STATE PRESS.

After reading some of our "progressive" exchanges' explanations on the tax problem, the Times began to think that possibly it had been on the wrong track. The "progressives" hold that the high tax is a good thing and that the "stalwarts" would keep their noisier bottled. A farmer near Chilton, dropped into our office Wednesday and was told that this cry about high taxes did not amount to anything for at best it was only a stall-wart holler to get the offices. He replied, "It may be a good thing for the man who pays $150.00 on sixty acres of land when power buildings on the same is not a snap. I am not a stall-wart myself but I can holler when I am stuck."—Chilton Times.

Not content with increasing the taxes of Wisconsin by a big margin, the last legislature created an addition to the statutes dealing with the collection of tax monies, which imposes upon the taxpayers of every city, village and town to enforce the payment of taxes not paid by Feb. 1st. It has been the practice in many places to extend the time of making payments beyond the regular time, without additional expense, but a penalty of two per cent is now required from those who do not find themselves able to pay promptly. The increasing taxes in Wisconsin is certainly getting to a point of vexation to property owners and is more than likely to command serious consideration when the army of voters enter the polls at the election next November.—Plymouth Reporter.

How would it be if all legislators elected next fall were pledged to see that about nine-tenths of the present laws of the statute books of Wisconsin be repealed. This would weed the thing out for enforcement. As it now is we have many freak laws that never have been, nor does anyone care to have enforced. Then there is the class of laws that look fair on the face but in reality are almost fakes, like the fee splitting law and the eugenic marriage law. Another law that has never been enforced and as far as we can see never had any sense to it, is the law that forbids a newspaper man to mention tuberculosis or consumption in a news item where one is ill with, or has died, from this disease. So we could go on and name many a law that our state would be better off without. Perhaps the biggest joke of all is the law against the sale of cigarettes and cigarette papers, when you can visit our state capital and find these contraband articles on open sale in the shadow of the state house. Wheels and bugs. That must be what works the gray matter in some of our legislators' craniums.—Iola Herald.

Postponement of Meeting.

Racine, Wis., Feb. 12, 1914.

Kindly notify your readers that the Regular Annual Meeting of The Wisconsin Holstein Breeders' Association, announcement of which was recently sent you to take place at Waukesha, Wis., on March 4, 1914, has been postponed to March 11, 1914. Program for the meeting will soon be ready and will be sent to all who apply for them to the secretary. Postponement is advisable because the meeting on the former date would conflict with the holding of the Pabst Stock Farm Percheron Dispersion Sale at Oconomowoc, which it is likely many Holstein breeders desire to attend.

Very truly yours,

C. Schroeder, Sec.

NOTICE.

To Whom It May Concern:

The name of the Chas. W. Rood Construction company was on the 13th day of January A. D., 1914, changed to the C. W. Rood Construction company, by which name said corporation will be hereafter known and will transact all business. Dated this 28th day of January A. D., 1914.

C. W. ROOD CONSTRUCTION CO.

By Chas. W. Rood, President.

By G. M. Hill, Secretary.

PLEASANT HILL.

The Valentine social at the church was well attended and a good time was had by all.

Will Strope and Henry Whitrock attended an Odd Fellows convention at Stevens Point Friday and Saturday.

Look out for wedding bells in our community. John Geise has moved onto his farm which he recently purchased of John Maxwell.

Several of our farmers attended the Schlough auction Tuesday.

The ladies aid met with Mrs. C. A. Robertson, Tuesday.

August Heyburg is hauling logs to Fenske's mill. He will build a new house this summer at Madison.

Miss Ida Christensen spent Sunday at home.

Fred Fox sold a horse to parties near Vesper Tuesday.

Harry Johnson attended the lecture at Pittsville Saturday evening.

The weather has been the coldest of the past week we have had this winter. Our thermometer registered down to 24 below zero each morning.

Subscribe for the Tribune.

NEARBY PLACES

Farmer Badly Frozen.

Word reached this office from Stratford that John Oberberger, a farmer residing near Stratford, came near losing his life by freezing last Saturday night. Winters he works in the Corn Belt and on the night of the 11th, he left his home at 10 o'clock in the evening for home. This was the last seen of him until about three o'clock the next morning when he was found by his wife lying in the snow by the side of the house. He was nearly unconscious, being so badly frozen, that amputation may be necessary. Saturday night was bitter cold and it is supposed that reaching home he was chilled that he fell in the snow and was unable to rise. He would have perished had not his wife gone out in search of him.—Marshall Herald.

Will Enlarge Hotel.

Owned this week that C. E. Blodgett, owner of the Blodgett Hotel, one of the best hotels in the state, had decided to go ahead with the plans which provide for a modern three-story brick building on Second St. to serve for hotel purposes. Mr. Blodgett confirmed the report. He has also decided to add another story to the Bodega. The second street building will have a nine-foot basement, to be built of brick and cut stone. The dimensions are 36 by 154 feet. This structure will be connected with the main building by a covered corridor at the second floor elevation. This addition will increase the number of guest rooms by forty-six, twenty-four of which will have bath accommodations. All the latest conveniences will be installed.—Marshall News.

Would Change the Game Laws.

(Shawano Journal.)

A movement is on foot for some very radical changes in the state game laws, and an association is already being formed to press measures before the next legislature which, if adopted, will effect these radical changes.

The movement has had its start in Racine county and one of the objects of the association is to protect the songbirds of the state from hunters, but it is also the idea of the organization to protect hunters from careless men and one of the propositions which is embodied in the plan is the giving county clerks of counties the power to decline issuing hunting licenses to irresponsible persons whose carelessness, they think, may result in accidents.

Another feature of the law will be to confer on all owners of agricultural land the right to become game wardens without pay with powers to make arrests on their own lands. This is the portion of the bill which will probably have the most opposition, as it would be a very broad extension of the police powers. One of the arguments in favor of this portion of the law is that it will give farmers a right to arrest people shooting songbirds on their land, and it is said that Racine county farmers have many of them joined the movement for the legislation proposed is obtained they will be able to prevent the destruction of songbirds which, it is claimed, are great protection to the farmer because they eat insects which destroy crops. It is the intention to make the movement for the legislation state wide. All the counties of the state are to be canvassed for signature to the petitions. Already a great number of signatures have been obtained in Racine and Milwaukee counties.

A Wrong Impression.

Some people have somehow got the idea that the new law providing for a county board of education is to do away with district school boards. This new county board of education, consisting of five members, will be elected at the spring election. They will not take the place of any officers now existing. All the school boards will have the same duties and privileges as they now have. These five new county officers will be elected by the county at large, excepting the cities which have city superintendents, and any voter on school matters is eligible to the office.

Home at a Bargain.

Seven room house and one lot on Grand Ave., good repair, built three years ago, good electric lights, water, etc., at the remarkable low price of $1000 if taken at once as owner wants to leave city. This is considerable less than cost of house. A great bargain and a good speculation. C. W. Bender.

Legal Blanks for sale at this office.

Another Early Settler Has Gone.

Hilbert Favorite: Joseph Nilles, a resident of this village for seven years and one of the earliest settlers in this section of the state, died at his home here on Friday evening, after a long illness.

Deceased was born in Germany the 11th day of November, 1832. In 1874 his family emigrated to America and settled on a farm one and one half miles from here, just north of the Math Nilles farm. They resided on the homestead for thirty-three years, then retired from active work and moved to this village. Ten children were born to them of which eight survive. They are: Math of here, John, who conducts a harness shop at Grand Rapids, Nick of North Dakota, Frank, at home; Mrs. Bitten Jaekels of Chilton; Mrs. Nic Britten of Ladysmith; Mrs. Joe Ortig of Crystal Falls, Mich.; and Mrs. Anton Brav of here. His wife, nee Margaret Jaekels, forty-five grand children and one great grand child also survive.

The funeral was held Monday morning at 10:00 o'clock from St. Mary's church. Rev. Max Oswald officiating, with interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

Beside the children, the following from out of town were here: Math Jaekels of Appleton; Mrs. Nic Jaekels and Mr. and Mrs. John Jaekels of Kaukauna; John Brittnacher of Greenleaf; and Wm. Weeks of Chilton.

Deceased was the father of John Nilles, the west side harness maker. Mr. Nilles went down to attend the funeral.

Try a Lucky Sam when you want a good smoke. Only 5 cents.

School Board Proceedings.

Lincoln Building, Grand Rapids, Wis., January 9, 1914.

Regular meeting of the Board of Education was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President I. P. Witter.

The following Commissioners were present: Hill, Reeves, Searls, Ragan, Witter, Kellogg, Rowland, Babcock, Bein, Horton, Johnson, Hatch, and Mellicke (13). Absent, Commissioners Paulus, Nash, and Natwick.

On motion, the reading of the minutes of the regular meeting held January 1, 1914, was dispensed with. It was moved and carried that the regular order of business be changed to give Mr. Warren E. Hicks, State Assistant for Industrial Education, an opportunity to address the Board concerning Continuation and Industrial Schools.

The following bills were then, on motion, allowed and ordered paid:

Chas. W. Rood, 1.00

Tele. Service, 1.32

Grand Rapids School Supply

Co., drawing supplies, 29.76

C. Reiss Coal Co., coal, 316.12

Bossert Bros. Coal Co., hauling and storing coal, 68.95

G. B. & W. R. Co., freight on coal, 148.25

G. R. Foundry Co., furnace

grates, 9.54

F. Lamerton, Grand Rapids, 1.00

F. Sam Church, school supplies, 16.89

G. R. Tribune, school supplies, 3.50

J. A. Staub, electrical supplies, 15.26

Grand Rapids Plumbing & Heating Co., repairs, 14.36

Lewis Schroeder, Emerson re-

F. L. Stahl, supplies, 1.76

D. M. Huntington, guage glass

D. M. Huntington, guage

glass, 7.5

McCamley & Pomainville Haw

Co., Hardware, 1.91

Wood County Reporter, printing, 5.70

Natwick Electric Co. electrical

supplies, 28.46

John Nilles, gymnasium repairs, 1.40

Nash Hdwy. Co., Engineer's

supplies, 4.25

Electric & Water, lights and power, 71.84

Wood Co. Telephone Co., telephone rentals, 9.00

Mrs. G. S. Beardsley, Domestic

Science supplies, 7.98

Wells, Fargo & Co. Express,

express, .23

Standard Varnish Works,

Man. Tr. supplies, 14.25

Associated Mfg. Co., janitors

supplies, 12.00

O. C. Davis, repairs, 2.98

and toward Oil Co. gasoline, 25.60

A. C. McClurg & Co., books, 4.02

Normington Bros., laundry,

Lyons & Carnahan, typewriting manuals, 1.55

American Association for Labor Legislation, books, 3.00

Woelz Bros., Commercial Department file, .75

Gregg-Pub. Co., Commercial

books, 5.24

Johnson, Hill Co. supplies, 25.58

Lewis J. Eron, plumbing, Low oil, 21.95

Wm. Burchell, drayage and freight, 10.43

W. F. Nolter, night man,

January, 21.00

Wm. Dahlke, boiler repairs, 3.50

American Express Co., express, .89

First National Bank, January

interest, 153.96

It was moved and carried that the bill from the City Water Works for water used in the various schools from July first to December 31st, be referred to the Finance Committee to take up the matter with the management of the Grand Rapids Water Works.

On motion, the Chairman of the Committee on Buildings and Grounds was empowered to install a 15 horse motor to run the ventilating fan in the Lincoln high school. The chairman of the Committee on Buildings and Grounds was further instructed, on motion, to supply a suitable truck for the use of the firemen in the boiler room.

Motion to adjourn, was then carried.

(Signed) Isaac P. Witter, President.

W. Schwede, Clerk of Board of Education.

BIRON.

Joe Grandshaw and Nick Marceau of Rudolph were in our burg Sunday.

Mrs. Shaurette has gone to Rudolph with her household goods to be shipped to Canada. Mrs. Shaurette is to leave for Canada in a few days.

Peter Akey is now busy cutting ice below the dam for the people of Rudolph.

Dave Sharkey quit his job on the beaters and is now unloading pulp.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Will of Eau Claire are here for a few weeks at the A. L. Akey home and family.

Eugene Crotteau and W. J. Pobart's Mrs. Pobart and Mrs. Crotteau are sisters of Mrs. Will.

Andrew Gulganski was at home in your city Saturday and Sunday.

Clarence Wellner was home Saturday and Sunday at Port Edwards to visit with his family. Mr. Wellner is to move here soon.

Joe Ebacher is now loading cord wood for the company.

Milo Brown was on the sick list Saturday.

Geo. Bates of your city was calling on friends a few hours the past week.

Curtis Crotteau has disposed of his saloon property to some party the past week.

The box party at the school house was well attended and everybody reports having had a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Will will soon leave after their visit in our burg.

Muscatine, Iowa, where they will make their home on a nice place which Mr. Will recently bought.

All our best wishes go with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Urbanowski were in your city Saturday night at their parents' and Mrs. James Klappa.

Fred Trudell was in our burg on Sunday and stopped at his old boarding place for a while.

Mrs. Chet Atwood was in your city Saturday shopping.

Frank Carlson and his girl took in the show in your city Saturday night.

Albert Flick says he has some chickens that will break all records around here. He says his chickens will lay eggs the year round without setting. It's a good one on you Albert. Come again.

We don't suppose the eugenists ever have in mind anything as radical as triplets.—Toledo Blade.

ANCIENT ADVICE STILL GOOD

Each succeeding age gets a deal of satisfaction out of thinking itself a much-improved edition of the age gone before. Sometimes it is good for us to get behind a simple fact of life and to realize that save for the more hurried stride of business due to the application of power to machinery, we have not gone so very far after all beyond either the practice or the vision of the men of old.

A book called, "Roman Farm Management," lies on the writer's table. It is a translation from the Latin of Cato and Varro, Cato lived during the third century of the birth of Christ, Varro died twenty-seven years before the beginning of the Christian era. Like the more cultured Romans of their day, both of these men were farmers—farm managers, more correctly speaking—and a considerable part of their writings were about farm matters. Here is some good advice for the 1914 buyer of a farm:

"When you have decided to purchase a farm, be sure that you buy wisely; do not spare your visits and be not content with a single tour of inspection. The more you go, the more the place will please you, if it be worth your attention. A good farm is worth your attention of the neighborhood, a flourishing country should suit its prosperity. When you go in, look about, so that, when needs be, you can find your way out."

"Take care that you choose a good climate, not subject to destructive storms, and a soil that is naturally strong. If possible, your farm should be at the foot of a mountain, looking to the south, in a high situation, where labor and cattle can be had, well watered, near a good sized town, and either on the sea or a navigable river, or else on a good and much frequented road. Choose a place which is often changed ownership, one which is sold unwillingly, that has buildings in good repair."

Again Cato is speaking about the proper location for a building site. He says: "Choose the best to locate the standing at the foot of a wooded hill where the pastures are rich, and turn it so as to catch the healthiest prevailing breeze. The best situation is facing the east, so to secure shade in summer and sun in winter. But if you must build on the bank of a river take care that you do not let the standing face the river, for it will be very cold in winter and unhealthy in summer. Like precautions must be taken against swampy places for the same reasons and particular precautions must be taken against swampy places which cannot be seen with the eyes and which breed miasmas, causing disease and death. The body where they cause grave maladies."

"But," said Plutarchus, "suppose I inherited a farm like that, what should I do to avoid the miasma?" He describes a way of avoiding it, but that is question is easy, said Agrius. "You should sell the farm for what you can get for it; and if you can't sell it, give it away."

It is questionable whether, either in ancient knowledge or in modern, we have advanced far beyond these standards, despite our germ theories of disease and our theological opinions concerning original sin. But this interesting account, which might be lengthened almost indefinitely, would be most incomplete without the following advice from Varro concerning cattle: "The who wishes to buy a herd of great cattle should take care first that they are of an age to produce rather than aged, bony, large, with black horns and broad brows, large black eyes, hairy eyes, dark cheeks, and a thick coat of hair, but rather with the back bone slightly rounded, wide nostrils, blackish lips, a neck muscular and long with deep laps hanging from it, the barrel large and well ribbed, the shoulders broad and the quarters good, a tail sweeping the heels, the legs rather short and straight with knees projecting a little and well separated, the feet narrow and not inclined to spread, the walking, the hoofs not being splayed but consisting of light and even bones, and a hide which is not rough and hard to the touch. The best color is black, next red, third chestnut, and lastly white. A white coat indicates weakness, as black indicates endurance; of the other two colors red is more common than chestnut, and both then black and white. In addition you should be purchasing a bull, the bull is of should be purchasing a bull, the bull is of good breed, which is determined from his conformation and his get, as calves usually reproduce the qualities of their sire."

Try this standard out in your herd, and see whether Mr. Varro of 120 B. C. would be eligible to membership in a keen, up-to-date live stock breeders' association of two thousand years beyond his time.

—Farm, Stock and Home.

Farm Houses Lighted.

With the immense water powers everywhere in northern Wisconsin, it is only a matter of a very short time until every farm house will be lighted by electricity and certain machinery operated. There is not a town in Chippewa county that has not a stream running thru it that if dammed could not supply the farmers of the town with light and power. Through many of the towns electric wires are already strung, and it is only a matter of a few years when the price will be so low that the farmers will find it profitable to tap the wires. The uses to which electricity could be applied are almost numberless. It would furnish power for operating cream separators, churns, washing machines, ice cream freezers, vacuum cleaners, electric flat-irons and many other things that might be used upon a large farm.

Chippewa Electric Light and Power Co.

The above is an optimistic view of what is likely to largely prevail in the water power districts of upper Wisconsin.—Wisconsin Advancement Association Bulletin.

Subscribe for the Tribune.

A Spade and an Acre.

I believe in a spade and an acre of ground. Who cuts a straight path to his own living by the help of God, in the sun and rain and sprouting grain, seems to me to be a universal working man. He solves the problem of life, not for one but for all men of sound body.—Emerson.

Feb. 11. Order Limiting Time to Present Claims and Notice to Creditors.

State of Wisconsin, Wood County, in Court.

In the Matter of the Estate of Della A. Bassett, Deceased.

Letters of Administration on the estate of Della A. Bassett, late of Wood County, Wisconsin, deceased, having been duly granted to Mary Barrette by this court.

IT IS ORDERED, That the time from the date of the granting of said letters, to the 17th day of August, A. D., 1914, be and the same is hereby fixed as the time within which all creditors of the said Della A. Bassett, deceased, shall present their claims and demands of all persons against the said Della A. Bassett, deceased, be examined and adjusted before this court, at its Court House in the City of Grand Rapids, in said County, on the 1st Tuesday of September, 1914, and all creditors are hereby notified thereof.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place at which said claims and demands will be examined and adjusted as aforesaid, and of the time and place at which creditors are to present their claims and demands, be given by publishing a copy of this order and notice, in each week, in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in the County of Wood, the first publication to be within fifteen days of the date hereof, and of the first Tuesday of the date hereof, day of February,

For Sale Cheap.
—Full sized S. C. R. I. Red
seahorse. Call and get a bargain.
Hurry for sale after 15th of March.
335-10th avenue south, Mrs. E. Sherman.

Don't Forget the Number—
ONE-FOUR-SIX
FIRST STREET NORTH

Sam's Shop!
Cabinet and Repair Work,
Picture Framing, Etc.
Agency for the
Waterbury Sanitary Chemical Closet
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

Unfinished Work
won't worry you when we get the order.
We put jobs through as quickly as possible, and we don't slight them, either. We don't have to fool around considering how this or that should be done, but we know how soon as we see it. Let us fill your pipes with smoke, we can tell in ten minutes if your Plumbing
is defective, and just what it will cost
to fix it.
Prompt Efficient Service
LEWIS J. ERON,
Practical Plumber
Phone 578 3rd Ave. S. near Grand Ave.

Walking the Floor
Did you ever get worried about money matters and walk the floor?
You can fortify yourself against adversity by building up a bank account. It can be done a little at a time and you'll take a mighty big satisfaction in it. When are you going to begin?
First National Bank,
Grand Rapids, Wis.
"The bank that does things for you."

Our Prescription Work
is a combination of pure drugs, skilled compounding and unceasing care.
If your prescription is to do the work
intended it must be just as the doctor orders. Send it here and you'll be absolutely sure of getting it so.
SAM CHURCH
PRESCRIPTION DRUGGIST.
Dealer in Amoco Cameras, Camera Supplies, Stationery, Combs and Brushes, Toilet
Soaps, Toilet Waters, Perfumes, Rubber Goods, Toilet Creams, School Supplies, etc.—Chicago, Boston and Patent Medicines.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Henry Nehman visited in Kenosha several days the past week.

City Treasurer Joe Wheeler has his nomination papers out for re-election.

Game Warden Will Cole of Vesper was in the city Monday on business.

Herman Binnehouse has his nomination papers out for alderman in the Eighth ward.

Miss C. A. Laurie of Sturgeon Bay arrived in the city on Thursday to visit with relatives for a time.

Miss Bessie Parrish, who has been attending the Stout Institute has finished her course and returned home last week.

George Steris of Junction City was a business visitor in the city on Wednesday. While here he paid the Tribune office a pleasant call.

Phil Griffin of Marshall spent several days in the city during the past week visiting with friends. He returned home on Monday.

W. A. Meyers, one of the rising young farmers of the town of Hansen, was among the business callers at the Tribune office on Wednesday.

W. H. Carey departed on Sunday evening for Chicago where he will attend the National Concrete Show National Concrete show which is in session at the Coliseum.

M. C. Flanagan, editor of the Wauwesa News, spent Thursday in this city looking after some business matters. While here he favored the Tribune with a pleasant call.

J. K. P. Hiles of Dexterville spent Thursday and Friday in this city looking after some business matters. Mr. Hiles has been considerably under the weather for some time past, but is somewhat better now.

A Missouri editor, who believes in all the comforts of home, says: "We would prefer living in a small town where the people will sympathize with you in trouble, and if you have no trouble, they will hunt some up for you."

—Take advantage of the low prices. Only $1.95 for the Wales-Goodyear and Gold Seal rubbers at Zimmerman's.

James Klappa, who moved to Stevens Point from Byron several months ago where he has since conducted a barber shop, has moved back to this city and has opened up a shop in the Haylock building on the west side.

Dave Woodruff, Jr., of Vesper was a pleasant caller at this office on Friday while in the city having some dental work done. Mr. Woodruff reports the sale of his E. M. F. Touring car to Herb Bean who will use same in connection with his livery at Vesper.

Fire destroyed the planing mill of the Arpin Lumber Company at Atlanta. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is $35,000 covered by insurance. As soon as the insurance can be adjusted work on the rebuilding of the plant will be commenced.

Ben Smart returned Thursday from his trip to Madison, where he had been to attend the meeting of independent telephone companies held in that city on Wednesday and Thursday. He reports a very good attendance and some fine and instructive meetings.

A pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Mayne Martin and Miss Lizette Veske on Wednesday evening, about thirty guests being present and taking part in a Valentine party. The house had been appropriately decorated for the occasion and the evening was spent in playing games and kindred amusements.

Officer Roland Payne received a message on Monday from Clouet, Minn., stating that his brother, Lee Payne, was seriously ill with typhoid fever and that after a consultation of physicians he was taken to the hospital at Duluth for treatment. Mr. Payne has been employed in the paper mill out there for the past two years.

District Attorney Briere has notified the saloon keepers of Marshall that they must close their places of business hereafter on Sunday. This is the result of a complaint by Rev. Ambrose. Some of the saloon men there who sent the key to their place up in a saloon when they opened up many years ago will now have to place a lock on the front door.

The Wood County Telephone company has contracted for a Ford Roadster for spring delivery. The machine will be fitted up with a box on the back so that it can be used as a light truck for the transportation of men, tools and supplies. It is figured that the time saved in making long trips and the saving on livery will more than pay for the operation of a truck.

Up at Mosinee the people made a kick to the Railroad Commission on the charge for electric light, so the commission went into the matter and after they had thrashed it out the rates were raised instead of lowered. Under the old scale the charge had been 12c per kilowatt and under the new scale it is 12c per kilowatt, with a sliding scale reduction in larger quantities.

Frank Gill, has accepted a position as salesman for the Indiana Indestructible Paint Co., of Chicago. He spent Saturday and Sunday in the city visiting with his father and calling on local dealers. He has the state of Wisconsin for his territory.

Mrs. M. O. Lind returned to her home at Hillsboro, on Saturday after spending two weeks, visiting with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. John Schnabel. She was accompanied home by Mr. Lind, who arrived in the city on Thursday.

One of the saloonkeepers of this city has posted the following in his saloon: "Notice to all:—Posted men are requested not to enter or loiter in my place. Also, all minors unless accompanied by parent or guardian." If all saloonkeepers in the state would give this notice, and then enforce it, many of them would have less trouble with the law officers than they are now having. Many licenses in different parts of the state have been revoked during the past year because of the sale of intoxicants to minors.—Stevens Point Journal.

Barney St. Denis, of Rudolph was a pleasant caller at this office on Saturday.

James Luft of Madison is visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. D. D. Conway.

Matt Prince of the town of Sigel was among the callers at the Tribune office on Monday.

J. R. Merriam of the town of Seneca was among the pleasant callers at the Tribune office on Monday.

Henry F. Knuth has sold his home on Tenth St. south to Mrs. Martin of Nekoma. Consideration $1500.

Atty. Geo. L. Williams was in Marshall several days this week looking after some legal matters.

Mrs. Nic Reiland and daughter Gertrude visited with relatives in Appleton several days the past week.

Huntington & Lessig have sold Ford touring cars last week to Blanchard Bros., Fred Fritz, and L. G. Bartlett at Ottville.

Miss Irene Oelan was operated upon for appendicitis at Riverview hospital last Wednesday and has since been getting along nicely.

Dr. Fred Warsinski of Marshall has been appointed agent of the Wisconsin Humane Society of Wood County, by Gov. McFarland.

Rogers Mott is having plans drawn for a new home which he contemplates building this summer on his lots in the Lyon Park Addition.

George Moulton sold his home the past week to Henry Yetter. Mr. Moulton is considering moving to Chicago. He retains possession of his place until June 1st.

—We saw your rubber tops on free at Zimmerman's. $1.95 for the Red Seal and Wales-Goodyear rubbers now.

F. J. Wood is reported to be gradually recovering from his recent illness and will soon be able to be out again. His many friends will be pleased to hear that he is mending so nicely.

John O'Day, of Merrill, and Assemblyman from Lincoln county, is being prominently mentioned by his numerous friends in this part of the state for an important place on the democratic state ticket next fall.

Fred Garbrecht, one of the solid farmers of the town of Sigel called at this office on Friday to advance his subscription for another year. Mr. Garbrecht shipped a full blooded Holstein bull calf on Friday to his Pohl at Randolph.

The post-office department has decided that babies are not suitable. The decision was brought about by a party in Oklahoma, who wanted to send a 2 year old child by parcel post, and as the postmaster refused to accept the "package," the higher authorities were appealed to and they rendered a decision in the matter.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wursch, who have been making their home at Center Point, Ind., for some past, returned to this city last Saturday and expect to remain here. While they found the climate in Indiana more salubrious than in Wisconsin there were other drawbacks that made it seem good to get back to Wisconsin.

The village of Friendship boasts the most unusual school house in the state. Last fall, with the prospects of the village's rapid growth, a two-story school house was ordered. The contractors, however, were unable to construct more than the basement when cold weather arrived, so the foundation was hastily roofed over and divided into two compartments, a study and a recitation room. There are about 35 students climbing the "flowery path of knowledge" in the queer school building.

The head of the Medical Department of the State University is sending out letters of thanks to undertakers throughout the state who have responded to the law in sending bodies to be used as cadavers for students to study over. The law requires that bodies not claimed by relatives must be sent to Madison for that purpose, provided that the deceased, before passing away does not request burial. State and county institutions have shipped many bodies and the total number received last year was 522.

Gold Seal and Wales-Goodyear rubbers for $1.95 at the Zimmerman shoe store. Tops sewed on free.

In addition to the eugenics marriage law which went into effect January 1st, there is another change to the marriage law which has become effective on that date. First cousins are not allowed to marry in Wisconsin since January 1st, a law to that effect having been passed by the last legislature. Heretofore the marriage of first cousins has always been allowed in this state. Under the new law no relatives nearer than the fourth degree, second cousins, will be granted licenses to wed. The new Wisconsin law in this respect, is very similar to the statute of other states on this subject.

Watertown Times:—Miss Martha H. Kuehl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kuehl of Grand Rapids, and Mr. Franklin Zuehlke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Zuehlke of this city, were married Monday evening at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kronitz, North Fourth street, where she had made her home for some time. Bishop Karl Mueller performed the ceremony. The bride couple were attended by Miss Grethel Kronitz and Mr. Herman Harber, cousin and brother of the bride. Following the ceremony a reception was tendered the young couple at the Kronitz home. They will live at Wausau and will be at home to their friends after April 1.

In the Future.
And then, again, when the suffragists assume control of things in this country and we have a woman president, we may perhaps expect to see a cabinet made up of the following:
Secretary of Millinery.
Secretary of Social Functions.
Secretary of Drawn.
Secretary of Eugenics.
Secretary of Cosmetics and Manicuring.
Secretary of Bridge Whist.
Secretary of Physical Research.
Ethical Culture General.
Secretary of Music and Art.
Sociological Problem General.

—Legal blanks for sale at this office.

MORE CONCERNING THE BEELL-MAMUTOFF MATCH
Marshall Herald:—As a sequel to our item in last week's Herald telling of Beell's victory on the mat over Mamutoff, the big Russian, at Kansas City on January 19th, comes the following story from the Kansas City Star, published the morning after the match:
"A corking good little man made a great big man—not so corking good by any means—look like a mussy piece of Roquefort in Convention Hall last night, and now the Honorable Gutch can remain on his farm and count the pigs.
Mamutoff, the 330 pounds of the Armour product, can return to Russia in the steerage; Freddie Beell will do what little collecting there is to be pulled off in the wrestling line during the balance of the season. And right now let's apologize to the Roquefort, Mamutoff looked more like the holes in a giant Swiss cheese.
Like nearly all foreign wrestlers, Mamutoff knew nothing of the catch-as-catch-can style of wrestling and he was as slow as a one-legged horse. There is such a thing as too much beef. However, the Russian fooled a large and delighted audience. Those who saw him throw Marvin Busch a month ago firmly believed that he was too ponderous for Beell and they only assembled in the hall to cheer the little fellow and see the fun. In fact, Beell probably was the only party interested who felt like a winner. It is a certainty that Jack Herman never felt for the moment that his man was going to lose, for he had had that feeling he never would have consented to a match with the "Giant Killer" Mamutoff was brought to America and was being groomed for the big match with Gutch. Beell was only being used to pave the way for high finance. The Russian was the "cousin nominee" for the big show to be staged later on, and one little insurance policy bolted the "bosses" ticket and scrambled a healthy looking layout.
Beell will now have to "rattle" Americans. It is a certainty that none of the foreigners—barring Zybko—will hanker after any of his game. A foreigner once defeated doesn't amount to much over here. They come to America heralded as champions and as being in the undefeated class. Europe is a long way off, and we can't tell much about records printed in foreign languages. Undoubtedly they are champions and undefeated in the Graeco-Roman class.
Mamutoff came heralded as the strongest man in the wrestling game. He looked the part, but as he didn't get hold of the slippery Beell we have no positive line of his strength. The Russian only showed one thing plainly an dthat is that he didn't know anything about the catch-as-catch-can style of wrestling.
If Gutch really intends to stay in retirement the United States has a pretty good representative in this about wrestling as the champion and Beell person. He knows just as much he is pretty strong too. Beell's weight, always has been considered against him, but he had plenty of bulk last night for the foreign importation.
The crowd last night was immensely pleased with the result. They didn't expect Beell to win, but they were there in large numbers to pull for him to the limit."

Chicago American:—"Fred Beell, Wisconsin's speed marvel, outstrangled 'Strangler' Ed. Lewis in their final wrestling match at the Empire Theatre last night, trimming the Lexington man in the final two out of three after one of the most sensational contests seen here in some time. Lewis won the first fall by outwrestling Beell and winning the toss with an arm scissors and a wrist lock, obtained flying.
The fall came from a standing position and as Lewis, through sheer luck, was on top at the time, he had 90 per cent the advantage and caught Beell a trifle stunned as the result of the heavy drop to the quilting. The times of the falls were 9:31, 11:31, and 14:35.
But after that there was little to it. The sensational Kentuckian, always winning or losing with something out of the ordinary, was caught open-jawed by Beell with a desperately fought head-lock. Beell got his forearm across Lewis' head and thru the gaping jaw in such a way that the Southerner writhed in pain and signalled immediately to the referee for help.
The third fall was a dandy encounter for a time, with both men working desperately. The now confident Beell having found all that Lewis had, started after the old familiar Gutch toe hold, and getting it on suddenly, switched it to a cross-body and flopped the gasping Lewis hard."

A recent study of 200 boys of a criminal school showed that 85 had drunkards for parents, 24 had an insane father or mother, 52 had parents afflicted with epilepsy or nervous diseases. Commonly the criminal is the wreckage left from abnormal or degenerate parents.

Celebrate Silver Wedding.
Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Schlophoff of Lohrville celebrated their silver wedding on Tuesday, February 10th. The home had been very prettily decorated in silver and green, and the bride was dressed in light gray satin, trimmed with silver. A seven course dinner was served and the evening was spent in dancing at the Lohrville hall to the music of the Berlin seven-piece harp orchestra. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents which will serve as remembrances of the occasion. Miss Emma Schlophoff, their only child was present at the festivities, as well as friends from Grand Rapids, Red Granite, Perth, Spring Lake, Princeton, Green Lake, Fond du Lac, Chicago, Des Plaines, Ill., Davenport, Ia., Fort Wayne, Ind., and Powell, S. D. All had a most delightful time and it was one of the most notable events in the history of Lohrville.

Worth Knowing.
The third finger is the only one where two principal nerves belong to two distinct trunks; the thumb is supplied with its principal nerves from the radial nerve, as are also the forefinger, the middle finger, and the thumb side of the ring finger, while the ulnar nerve furnishes the little finger and the other side of the ring finger, at the point of extremity of which a real union takes place; it seems as if it were intended by nature to be the matrimonial finger.

—Call at the new east side market. Stewart & Edwards. Nothing but the best meats.

MEEHAN
E. J. Thompson has been working ever in the vicinity of Plover the past week or two.

R. W. Parks is getting material ready to build a new silo this coming summer. Silos are proving a great success in this section where hay is hard to get.

Rev. Raymond held church Sunday morning. The attendance was small owing to bad weather.

Mrs. Allen Clendenning is quite seriously ill at this writing being confined to the bed for the past week. There was a dance at the hall Saturday night which was enjoyed by quite a crowd of young people.

It may be of interest to those who have logs to saw to know that a portable saw-mill will be temporarily located on the John Clauser farm this spring.

The play entitled Diamonds and Hearts, which has been arranged by the teacher and young people will be given at the school house, Feb. 28th.

Cast of characters as follows:
Hermion Hale—A young lady of eighteen, with an affection of the heart, a love of fun and a hatred of arithmetic—Nellie Chusman.
Amy Hulse—Her sister, two years younger, fond of frolic—Grace "Jussan" Jones.
Jack Gray—A young lady visiting to share in the fun—Jennie Fox.
Mrs. Hulse—A widow and step mother to the Hulse girls—Miss Nutt.
Hannah Mary Barnes, or B—A maiden lady who keeps house for her brother—Anna Walters.
Twilight Bradley—A fortune hunter and Mrs. Hulse's son by a former marriage—Charlie Chusman.
Dr. Burton—A young physician—Denals Parks.
Sammy—The darky bell-boy in the Hal road house—Garrett Fox.
Abraham Barnes, or B—A Yankee farmer still unmurdered at forty. A diamond in the rough—Clinton Chusman.
Attorney—Donald Fox.
Sheriff—Fred Fox.

Let Me Be Your Decorator
The richest wall hanging can't make up for poor workmanship. And, on the other hand, good workmanship can't make up for poor quality wall paper. You need both good wall paper and good workmanship, and the way to get them is to call on us. The Laramie Paper Line which we handle offers the finest ideas in wall colorings. Let us help you pick out an attractive color scheme for your rooms and give you the best prices, as well as the best quality of paper.
N. LARAMIE
Painter and Decorator
See our 1914 Sample Wall Paper Books, all styles of paper at COST.
Telephone No. 89

MUSLIN UNDERWEAR SALE
at
COHEN BROS.
Department Store

WE just received our new line of Ladies' Muslin Underwear, consisting of Princess Slips, Combinations, Chemise, Drawers, Night Gowns, Corset Covers and Brassiers and they should meet with a hearty welcome on the part of all Grand Rapids maids and matrons. It will pay you to inspect our under-muslin offerings while this sale is in progress. We'll have values very much out of the ordinary for you.—Below we quote some of the bargains:

Ladies' muslin petticoats, trimmed with lace and embroidery worth 75c sale	48c
Ladies' muslin corset covers, trimmed with lace and embroidery sale	19c
Ladies' muslin night gowns, neatly trimmed during this sale	39c
Ladies' muslin brassiers, boned and trimmed sale	12c
Children's muslin petticoats, pants and under waists during this sale	23c
Corset cover embroidery, 18 inches wide, new patterns sale	10c

We just received our new spring line of dress goods, wash goods, new crepes and plain and figured Ratine, Honey Comb, etc. Our prices are within reach of all and we have only one price to all.

Come and look over our new spring line of children's wash dresses
48c to $1.48

Cohen Bros.

Our Prices Get Us the Trade
You cannot buy a foot of lumber anywhere else cheaper than you can from us. And most always you will find our prices lower than you can get elsewhere. That is why we are doing the bulk of the lumber business in this vicinity.

But don't lose sight of this fact: QUALITY IS OUR LONG SUITE. Our policy is to always give a little better material than others sell for the same money. It will pay you to come to us for your lumber and building material of all kinds.

W. A. MARLING LUMBER CO.
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

Skin Sufferers—Read!

We want all skin sufferers who have suffered for many years the tortures of disease and who have sought medical aid in vain, to read this.

We are old established druggists of this community, wish to recommend to you a product that has given many relief and may mean the end of your misery. The product is a mild, simple wash, not a patent medicine concocted of various worthless drugs, but a scientific compound made of well known antiseptic ingredients. It is made in the D.D.D. Laboratories of Chicago and is called the D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema.

This is a doctor's special prescription—one that has effected many wonderful cures.

The effect of D. D. D. is to soothe instantly, as soon as applied; then it penetrates the pores, destroys, and throws off all disease germs and leaves the skin clean and healthy.

We are so confident of the marvellous power of D. D. D. that we have taken advantage of the manufacturers' guarantee to offer you a full-size bottle on trial. You are to judge the merit of the remedy in your own particular case. If it doesn't help you, it costs you nothing.

D. D. D. Soap is made of the same healing ingredients. Ask us about it.

J. E. DALY, Druggist, Grand Rapids, Wis.

Do the right thing and do it right NOW

We urge you to start an account with this bank NOW. We know you will say we are right, later. You need the service we can render—that we do render to all our customers.

Bank of Grand Rapids,
WEST SIDE

Who's Who?
We are The People Who Sell GOOD COAL
What's What?
The Coal We Sell Is the Best That's Mined, And that You Know, Is THE ONLY KIND!
Fill Up Your Bins!
BOSSERT COAL CO.
Phone 416 Residence 54

An Irish Man Fell Out with a Frenchman and was challenged to fight a duel. He selected shilleleghs, but the Frenchman's second informed him that he must choose some kind of a weapon that was familiar to Frenchmen. "Faith, then," retorted the Celt; "we'll fight with guillotine!"

It is a very hard matter to down an Irishman with any kind of a weapon, especially if it be a battle of repartee or ready wit. We are invincible at the Kellogg Yards on one thing—the logic of facts and fair prices. You can't beat them on those, so please drop in and scrap it out with the boss. He'll give and take with you.

Ben-the-Booster, with
KELLOGG BROS. LUMBER CO.

LELOFF, The Tailor,
Maker of Guaranteed Clothes.
Grand Ave., West Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Could be restored to the Sheep From which it was clipped. There would be quite a flock Thus doubly equipped.

Sotto Voce—When we say it's wool, it's wool!

Yours truly,

For Sale Cheap—
Full blooded S. C. R. I. Red cockerels. Call and get a bargain.
Eggs for sale after 15th of March.
326-8th avenue south, Mrs. E. Sherman.

Don't Forget the Number—
ONE-FOUR-SIX
FIRST STREET NORTH

Sam's Shop!

Cabinet and Repair Work,
Picture Framing, Etc.

Agency for the
Waterbury Sanitary Chemical Closet

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

Unfinished Work

won't worry you when we get the order. We put jobs through as quickly as possible, and we don't slight them,
either. We don't have to fool around considering how this or that should be done, but we know how as soon as we see it. Let us fill your pipes with smoke, we can tell in ten minutes if you're

Plumbing
is defective, and just what it will cost
to fix it.

Prompt Efficient Service
LEWIS J. ERON,
Practical Plumber

Phone 578 3rd Ave. S. near Grand Ave.

LOCAL ITEMS

Henry Newman visited in Kenosha
several days the past week.

City Treasurer Joe. Wheeler has his nomination papers out for re-election.

Game Warden Will Cole of Vesper was in the city Monday on business.

Herman Binneboese has his nomination papers out for alderman in the Eighth ward.

Miss C. A. Laurie of Sturgeon Bay arrived in the city on Thursday to visit with relatives for a time.

Miss Beagle Farwell, who has been attending the Stout Institute has finished her course and returned home last week.

George Stertz of Junction City was a business visitor in the city on Wednesday. While here he paid the Tribune office a pleasant call.

Phil Griffin of Marshfield spent several days in the city during the past week visiting with friends. He returned home on Monday.

W. A. Meyers, one of the rising young farmers of the town of Haas-en, was among the business callers at the Tribune office on Wednesday.

W. H. Carey departed on Sunday evening for Chicago where he will attend the National Concrete show National Concrete show which is in session at the Coliseum.

M. C. Flanagan, editor of the Manawa News, spent Thursday in this city looking after some business matters. While here he favored the Tribune with a pleasant call.

J. K. P. Hiles of Dexterville spent
Thursday and Friday in this city
looking after some business matters.
Mr. Hiles has been considerably impaired by the weather for some time past,
but is somewhat better now.

A Missouri editor, who believes in all the comforts of home, says: "We would prefer living in a small town
where the people will sympathize with you in trouble, and if you have no trouble, they will hunt some up
for you."

"Take advantage of the low prices. Only $1.95 for the Wale-goodyear and Gold Seal rubbers at Zimmerman's."

James Klappa, who moved to Stevens Point from Biron several months ago, where he has since conducted a barber shop, has moved back to this city and has opened up a shop in the Haydock building on the west side.

Dave Woodruff, Jr., of Vesper was a pleasant caller at this office on Friday while in the city having some business work done. Mr. Woodruff reports the sale of his E. M. F. Touring car to Herb Bean who will use same in connection with his livery
at Vesper.

Fire destroyed the planing mill of
the Arpin Lumber Company at Atlanta. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is $35,000 covered by insurance. As soon as the insurance can be adjusted work on the rebuilding of the plant will be commenced.

Ben Smart returned Thursday
from his trip to Madison, where he had been to attend the meeting of independent telephone companies held in that city on Wednesday and Thursday. He reports a very good attendance and some fine and intriguing meetings.

A pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Mayne Martin and Miss Lizette Yeske on Wednesday evening, about thirty guests being present and taking part in a Valentine party. The house had been appropriately decorated for the occasion and the evening was spent in playing games and kindred amusements.

Officer Roland Payne received a message on Monday from Clouet, Minn., stating that his brother, the Payne, was seriously ill with typhoid fever and that after a consultation of physicians he was taken to the hospital at Duluth for treatment. Mr.
Payne has been employed in the paper mill out there for the past two years.

District Attorney Briere has notified the saloon keepers of Marshfield that they must close their places of business hereafter on Sunday. This is the result of a complaint by Rev.
Ambrose. Some of the saloon men
there who sent the key to their place
up in a balloon when they opened up many years ago will now have to place a lock on the front door.

The Wood County Telephone company has contracted for a Ford Roadster for spring delivery. The machine will be fitted up with a box on the back so that it can be used as a light truck for the transportation of men, tools and supplies. It is expected that the time saved in making long trips and the saving in livery will more than pay for the operation of a truck.

Up at Mosinee the people made a kick to the Railroad Commission on the charge for electric light, so the commission went into the matter
and after they had threshed it out
the rates were raised instead of lowered. Under the old scale the charge had been 12c per kilowatt and under the new scale it is 13c per kilowatt
as an initial charge, up to 9 kilowatts, with a sliding scale reduction in larger quantities.

Frank Gill, has accepted a position as salesman for the Indiana Indestructible Paint Co., of Chicago. He spent Saturday and Sunday in the city visiting with his father and calling on local dealers. He has the state of Wisconsin for his territory.

Mrs. M. O. Lind returned to her home at Hillsboro, on Saturday after spending two weeks, visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schnabel. She was accompanied home by Mr. Lind, who arrived in the city on Thursday.

One of the saloonkeepers of this city has posted the following in his saloon: "Notice to all:—Posted men
are requested not to enter or loiter
in my place. Also, all minors unless accompanied by parent or guardian."
If all saloonkeepers in the state would give this notice, and then enforce it, many of them would have less trouble with the law officers than they are now having. Many licenses in different parts of the state have been revoked during the past year because of the sale of intoxicants to minors.—Stevens Point Journal.

Barney St. Denis, of Rudolph, was a pleasant caller at this office on Saturday.

James Luff of Madison is visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs.
D. D. Conway.

Matt Prince of the town of Sigel was among the callers at the Tribune office on Monday.

J. R. Merriam of the town of Seneca was among the pleasant callers at the Tribune office on Monday.

Henry F. Knuth has sold his home on 10th St. south to Mrs. Martin of Nekeoma. Consideration $1500.

Atty. Geo. L. Williams was in Marshfield several days this week looking after some legal matters.

Mrs. Nic. Reiland and daughter Gertrude visited with relatives in Appleton several days the past week.

Huntington & Lessig have sold Ford touring cars last week to Blanche Bros. Fred Fritz, and L. G.
Bardette at Pittsville.

Miss Irene Ocain was operated upon for appendicitis at Riverview hospital last Wednesday and has since been getting along nicely.

Dr. Fred Wapsinski of Marshfield has been appointed agent of the Wisconsin Humane Society of Wood county, by Gov. McGovern.

Rogers Mott is having plans drawn for a new home which he contemplated building this summer on his lots in the Lyon Park Addition.

George Moulton sold his home the past week to Henry Yetter. Mr.
Moulton is considering moving to Chicago. He retains possession of his place until June 1st.

We saw your rubber tops on free at Zimmerman's. $1.95 for the Red Seal and Wales-Goodyear rubbers now.

F. J. Wood is reported to be gradually recovering from his recent illness and will soon be able to be out again. His many friends will be pleased to hear that he is mending so nicely.

John O'Day, of Merrill, and Assemblyman from Lincoln county, is being mentioned by his numerous friends in this part of the state for an important place on the democratic state ticket next fall.

Fred Garbrecht, one of the solid farmers of the town of Sigel, called at this office on Friday to advance his subscription for another year. Mr.
Garbrecht shipped a full blooded Holstein bull calf on Friday to his place at Randolph.

The postoffice department has decided that babies are not mallable.
The decision was brought about by a party in Oklahoma, who wanted to send a 2 year old child by parcel post, and the postmaster refused to accept the "package". The higher authorities were appealed to and they rendered a decision in the matter.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wursch, who have been making their home at Center Point, Ind., for some past, returned to this city last Saturday and expect to remain here. While they found the climate in Indiana more salubrious than in Wisconsin there were other drawbacks that made it seem good to get back to Wisconsin.

The village of Friendship boasts the most unusual school house in the state. Last fall, with the prospects of the village's rapid growth, a two-story school house was ordered. The contractors, however, were unable to construct more than the basement when cold weather arrived, so the foundation was hastily roofed over and divided into two compartments, a study and a recitation room. There are about 36 students climbing the "flowery path of knowledge" in the queer school building.

The head of the Medical department of the State University is sending out letters of thanks to undertakers throughout the state, who have responded to the law in sending bodies of unclaimed dead to the university to be used as cadavers for students to study over. The law requires that bodies not claimed by relatives must be sent to Madison for that purpose, provided that the recovered, before passing away does not request burial. State and county institutions have shipped many bodies and the total number received last year was 522.

Gold Seal and Wales-Goodyear rubbers for $1.95 at the Zimmerman shoe store. Tops sewed on free.

In addition to the existing marriage law which went into effect January 1st, there is another change to the marriage law which has become effective on that date. First cousins are not allowed to marry in Wisconsin since January 1st, a law to that effect having been passed by the last legislature. Henceforth the marriage of first cousins has always been allowed in this state. Under the new law no relatives nearer than the fourth degree, second cousins, will be granted licenses to wed. "The new Wisconsin law in this respect, is very similar to the statute of other states on this subject."

Watertown Times:—Miss Martha
H. Kuehl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Herman Kuehl of Grand Rapids, and
Mr. Franklin Zuehlke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Zuehlke of this city, were married Monday evening at the home
of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr.
and Mrs. Louis Kronitz, North Fourth street, where she had made her home
for some time. Bishop Karl Mueller performed the ceremony. The bridal couple were attended by Miss Gretchen Kronitz and Mr. Herman Harder, cousin and brother of the bride. Following the ceremony a reception was tendered the young couple at the Kronitz home. They will live at Watertown and will be at home to their friends after April 1.

In the Future.
And then, again, when the suffragists assume control of things in this country and we have a woman president, we may perhaps expect to see a cabinet made up of the following:
Secretary of Millinery.
Secretary of Social Functions.
Secretary of Drama.
Secretary of Eugenics.
Secretary of Cosmetics and Mani-
curing.
Secretary of Bridge Whist.
Secretary of Physical Research.
Ethical Culture General.
Secretary of Music and Art.
Sociological Problem General.

—Legal blanks for sale at this office.

MORE CONCERNING THE BEELL-MAMUTOFF MATCH

Marshfield Herald.—As a sequel to our item in last week's Herald, telling of Beell's victory on the mat over Mamutoff, the big Russian, at Kansas
City on January 19th, comes the following story from the Kansas City Star, published the morning after the match:

"A working good little man made a great big man, not so working good by any means—look like a mousy piece of Roquefort in Convention Hall
last night, and now the Honorable Gotch can remain on his farm and count the pigs."

Mamutoff, the 230 pounds of the Armour product, can return to Russia in the steerage; Freddie Beell will do what little collecting there is to be done off in the wrestling line during the balance of the season. And right now let's apologize to the Roquefort; Mamutoff looked more like
the holes in a giant Swiss cheese.

Like nearly all foreign wrestlers,
Mamutoff knew nothing of the catch-
as-catch-can style of wrestling and he was as slow as a one-legged horse.
There is such a thing as too much being off in the wrestling line during the balance of the season. And right now let's apologize to the Roquefort; Mamutoff looked more like
the holes in a giant Swiss cheese.

Beell, however, the Russian fooled a large and delighted audience; those who saw him throw Marvin Busch a month ago firmly believed that he was too ponderous for Beell and they only assembled in the hall to cheer the little fellow and see the fun. In fact, Beell probably was the only party interested who felt like a winner. It is a certainty that Jack Herman never felt for a moment that he was going to lose for he had had that feeling he never would have consented to a match with the "Giant Killer".

Mamutoff was brought to America
and was being groomed for the big match with Gotch. Beell was only being used to pave the way for high finance. The Russian was the "caucus nominee" for the big show to be staged later on, and one little insurgent bolted the "bosses" of the ring serenaded a healthy looking layout.
Beell will now have to "rattle" Americans. It is a certainty that none of the foreigners—barring Zybko—will hanker after any of his game. A foreigner once defeated doesn't "account" to much over here. They come to America heralded as champions and as being in the undefeated class. Europe is a long way and we don't know about records printed in foreign languages. Probably they are champions and undefeated in the Gracioso-Roman class.

Mamutoff came heralded as the strongest man in the wrestling game.
He looked the part, but as he didn't get hold of the slippery Beell we have no positive line of his strength. The Russian only showed one thing knowing that is that he didn't know anything about the catch-as-catch-can style of wrestling.

If Gotch really intends to stay in retirement the United States has a pretty good representative in this about wrestling as the champion and Beell person. He knows just as much
he is pretty strong too. Beell's weight, always has been considered against him, but he had plenty of bulk last night for the foreign importation.

The crowd last night was immen-sely pleased with the result. They didn't expect Beell to win, but they were there in large numbers to pull for him to the limit.

Chicago American.—"Fred Beell,
Wisconsin's speed marvel, outstrandled 'Strangler' Ed Lewis in their finishing wrestling match at the Empire Theatre last night, trimming the Lexington man in the final two out of three after one of the most sensational contests seen here in some time. Lewis won the first fall by outtricking Beell and winning the toss with an arm scissors and a wrist lock, obtained tying.

The fall came from a standing position, and as Lewis, through sheer luck, was on top at the time, he had 50 per cent the advantage and caught Beell a trifle stunned as the result of the heavy drop to the quilting. The times of the falls were 9:31, 11:31,
and 10:35.

But after that there was little to
it. The sensational Kentuckian, always winning or losing with something out of the ordinary, was caught open-jawed by Beell with a decisively tough head-lock. Beell got his forearm across Lewis' head and thru the gaping jaw in such a way that the Southerner writhed in pain and signalled immediately to the referee
for help.

The third fall was a dandy encounter for a time, with both men working desperately. The now confident Beell having found all that Lewis
had, started after the old familiar Gotch hold, and getting it on suddenly, switched it to a cross-body and dropped the gasping Lewis hard."

A recent study of 200 boys of a criminal school showed that 85 had drunkards for parents, 24 had an insane father or mother, 54 had parents afflicted with epilepsy or nervous diseases. Commonly the criminal is the wreckage left from abnormal or degenerate parents.

Warnings! Hints! Reminders
on A Burning Subject!

Who's Who?
We are The People
Who Sell GOOD COAL
What's What?
The Coal We Sell
Is the Best That's Mined,
And that You Know,
Is The ONLY KIND!
Fill Up Your Bins!
BOSSERT COAL CO.
Phone 416 Residence 54

Celebrate Silver Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Schlophoff of Lorville celebrated their silver wedding on Tuesday, February 10th. The home had been very prettily decorated in silver and blue, and the bride was dressed in light gray satin, trimmed with silver. A seven course dinner was served and the evening was spent in dancing at the Lorville hall to the music of the Berlin
seven-piece harp orchestra. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents which will serve as remembrances of the occasion. Miss Emma Schlophoff, their only child,
was present at the festivities, as well
as friends from Grand Rapids, Red Granite, Porth, Spring Lake, Princeton, Green Lake, Fond du Lac, Chicago, Des Plaines, Ill., Davenport,
Ia., Fort Wayne, Ind., and Powell,
S. D. All had a most delightful time and it was one of the most notable events in the history of Lorville.

Worth Knowing

The third finger is the only one where two principal nerves belong to two distinct trunks; the thumb is supplied with its principal nerves from the radial nerve, as are also the forefinger, the middle finger, and the thumb, side of the ring finger, while the ulnar nerve furnishes the ring finger, at the point of extremity
of which a real union takes place; it seems as if it were intended by nature to be the matrimonial finger.

Call at the new east side market, Stewart & Edwards. Nothing but the best meats.

MEEHAN

E. J. Thompson has been working over in the vicinity of Plover the past week or two.

R. W. Parks is getting material ready to build a new silo this coming summer. Silos are proving a great success in this section where hay is hard to get.

Rev. Raymond held church Sunday morning. The attendance was small owing to bad weather.

Mrs. Allen Clendenning is quite seriously ill at this writing being confined to the bed for the past week.
There was a dance at the hall Saturday night which was enjoyed by quite a crowd of young people.

It may be of interest to those who have logs to saw to know that a portable saw-mill will be temporarily located on the John Clauser farm this spring.

The play entitled Diamonds and Hearts, which has been arranged by the teacher and young people will be given at the school house, Feb. 28th.

Characters of characters are as follows:
Bernice Halsey—a young lady of eight-teen, with an affection of the heart, a love of fun and a hatred of arithmetic—Nelle Chusman.

Amy Halsey—Her sister, two years younger, fond of frolic—Grace Chusman.
Inez Gray—a young lady visitor willing to share in the fun—Lennie Fox.

Mrs. Halsey—a widow and step mother to the Halsey girls—Miss Nutter.
Hannah Mary Barnes or Sis—A maiden lady who keeps house for her brother—
Charles Chusman.

Dwight Bradley—a fortune hunter and Mrs. Halsey's son by a former marriage—
Charles Chusman.

Dr. Burton—a young physician—Dennis Patterson.

Sammy—the darky bell-boy in the Halseid house—Garrett Fox. A Yankee farmer still unmarried at forty. A diamond in the rough—Clarence Hussian.
Attorney—Donald Fox.
Sheriff—Fred Fox.

MUSLIN UNDERWEAR SALE

at
COHEN BROS.
Department Store

WE just received our new line of Ladies' Muslin Underwear, consisting of Princess Slips, Combinations, Chemise, Drawers, Night Gowns, Corset Covers and Brassiers, and they should meet with a hearty welcome on the part of all Grand Rapids maids and matrons. It will pay you to inspect our under-muslin offerings while this sale is in progress. We'll have values very much out of the ordinary for you.—Below we quote some of the bargains:

Ladies' muslin petticoats, trimmed with lace and embroidery worth 75c sale	48c
Ladies' muslin corset covers, trimmed with lace and embroidery sale	19c
Ladies' muslin night gowns, neatly trimmed during this sale	39c
Ladies' muslin brassiers, boned and trimmed sale	12c
Children's muslin petticoats, pants and under waists during this sale	23c
Corset cover embroidery, 18 inches wide, new patterns sale	10c

We just received our new spring line of dress goods, wash goods, new crepes and plain and figured Rafine, Honey Comb, etc. Our prices are within reach of all and we have only one price to all.

Come and look over our new spring line of children's wash dresses 48c to $1.48
prices from

Cohen Bros.

Let Me Be Your Decorator

THE richest wall hangings can't make up for poor workmanship. And on the other hand, good workmanship can't make up for poor quality wall paper. You need both good wall paper and good workmanship, and the way to get them is to call on N. Laramie. He will pick out an attractive color scheme for your room and give you an estimate of the cost, as well as the time it will take to do the work.

N. LARAMIE
Painter and Decorator

See our 1914 Sample Wall Paper Books, all styles of paper at COST.
Telephone No. 89

Our Prices Get Us the Trade

You cannot buy a foot of lumber anywhere else cheaper than you can from us. And most ways you will find our prices a little lower than you can get elsewhere. That is why we are doing the bulk of the lumber business in this vicinity.

But don't lose sight of this fact: QUALITY IS OUR LONG SUIT. Our policy is to always give a little better material than others sell for the same money. It will pay you to come to us for your lumber and building material of all kinds.

W. A. MARLING LUMBER CO.

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

Skin Sufferers—Read!

We want all skin sufferers who have suffered for many years the tortures of disease and who have sought medical aid in vain, to read this.

We, as old established druggists of this community, wish to recommend to you a product that has given many relief and may mean the end of your sufferings. The product is a mild, simple wash, not a potent medicine concocted of various worthless drugs, but a scientific compound made of well known antiseptic ingredients. It is made in the D.D. Laboratories of Chicago and is called the D.D. Prescription for Scrubs.

This is a doctor's special prescription—one that has effected many wonderful cures.

The effect of D. D. D. is to soothe instantly, as soon as applied; then it penetrates the pores, destroys and throws off all disease germs and leaves the skin clean and healthy.

We are confident of the marvelous power of D. D. D. that we have taken advantage of the manufacturers' guarantee, to offer you a full-size bottle on trial. You are to judge the merits of the remedy in your own particular case. If it doesn't help you, it costs you nothing.

D. D. D. Soap is made of the same healing ingredients. Ask us about it.

J. E. DALY, Druggist, Grand Rapids, Wis.

Do the right thing and do it right NOW

We urge you to start an account with this bank NOW. We know you will say we are right, later. You need the service we can render—that we do render to all our customers.

Bank of Grand Rapids,

WEST SIDE

The Tailor

If the Wool in the Cloth, We've shaped with our shears, In making Suits for our patrons All these years

Sotto Voce—When we say it's wool, it's wool!

Yours truly,

LELOFF, The Tailor

Maker of Guaranteed Clothes.
Grand Ave., West Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Our Prescription Work
is a combination of pure drugs, skilled compounding and unceasing care.
If your prescription is to do the work
intended it must be just as the doctor orders. Send it here and you'll be absolutely sure of getting it so.

SAM CHURCH

PRESCRIPTION DRUGGIST.
Dealer in

Ansco Cameras, Camera Supplies, Stationery, Combs and Brushes, Toilet
Soaps, Toilet Waters, Perfumes, Rubber Goods, Toilet Creams, School Supplies, Candles, Books and Patent Medicines.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.
The following licenses have been issued by County Clerk Eberhardt during the past week:
Wm. C. Whittingham and Cora Haus both of Arpin.
Harry Newton Bowker of Stevens Point and Norma Bude, Rudolph.
Wm. Hams of Rudolph and Irma Hams of Grand Rapids.
Oot Gaupp and Amelia Belgert, both of Nekosia.
BIRTHS.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Glise are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl at their home.
Mr. and Mrs. John Ernser are happy over the safe arrival of a bouncing 10 pound baby girl this Wednesday morning.
Ford Sanitation.
—Lubrication and sanitation take on a new significance when applied to a plant that turns out approximately a thousand cars a day and employs about 16,000 men. With the Ford Motor Co. these two necessities involve an extraordinary amount of material and labor. For example, there are 260 men, a force large enough to run many a factory, in the main Ford plant at Highland Park, Detroit, who do nothing but scrub. These men are employed in three three shifts of eight hours each seven days a week. Their work is the main feature of the labor necessary to keep the Ford plant tidy. Huntington & Lessig are agents for the Ford car which is selling this season for $550 fully equipped. It.

The Difference.
The following notice appeared in a recent edition of the Sheboygan Daily Press:—"Am now ready to receive taxes at my place near west city limits in Koerner's Add. Will be at the following places for collection of taxes: Phil Juckem's Saloon, Jan. 22; Erdman's Saloon, Jan. 23; H. Wither's Saloon, Jan. 26; Ed. Widder's Saloon, Jan. 27; Wm. Fredrich's Saloon, Jan. 28; John Lutz's Saloon, Jan. 29; Barten and Schubert, Jan. 30. Two per cent will be charged after Feb. 1st.—Henry Ogenorth, Town Treasurer."
What a tremendous difference in opinion on some things—especially on the saloon question—between the people in different sections of the state! The people of Grant county would not stand for a notice like the above one minute.
Is it any wonder there is so much dispute over political questions in Wisconsin?

Attorney of Lawyers.
An old man, charged with stealing a car, was arrested in court and self when caught by your law.
"Ah," said the judge.
"Very," said the lawyer.
"Oh," said the judge.
"Do dat," said the lawyer.
"Why," said the judge.
"Won't you," said the lawyer.
"We," said the judge.
"Old," said the lawyer.
"Chick," said the judge.
"Chron," said the lawyer.

WANT COLUMN
FOR SALE:—One of the finest small farms in Wood county. 33 acres inside city limits under high state of cultivation. Good brick house. Large barn and silo. Must be sold, so work quick. F. C. Hart, R. No. 4. *3t.
FOR SALE:—I have for sale a quantity of nice bright maple hay, baled. Delivered to any part of city. F. C. Hart, R. No. 4. Phone 4—5 Knoll Line. *13.
WANTED:—12 cords of green maple foot wood. Will pay $5.00 per cord. Commercial Hotel.
FOR SALE:—A 6 octave piano case organ. Mrs. B. F. Masen, 223 Third Ave. N. *1t.
FOR SALE:—A new $60, fore door, spring cutter, at a bargain. Or will exchange it for good. Edward P. Mainville, the real estate man. 2t.
WANTED:—12 cords good green inch hard maple. C. E. Boles.
FOR SALE:—Small house on the west side. Inquire of Louis Larson, 198 14th Ave. So. *1t.
SALESMAN WANTED: To look after our interest in Wood and adjacent counties. Salary or Commission. Address Lincoln Oil Co., Cleveland, O. *1t.
FOR SALE CHEAP:—75 acres of land, 55 acres with house, barn, chicken-roop, good water, 35 acres cleared with nice large river frontage, with or without stock. Also 20 acres on opposite side with nice grove two acres cleared, good well well all fenced in. Will separate. Two miles from city wagon bridge south, known as the John Kreutzer farm. Inquire John Kreutzer, Grand Rapids, Wis., Star Route. *1t.
HORSE FOR SALE:—By Peter Schuetz, R. 5, Grand Rapids, Wis. 2t.
WANTED:—Four or five furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Apply at this office.
—LOST:—Masonic emblem watch chain. Finder will receive reward by return to this office. *2t.

SIGEL
A large and cozy party attended the Valentine Bazaar, held at the Carl Kronholm home on Saturday night. Refreshments were served and a royal good time was enjoyed by all. A very little sum was cleared up by the venture.
Misses Helen and Anna Hennigson of Grand Rapids attended the Valentine party at the Kronholm home on Saturday night.
Misses Anna Liebel and Mary Wallock of the Rapids visited relatives here on Saturday.
Theodore Lindquist has gone to Grand Rapids where he has secured employment.
Jens Larson contemplates building a new barn in the spring.
Carl and Grand Newman have returned to Minneapolis after spending several weeks here visiting relatives and friends.
Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Robinson of Merrill are guests at the home of the former's mother, Mary Jensen and Verna Worland of Grand Rapids and Thillie Jensen of Rudolph were here to attend the party at the Kronholm home on Saturday night.

ALTDORF
There is a class of men who have no use for an uplift movement unless they can get themselves into it at a pretty good price. Peter Wirtz has gone to Berlin to visit his daughter Gertrude who is quite sick.
Leopold Tautner and Julius Kuntz are both seriously ill at this writing.
L. D. Miller returned with a car of household goods and farm implements from his old home in Iowa. He also brought six horses with him. Mrs. Miller expects to arrive soon.
There was a dancing party at Jos. Sen's last Friday night and a "dinner" party at the home of William Sandry. The latter family moved their household goods Tuesday and they expect to leave Wednesday.
O. J. Len last week closed a deal with the heirs of the late Jane M. Statin of Whitefish for 30 acres of land west here. He also bought 120 acres of Mrs. J. K. P. Hiles.

F. T. HOFF
Chiropractor
Hours 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. Phone 599.
Over Daly's Drug Store Rooms 8 & 9

Chiropractic Adjustments.
Nature alone can cure. You can only help her. Chiropractic is one of her best helpers, for Chiropractic removes the CAUSE of your trouble and gives Nature all the chance possible. Help Nature by giving us the opportunity to put your spine in order. CONSULTATION FREE.

Chiropractic Adjustments.
Nature alone can cure. You can only help her. Chiropractic is one of her best helpers, for Chiropractic removes the CAUSE of your trouble and gives Nature all the chance possible. Help Nature by giving us the opportunity to put your spine in order. CONSULTATION FREE.

Chiropractic Adjustments.
Nature alone can cure. You can only help her. Chiropractic is one of her best helpers, for Chiropractic removes the CAUSE of your trouble and gives Nature all the chance possible. Help Nature by giving us the opportunity to put your spine in order. CONSULTATION FREE.

LOCAL.
Chas. Kellogg of Milwaukee this week attending the annual convention of the Wisconsin Retail Lumbermen's Association.
J. L. Brooks has been acting as teacher in the public schools during the past couple of weeks in place of Miss Kito, who has been confined to her home by sickness.
—Big Stock Co. all next week, Daly's Theatre, good reserved seats 10c, better ones 10c, best 30c. All seats reserved. Ladies Free Monday night usual condition.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brestowitz of the town of Sigel spent the past week in the city visiting with relatives and attending the Mission at St. Lawrence Catholic church.
The city of Marshfield is experiencing (trouble with her water supply, there being barely enough during the cold weather to supply the needs of the people, the wells being pumped dry most of the time.
O. W. Dodge of Spokane, Wash., arrived in the city Tuesday to spend a few days in this vicinity visiting his friends. Mr. Dodge is on the road most of the time now selling his patent which is used on paper machines and which is proving a great value where it has been tried out.
Over at Stevens Point a couple of guys are carrying on a debate in the columns of the Journal as to "Where are the dead?" When they get the matter settled we will tell our readers where they are, for there are a lot of people, who would like to know.
Local ice men have been gathering their supply of ice of late, and it is about 18 inches thick and as clear as a crystal. Any apprehension that might have been felt earlier in the season on account of the continued warm weather has been dissipated during the past two weeks, when mercury went below zero nearly every night.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.
Mrs. Ruth McCamley expects to go to Manawa the latter part of the week to attend the Junior Prom over there.
Mrs. Olson of Milwaukee and Miss Anna Palmer of Appleton are visiting at the home of their sister, Mrs. Henry Weiland.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

LOCAL.
Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

TWO BIG EVENTS!

JOHNSON & HILL COMPANY launch another Big Event in connection with their Great 14c Sale. "The Annual Sale of Undermuslins" commencing Friday, February 20th. Every woman in Grand Rapids and vicinity knows that it is to her advantage to buy her undermuslins during this annual event.

Annual Sale of Undermuslins

Women will find it a pleasure in choosing new undermuslins during our February Sale. The dainty laces and embroideries used on our undermuslins are more beautiful and durable than you have ever before seen on garments at so low a price.

GOWNS.
Gown, of good quality muslin, trimmed with embroidery and lace edging. Slip over style with sewed-in short sleeve, sizes 15, 16 and 17, price 48c
Gown of good quality muslin, trimmed with embroidery edge and insertion, open front style with V-neck and long sleeves, sizes 15, 16, 17, price 48c
Muslin gown, slip-on style with short kimono sleeve, trimmed with ribbon run embroidery beading, sizes 15, 16, 17, price 75c
Gown of fine quality muslin, trimmed with Swiss embroidery, "slip-over style" with short sewed-in sleeves, sizes 15, 16, 17, price 75c
Gown of fine quality muslin, trimmed with embroidery edge and insertion, open front style with V-neck and long sleeves sizes 15, 16, 17, price 98c
Gowns of fine quality muslin in V-neck or round neck with open front and long sleeves. Nicely trimmed, sizes 15, 16, 17, price 98c
Crêpe, "slip-over style" gown with kimono sleeve, trimmed with narrow lace edge, sizes 15, 16, 17, price 85c
Gowns in "slip-over style" trimmed with valenciennes lace and ribbon run embroidery having a dainty split wing sleeve trimmed with the lace, sizes 15, 16, 17, price $1.25
Nainsook gowns "slip-over style" trimmed with dainty embroidery edge sizes 15, 16, 17, price $1.25
Gown of nainsook, "slip-over style" with sewed-in sleeves. Trimmed with valenciennes lace and embroidery medallion, sizes 15, 16, 17, price $1.65

CORSET COVERS—Continued
Corset covers made of fine quality nainsook, trimmed with fine lace and dainty embroidery, sizes 34 to 44 each 48c
Corset covers, made of fine quality nainsook, trimmed with lace and embroidery, sizes 34 to 44 each 75c
DRAWERS.
Muslin drawers, open or closed style, trimmed with fine tucks, price 19c
Drawers made of good muslin, trimmed with fine tucks and embroidery edging, open or closed styles, price 24c
Drawers of fine quality muslin trimmed with wide embroidery, price 43c
Drawers in circular style, made of fine quality muslin, trimmed with embroidery edging, price 59c

COMBINATIONS.
Nainsook combination corset cover and drawers, trimmed with valenciennes lace and embroidery beading, sizes 36 to 44, each only $1.25
Nainsook combination corset cover and drawers trimmed with pointed lace, insertion and lace edge, sizes 34 to 40, each, $1.85
Nainsook combination corset cover and drawer, trimmed with valenciennes lace and embroidery medallions, sizes 34 to 40, $2.25

PRINCESS SLIPS.
Princess slips made of good quality muslin, trimmed with embroidery around yoke and on bottom of flounce, sizes 34 to 40, each 98c
Princess slip made of fine quality muslin, trimmed with lace and embroidery around yoke and a lace trimmed flounce, sizes 34 to 44, $1.20
Princess slip made of fine muslin, yoke trimmed with embroidery and an embroidery flounce, sizes 34 to 44 $1.45
Nainsook princess slip, yoke trimmed with dainty embroidery and deep embroidery flounce, sizes 34 to 44 at each $1.95
Nainsook slip, yoke and flounce trimmed with Swiss embroidery, sizes 34 to 44, $2.25
Nainsook slip, trimmed around yoke with embroidery medallions and lace, flounce trimmed with lace $2.45

PETTICOATS.
Petticoat of good quality muslin with tucked ruffle and embroidery edge each only 48c
Muslin Petticoat with neat flounce of embroidery and fine tucks, each 59c
Muslin petticoats, flounce trimmed with two rows of lace insertion and bottom finished with lace edge to match, each 75c
Muslin petticoats flounce trimmed with fine tucks and embroidery edging each 75c
Petticoats of good quality muslin, flounce trimmed with wide embroidery edging, 98c
Fine quality muslin petticoats with deep embroidery flounces $1.25
Muslin petticoats, flounces trimmed with wide shadow lace and insertion, each $1.65
Petticoats of fine quality muslin, flounce of 18 inch embroidery, each $1.95
Petticoats made of nainsook, flounce of shadow lace set on with two rows of wide insertion to match, each $2.25
Petticoats made of fine quality muslin with deep embroidery flounce with wide embroidery insertion underlaid with ribbon, $2.45

CORSET COVERS.
Corset cover made of good quality muslin, perfect tight fitting, sizes 38 to 44, each 14c
Corset cover, made of good quality muslin, trimmed with lace insertion, sizes 36 to 42, each 19c
Corset cover, made of fine quality muslin, trimmed with lace and embroidery, sizes 36 to 44, each 24c

Second Week of the Great 14c Sale

The second week of our Great 14c Sale starts Saturday, and it is our aim to make this week as big a success as the first part of the sale has been. The following prices will hold good until Saturday, Feb. 28, unless the items are sold previous to this date:

- One lot huck towels with red borders, special value for this sale 14c
- All linen toweling regular price 18c per yard for this sale per yard 14c
- One lot of white goods that formerly sold from 18c to 25c per yard 14c
- One lot of Normandy laces and insertion ranging in widths up to 4 inches, special for this sale, 2 yards for 14c
- One lot of embroidery flouncings, regular price 18c yard, for this sale per yard 14c
- Ladies' plain white handkerchiefs, special value for this sale 6 for 14c
- One lot fancy ribbons, the regular 24c grade for this sale per yard 14c
- 2 boxes of shoe polish "2 in 1" this sale 14c
- 10 pair 6-4 shoe laces, this sale 14c
- Men's wool and cotton mixed work socks special a pair 14c
- One pair men's canvas gloves with gauntlet 14c
- Men's knit mufflers, this sale each 14c
- 2 pair men's canvas gloves, this sale 14c
- One lot men's four-in-hand neckties 14c
- Curtain Swisses, regular price 20c per yard, for this sale per yard 14c
- 36 inch cretonne and figured sateens, regular prices 18-20 and 25c special for this sale per yard 14c
- Table oil cloth, white and colored, 5-4 width this sale per yard 14c
- 25c can Glidden's wood stain, any color 14c
- 1 pt. Moore's furniture varnish regular price 25c per can for this sale per can 14c
- 1 5-lb. package Lythite cold water paint during this sale 14c
- 25c can Johnson & Hill Co. paint during this sale 14c
- All 25c roll wall paper during this sale per roll 14c
- 20 and 25c cans tinting colors 14c
- 25c Japanese pictures each 14c
- 24c dozen tumblers during this sale per dozen 14c
- 25c cuspidors during this sale 14c
- 25c decorated bread and butter plates. 14c
- One assortment of bon bon dishes, pin trays and many other useful articles that sold for 25c, your choice 14c
- 20 and 25c pictures, during this sale 14c
- One lot of white plates, 6 plates during this sale for 14c
- One lot of decorated plates 3, during this sale 14c
- 25c Persian varnish stain per can 14c
- 25c Heisey finger bowls, for this sale 14c
- 20c Heisey individual salts 14c
- 30c cake plates, for this sale 14c
- One lot of Grand Rapids Pillow tops in cross stitch design, each 14c
- One lot of linen crash pillow tops in conventional designs, each 14c
- One lot granite ware, special for this sale, each 14c
- 6 tin pie plates regular 3c each, for this sale the six 14c
- The Queen flour-sifter regular price 20c for this sale 14c
- 6 9-inch tin cake pans, regular price 3c each, for this sale, the six for 14c
- 5 10-inch cake pans, regular price 4c each, for this sale, the five for 14c
- Your choice of any 5c articles in our basement, 4 for 14c
- Your choice of any 10c articles in our basement, 2 for 14c
- 25c "Glad Rags" polishing cloths, during this sale 14c
- 2 bottles of 10c writing ink at this sale 14c
- Donald's face powder, flesh or white, at this sale 14c
- One lot of hair brushes, specially priced for this sale 14c
- Donald's complexion powder, 25c size for this sale 14c
- 25c box No. 18 Theatre Rouge for this sale 14c
- Velvete, an ideal liquid substitute for powder, regular 25c size 14c
- One bottle Grave's tooth powder and one tooth brush, the two for 14c
- One bottle J. & H. Antiseptic tooth powder 25c size 14c

GROCERIES! GROCERIES!

The Last Week

- 1 clothes line and 5 dozen clothes pins 14c
- 4 cans Bestine Cleanser 14c
- 1 pkg. Jersey Corn Flakes and 2 pkgs. La-France Laundry Tablets 14c
- 2 pkgs. Honey Krisp Corn Flakes, regular 10c grade 14c
- 4 lbs. White beans 14c
- 4 5c bars floating toilet soap worth 25c 14c
- 4 bars Electric Spark Soap 14c
- 1 mop rag worth 25c 14c
- 1 scrubbing brush and mop handle 14c
- 1 lb. chocolate candy, worth 25c 14c
- 3/4 lbs sugar 14c
- 2 1/2 lbs. fancy head rice 14c
- 4 1/2 lbs. oatmeal 14c
- 1 lb. smoking tobacco 14c
- CANNED GOODS.
We still have some bargains in canned goods. Those of our customers who have already bought some of the goods consider themselves lucky to be able to buy goods at such low prices.
Below are a few items that are going at 14c
Curtice Bros jams in glasses, worth 25c. 14c
1 qt. jar olives, worth 25c 14c
1 3-lb. can peaches, good ones 14c
2 cans wax beans 14c
2 cans salmon 14c
2 cans sauer kraut 14c
A lot of fancy canned peas that sell at 18c and 20c per can, now 14c

EXTRA SPECIAL---FREE. With every 49 lb. sack of Victoria Flour one package of Kleeneze FREE. You will like this Cleanser.

See our Bargains we are offering in Canned and Bottled Goods at one-third off

Johnson & Hill Company

GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN.

The Flight of the Princess

An Audacious Hazard of Nikolai, Independent Agent, as Related by His Lieutenant, Summers.

By H. M. EGBERT

(Copyright, 1913, by W. G. Chapman)

Nikolai had unfolded his scheme to me as our train ran through the pleasant, fertile plains of Saxony.

"What would you do, Summers?" he said, "is the rank of the persons most intimately concerned. Now, my mind that in the best guarantee of success for our undertaking. You can strike at kings and queens where you cannot with impunity attack those of lower rank. Why? Because these persons, being themselves outside the law, are loath to have recourse to it. We take our lives in our hands. It is true, but we revert to the old conditions when each man was a law unto himself. I think we can succeed just because of the improbability of such an attempt. And we can hold her to heavy ransom for the cause."

"But a princess?" I urged. "Where can we hold her?"

"If once we get her into our automobile," said Nikolai, "we take her on earth can hinder us. We have her direct from the old castle that we have rented for the summer; it is two miles from any habitation and escape would be impossible."

"Int I admit," he added, meditatively, "that an accomplice within the castle would help us materially." He fell to thinking and would speak no more.

Our plans were as follows: The Princess of Cassel-Wexel was to be married to the Polish Prince Poniatowski. The marriage was viewed with great aversion by the subjects of the tiny principality of eastern Germany, while the princess herself was rumored to cherish no unkindly feeling toward a handsome but impetuous guard officer, whose aspirations were, of course, destined to remain unfulfilled. Possibly, in these days of democracy, the king might in the end have given his consent; but the Polish marriage was necessary in the interests of state, and czar and kaiser had set their hearts on it. So it seemed improbable that anything could avert the approaching nuptials.

But two weeks were to intervene before their consummation. Nikolai's scheme was to obtain admittance to the castle in the guise of an under-servant or of an American chauffeur, the supply of whom, for the many royal automobiles, was constantly beneath the demand. Then, with me as his assistant, we were to entice the princess for a ride, to kidnap her, and to secrete her in our castle, twenty-four miles away, and well within the borders of an unfriendly state, until a ransom could be arranged.

We put up at the little capital town, dominated by the castle of the king of Cassel-Wexel, which seemed entirely to overshadow the narrow streets that encircle it. In spite of the popular prejudice against the marriage, Hoch Cassel was on fete, and flags, bearing the Russian and German arms, hung from every window. Nevertheless, scraps of conversation that we overheard, contemptuous references to "the Polak," whose carriage driven by magnificent boys, raced through the streets at all hours to the imminent danger of worthy citizens' necks, bore witness to the condition of the public mind.

"A chauffeur and a mechanic!" exclaimed our landlord, when we proclaimed to him the fact that we desired a position. "And German horse returning from America, your fortunes are made. His Highness Prince Rudolph loves all Americans since his return from that country last spring. And he is installing innumerable automobiles in place of his old carriages. Go up to the castle at once and ask for the Herr Chamberlain; he will take you on. Oh, the salary is liberal; two marks a day and everything found."

That morning we succeeded in obtaining an interview with the Chamberlain. Both of us were thoroughly proficient in the running of automobiles and we were immediately assigned positions in the royal stables—Nikolai as a chauffeur, I as a cleaner.

Each of the chauffeurs had two automobiles in his charge; it was his duty to have them always in good repair, and when any of the royal family desired to ride, the chauffeur went with the vehicle that was selected. The other men were with the mechanic type and regarded us with animosity, except young Schmidt, a splendid specimen of a man, and of a bearing which would have consorted rather with patrician stock than with the humble family from which he had sprung. We three were housed together in a quaint, old-fashioned apartment at the back of the stable, and all night long when our confidences had been established he raved of the princess. It would have been exceedingly monotonous, but for the fact that Nikolai and I saw in him a possible tool for the fulfillment of our design.

"You have not seen her?" he exclaimed, as he got into bed. "Ah, the universe was not completed until God made her. Such eyes—they would melt the candles upon our lady's altar. Such hair—radiant as the sun. And when she smiles! And they would marry her to an ineffectual, low-browed Polak, whom she despises."

"I hope the princess will select my automobile when next she goes riding," said Nikolai.

"You young mechanic burst into a roar of laughter.

"Ho! ho! That's a good one!" he laughed. "Why don't you know that she never stirs from the castle unless an armed servant accompanies her? Why, it is said that she is in love with a rascal of a guardman, and though banished from Cassel-Wexel, is believed to be lurking in Hoch Cassel. No, my friend, you will never see the princess, into your automobile, for it

"And the automobile?" asked Nikolai.

"You can obtain a permit to stay until midnight in the stable under pretense of making repairs. At twelve the castle gates are closed and armed sentries parade the grounds. We must take the risk of passing them. Surely we can gain the entrance before they have time to shut the gates—and they will not dare to fire on the princess. Now you must have the automobile waiting, ready to start, and the moment that we descend, we shall make a rush for it and away we go."

"The only undesirable feature of that program," said Nikolai, "is that the actual work will be performed by another. That clod of a German is our sole reliance."

"He will not betray us," said I. "The clown is an admirable tool—and simple as a child. Why, in America such a man with latent ingenuity and resources, would make his millions; yet here he is content to remain a clown."

"God sends clowns to help the wise," said Nikolai.

"Our conversation had been in English, and, though Schmidt knew that we had spent years in America, he was manifestly uneasy. Nikolai, foreigner for the use of the foreign tongue, and we spent the remainder of the evening discussing ways and means until our plans had been completely worked out.

On the following day I managed to put the princess's largest automobile out of commission by injuring the motor. Then I reported the matter to the chamberlain, who cursed me freely.

"Every day we need that machine for the guests who are arriving," he said.

When he had cooled down I suggested that Nikolai and I could repair the damage that evening if we could obtain a permit to remain in the stable. He cast a sharp glance at me, frowned and huffed, and finally consented. This was the first success; at eight o'clock we two were left alone in the converted stable where the machines were housed.

"Mind you do good work," grumbled the chamberlain, coming on us suddenly and finding us seated in a corner discussing our project. "Curse

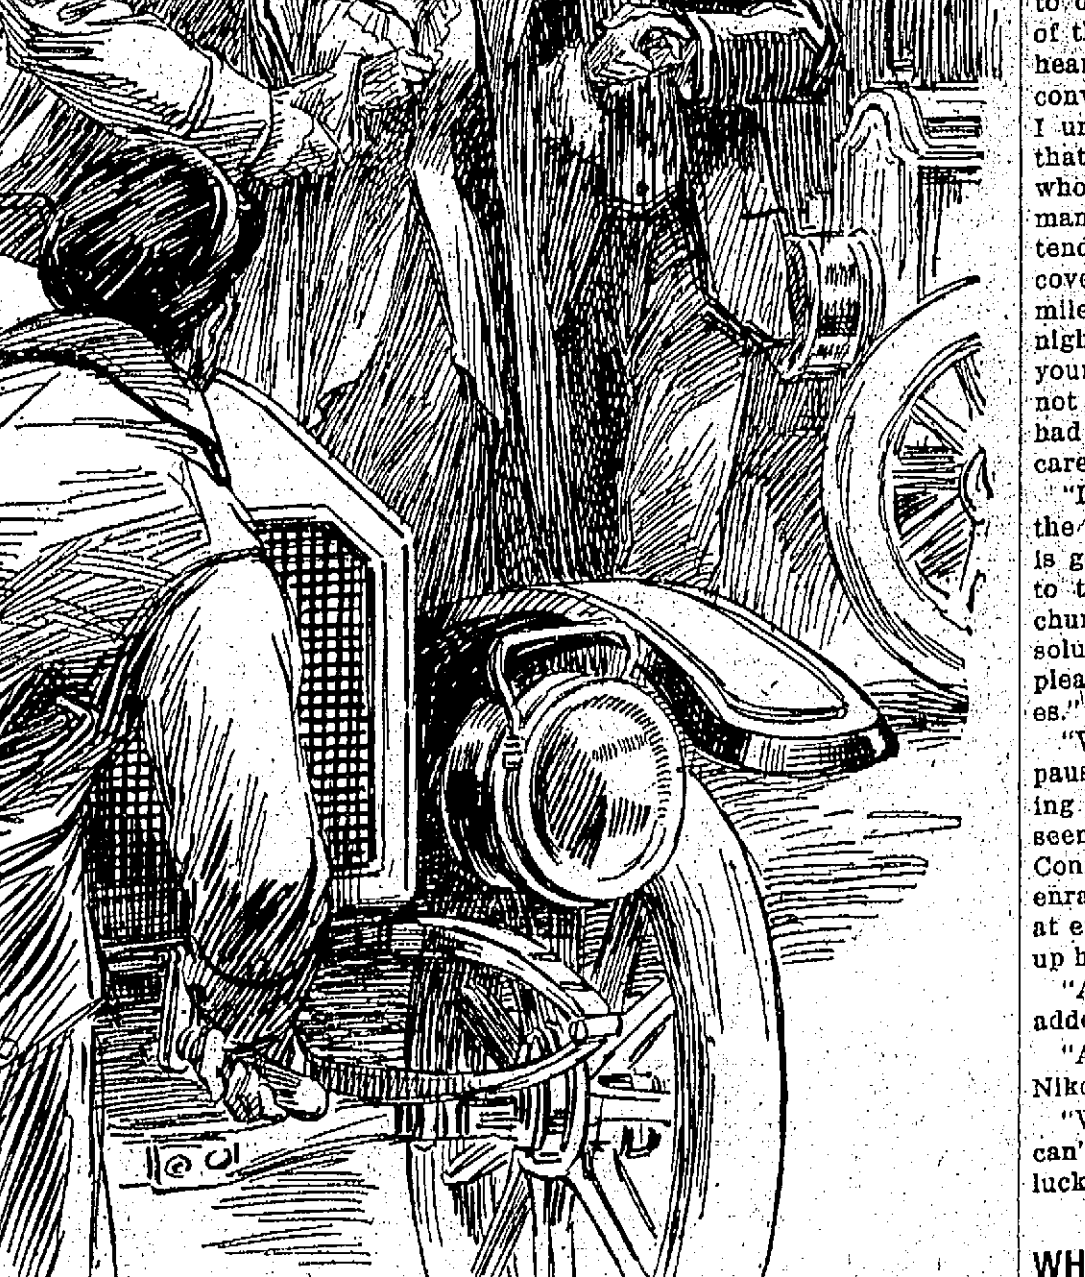

"The devil, but my old back aches," he said, in a muffled tone. "His highness would raise the devil with me if the machine were not in running order tomorrow." He strode to the door, and as we followed him, I caught sight of a tiny spurt of flame at the princess's window.

The chamberlain perceived it too. He looked in astonishment up through the clustering ivy, and then I saw a form that clung from the window sill, and presently a tiny, slippered foot protrude.

Luckily I kept my self-possession. I ran back into the garage and began cranking furiously. I don't know what Nikolai did, but a moment later I heard a stifled scream, the sound of a fall upon wet turf, and then the chamberlain, his eyes protruding with horror, backed toward the garage. But all this while I was cranking and the automobile was commencing to sputter like an impatient race horse. Next moment Schmidt and Nikolai came running into the garage, half leading, half carrying the princess. They placed her in the automobile and sprang in. I cranked once more; suddenly the thing began to start, and I leaped in—there was no more steering for anything but the center of the door—the machine caught the chamberlain in the middle of his broad back and hurled him a dozen feet away. I heard the thud of his body, and then he began screaming.

On the instant a blaze of electric lights appeared in the vacant apartment of the princess.

"Here! Get out of this!" yelled Schmidt, and, pushing me aside, he took the wheel. The machine was jumping over the Prince of Cassel-Wexel's rose bushes. We rushed across the broad lawn toward where an open space appeared in the high wall that surrounded the castle. "Close the gates!" I heard somebody yell; and the cry seemed to be taken up on every side. But they were too late. Just as the iron gates began to turn inward we were through with a bound and a leap, and hurrying up dust on the highroad that led into Hoch Cassel. I heard the cries behind us die away. The lights in the castle windows, as we literally cut off the highroad abruptly and rushed the machine along a narrower path that led into the open fields. The night was dark, and here and there tiny lights flickered in farm-house windows. Nikolai caught Schmidt by the arm.

THEY PLACED HER IN THE AUTOMOBILE.

"That is all very well, Schmidt," he shouted, "but your way doesn't happen to be ours. You are going in the wrong direction."

I glanced at Schmidt. He sat impassively in the seat, one arm embracing the body of the princess, who seemed to have fallen into a swoon. Her eyes were closed and her lips slightly parted.

"To the devil with you!" cried Schmidt, throwing off my companion's arm. "Listen!" he added.

On the highroad behind us there came faintly to our ears the sound of galloping horses. And there were six or eight of them. I knew what threatened us. These were the boys of Prince Poniatowski, and he had been alarmed and was in full pursuit.

"It seemed incredible that he could overtake us. Doubtless he had been nearing the castle when the alarm had been given, and was trying to intercept us by some shorter route; for the sounds now came from a road parallel with ours, some fifty yards away, which I could see gleaming like a broad, white ribbon, as the moon emerged suddenly from under a cloud.

No Grammar for Her.

In a Fort Scott school the teachers gave orders for all pupils to buy a certain kind of grammar, and bring the book to the class the next day. When school started one little girl walked to the front of the room and carefully laid a note on the teacher's desk. She picked it up, rather surprised when she read the following note: "I do not desire the grammar. Is it to be a higher grade?"

Servant Girl—Have you any love letters?

Clerk—Naturally a large assortment. Is it to be a higher grade?

Servant Girl (bashfully)—Yes, a servant—Fleischmann (Munch)

Electricity for Chickens.

Chickens, which lose their timidity and become bold and pugnacious under the influence of electrical stimulation, were described by Mr. Thorne Baker in a paper read before the Royal Society of Arts at London. Mr. Baker said chickens could be grown under electric stimulus at about double the rate, thus doubling the output of a chicken farm and halving the food bill per chicken. The vitality of the treated chicken was remarkable. During the treatment they were so highly

"We must shake him on," Schmidt cried. "Have you a pistol?"

Neither of us was armed. Incredible as the blunder appeared to be, we had left our revolvers in our "best clothes."

"Hark!" cried Schmidt again.

Above the whirr of our automobile, above the noise of the wheels, we heard three sharp reports like pistol shots. Schmidt smiled grimly.

"The princess is urging his horses with his whip," he said, and drove the machine on at full speed. We leaped over obstructions, we swayed from side to side, coming within an ace of overturning now in one ditch, now in another. And all the while we heard the sound of the galloping boys.

"He takes the shorter road down the mountain," said Schmidt. "At the crossroads, one mile ahead, we meet."

We said nothing; there was nothing to say. We sat in silence behind the driver, whose arm still encircled the waist of the princess, and she seemed either to sleep or to be happy there, a strange denouement—that we, who had planned the plot, should thus play second fiddle to the clowns.

The sound of the horses grew louder. The crossroads appeared in front of us. And then, emerging from behind a cluster of trees, galloping furiously down the mountain side, we saw the coach of the prince, and a man upon the box who lashed his maddened horses. Suddenly Schmidt pressed the brake. There was a long grinding skid, and we came to a halt just as the driver pulled in his reins and turned and rushed for our machine.

"Hold the princess," cried Schmidt, and rushed toward him. And then, well, I do not know how it happened, but suddenly, without our having time to get our defenses, the two of them were upon us, and in a trice we were pinned under them and helpless. I felt a pistol pressed against my forehead. I looked up into the laughing eyes of Schmidt. And the man with him was not the prince; as I had seen his photograph in the shop windows of Hoch Cassel, but a young fellow of about Schmidt's age and build and carriage.

"Gentlemen," said Schmidt calmly, "since you are at our mercy, yield and give us your pledge to obey our instructions. I should be loath to kill you."

"Who are you?" spluttered Nikolai.

"Herr Lieutenant von Offenbach, at your service," said Schmidt, bowing. "I am my brother. Do you pledge yourselves?"

We did. We had to. We got into the automobile again, and the five of us proceeded at a more leisurely pace, leaving the prince's coach standing in the road, the horses trembling and shivering in front of it.

"I will not ask you what your motives were, gentlemen, in seeking to steal my promised bride," said the lieutenant. "It may have been some chivalrous intent, or some more sinister reason. But inasmuch as you have played into my hands, I thank you."

"I own that at one time I had begun to despair, imagining you to be spies of the Polak, until I happened to overhear some of your very frank English conversations, which, needless to say, I understood perfectly."

It was then that I contrived to have my brother, who was acting as the Polak's coachman, run away with his team and pretend to pursue us. The actual distance covered by the coach was less than a mile. The sounds came clearly at night from that mountain road—and your imagination did the rest. I do not think he could have caught us had not the route he was to take been carefully laid out by us in advance.

"I am now taking my bride across the frontier, where before the night is gone, we shall be united according to the rites of the Roman Catholic church, which, as you know, are indissoluble. I trust that I may have the pleasure of your company as witnesses."

"Well," whispered Nikolai, after a pause, "we thought that we were making use of our friend Schmidt, but it seems that he was making tools of us. Confound him," he added, suddenly enraged. "We played into his hands at every step. Why, we even cranked up his automobile for him."

"And ran over the chamberlain," I added, laughing at the recollection.

"And lost our ransom," continued Nikolai in a whisper.

"Well," I said, "we're here and we can't help it. And so let us say 'good luck' to them."

WHY THE TERM HORSEPOWER

Originated With Watt, Who Produced the First Practical Steam Machinery.

When we say that an engine develops 100 horsepower we do not mean that one hundred horses could produce the same result. And, as the editor of Power remarks, there are few engineers who could tell just in the terms "horsepower" came into use. Its origin is related in 1827:

"The machinery in the great breweries and distilleries in London was then moved by the strength of horses, and the proprietors of those establishments who were first to require Mr. Watt's engines always inquired what number of horses an intended engine would be equal to."

"In consequence, Mr. Watt made some experiments on the strong horses employed by the brewers in London, and found that a horse of that kind, walking at the rate of 2 1/2 miles per hour, could draw 150 pounds avoirdupois by means of a rope passing over a pulley, so as to raise up that weight with a vertical motion, at the rate of 2 1/2 feet per minute. This exertion of mechanical power is equal to 22,000 pounds or 628 cubic feet of water raised vertically through a space of 1 foot per minute, and he denominated it a horsepower, to serve for a measure of the power exerted by his steam engines."

This estimate is much beyond the capacity of the average strong horse, says Power. Smeaton and other early engineers estimated that 22,000 pounds per minute was more accurate.

Electricity for Chickens.

Chickens, which lose their timidity and become bold and pugnacious under the influence of electrical stimulation, were described by Mr. Thorne Baker in a paper read before the Royal Society of Arts at London. Mr. Baker said chickens could be grown under electric stimulus at about double the rate, thus doubling the output of a chicken farm and halving the food bill per chicken. The vitality of the treated chicken was remarkable. During the treatment they were so highly

Electricity for Chickens.

Chickens, which lose their timidity and become bold and pugnacious under the influence of electrical stimulation, were described by Mr. Thorne Baker in a paper read before the Royal Society of Arts at London. Mr. Baker said chickens could be grown under electric stimulus at about double the rate, thus doubling the output of a chicken farm and halving the food bill per chicken. The vitality of the treated chicken was remarkable. During the treatment they were so highly

Electricity for Chickens.

Chickens, which lose their timidity and become bold and pugnacious under the influence of electrical stimulation, were described by Mr. Thorne Baker in a paper read before the Royal Society of Arts at London. Mr. Baker said chickens could be grown under electric stimulus at about double the rate, thus doubling the output of a chicken farm and halving the food bill per chicken. The vitality of the treated chicken was remarkable. During the treatment they were so highly

Electricity for Chickens.

Chickens, which lose their timidity and become bold and pugnacious under the influence of electrical stimulation, were described by Mr. Thorne Baker in a paper read before the Royal Society of Arts at London. Mr. Baker said chickens could be grown under electric stimulus at about double the rate, thus doubling the output of a chicken farm and halving the food bill per chicken. The vitality of the treated chicken was remarkable. During the treatment they were so highly

Electricity for Chickens.

Chickens, which lose their timidity and become bold and pugnacious under the influence of electrical stimulation, were described by Mr. Thorne Baker in a paper read before the Royal Society of Arts at London. Mr. Baker said chickens could be grown under electric stimulus at about double the rate, thus doubling the output of a chicken farm and halving the food bill per chicken. The vitality of the treated chicken was remarkable. During the treatment they were so highly grand reception was on. An English diplomat and literature, one Norman Eccles, was to be presented by a local society ruler at the Tresham home. Shielding his face by drawing down his hat and muffing it in his coat collar, Alden gazed past the iron gates of the garden. He saw Elida whirling in the giddy whirl, saw her with Bellevue, and, like a forlorn wretch shut out of paradise, he stole away to his lowly study.

Alden was little aware of the grand climax to all the hopes of Bellevue that transpired within the following hour. A stray remark concerning the writings of Mr. Eccles had led to Elida referring with some appreciation to home talent.

"We have also a poet and author within our modest circle, Mr. Eccles," she remarked.

"Indeed," spoke Mr. Eccles.

"I have a scrap book with his fugitive pieces in the library," explained Elida and they strolled thither.

Mr. Eccles gave a great start of surprise as he looked over the dozen or more poems and articles which Elida had so kindly presented.

She noted his emotion and regarded him questioningly, but he was too courteous to explain then and there. He smiled as he said:

"Miss Tresham, may I have the pleasure of sending you my own little volume of desultory writings?"

"Oh, surely," she replied, and the book arrived by messenger next morning.

"You see," proceeded Bellevue, "I've got in with the Tresham set. They are social leaders and really of a high up sort. Among them is Mrs. Tresham and her daughter, Elida. The girl is helmsman to an independent fortune. She is smart, bright and cultured. Art, science, literature—those are her fads. There is a struggling young artist named Alden Hope who has interested her. That was my cue 'I'm going to pose as author and poet. You are to furnish the goods. I mean money. Here is a first installment."

Roy Borden went to his poor room with a sneer upon his lips. It was one of contempt for himself. Once he had known the thrill of honorable ambition. How he had retrograded. Strong drink and indolence had landed him sheer at the bottom of the ladder. A momentary impulse swayed him to do the work just assigned him, save the money received, give up the drink and start afresh in some new community. Within twenty-four hours, however, the old temptations overcame him. Borden heard one of his long bouts of dissipation and hired cheaply an unscrupulous scribbler to do the work he had engaged to do.

Duke Bellevue, schemer and adventurer, proceeded on his campaign. He was a polished man in appearance, a tasteful dresser and had the attractive smattering of the knowledge of a shrewd man of the world. He made large claims of valuable western investments and alluded often to his literary income.

Naturally Bellevue made an impression, particularly on Elida's mother. He was a specious rogue and within a week had captivated quite a coterie of fashionable friends. He met Alden Hope at social functions and was friendly towards him in a polite way. The latter, however, saw the trend of affairs. He was poor, all his artistic efforts were in their incipency. He had painted a picture of which Elida was a model. It was called "Sympathy" and was indeed a tribute to the warm helpful encouragement of Elida herself. He had great hopes of the picture securing recognition at a coming public art exhibition.

"I rather like Mr. Bellevue," Mrs. Tresham remarked to her daughter one evening.

"He is very gentlemanly and considerate," said Elida, but she evinced no ardent in the reply.

For all that she was fully interested and quite proud when in one of the local papers an article appeared bearing the signature of Duke Bellevue. It was a masterly story covering the art of war in Europe. In another paper two days later there was published an exquisite little poem by the same author.

Everybody was enchanted except Alden Hope. The increased adulation of Bellevue made him feel humbled and discouraged. He had loved Elida from the first moment he saw her. Now he realized how hopeless was that attachment. He went no more to the Tresham social functions.

With a longing pain at heart he later read a published poem inscribed to Elida by Bellevue. Bellevue was laying close siege to the heart of the young heiress.

Elida missed Alden more than she had fancied could be the case. There was some sentiment naturally harmonious between them. Despite her admiration of the literary abilities of Bellevue there seemed always some vague barrier between them.

Alden Hope never forgot one wet chill evening when he passed through the Tresham home, hungry at heart yet torturing himself with the ardent longing to catch a glimpse of the beloved face of Elida.

The house was ablaze with light. A rigid antisepetic provisions are likely to be instituted in the City on the Seine.

The Paris board of health is about to take up the problem of compelling barbers to use sanitary methods. It will have before it the recommendations made by Doctor Fouquet to the Societe de Prophylaxie. Doctor Fouquet recommends that lumps of alum be abolished and that calced alum in powder and applied with cotton batting be substituted as a styptic; that powder puffs be abolished and face powder be applied with wads of cotton which shall be thrown away after once using.

He would have all cutting instruments—scissors, razors, etc.—washed in a one per cent solution of carbolic acid of soda, wiped with dry linen and passed through a flame before being used. All brushes, combs and shaving brushes should be kept in an airtight closet containing a reservoir of a 40 per cent solution of formal, before being dipped into boiling water before using and washed every evening in ammonia soap.

Doctor Fouquet would forbid barbers to stop razors on the palm of their hands. He would also insist upon individual utensils of all sorts for each customer who has any contagious disease.

Filled Many High Offices.

One hundred years ago Samuel J. Kirkwood, who filled many high positions in the public service, was born in Hartford, Conn. In early life he went to Ohio, and some twenty years later he moved to Iowa, of which state he became governor and served through the period of the Civil war. He was elected United States senator in 1865. In 1876 he was again elected governor of Iowa, but resigned the office a few days after his inauguration to accept the United States senatorship again. For one year, beginning March 4, 1881, he filled the position of secretary of the interior in President Garfield's cabinet. Mr. Kirkwood died at his home in Iowa City September 1, 1894.

What Man Escapes.

Women may have a sense of humor. But if a man were a section of elevator cable around his neck, and fastened onto it a can-opener, a young monkey-wrench, an ice-pick, a whysaw, a screw-driver, and a saw-din-can, he would be a nervous wreck to catch the mess his vanity outfit—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Interested.

Patience—This paper says a machine has been perfected that brushes bugs from potato vines as it is driven over a field, and crushes them to death between steel plates.

Patience—Why couldn't such a machine be tried to destroy the microbes which are said to be in kisses?

Perhaps He Dictates.

Bill—So the boss likes baseball, does he?

Jill—You bet he does.

"Does he let it interfere with his business at all?"

"Oh, no. He takes his blonde typewriter to the game with him."

Electricity for Chickens.

Chickens, which lose their timidity and become bold and pugnacious under the influence of electrical stimulation, were described by Mr. Thorne Baker in a paper read before the Royal Society of Arts at London. Mr. Baker said chickens could be grown under electric stimulus at about double the rate, thus doubling the output of a chicken farm and halving the food bill per chicken. The vitality of the treated chicken was remarkable. During the treatment they were so highly

Electricity for Chickens.

Chickens, which lose their timidity and become bold and pugnacious under the influence of electrical stimulation, were described by Mr. Thorne Baker in a paper read before the Royal Society of Arts at London. Mr. Baker said chickens could be grown under electric stimulus at about double the rate, thus doubling the output of a chicken farm and halving the food bill per chicken. The vitality of the treated chicken was remarkable. During the treatment they were so highly Plutocrat vs. Noblesman.

A prominent society matron, apropos of an international marriage that had ended badly, said:

"This accidentally foreigner ought to have been treated at the start as old Sobeia. Golde treated the Vicomte Olignon."

"Old Golba. Golde shook his head and pursed his lips. Then, with a kindly smile, drawing out his wallet, he said:

"Oh, no; I can't give you my daughter. That is asking too much. Here, however, are half a dozen soup tickets."

Gravious Error.

Count Enallup. They tell me Lord Ballyroot had a narrow escape in America.

Duke Smixture—Yes, y'know; while traveling in the wild and woolly west, y'know, he became confused in his terms and called a cowgirl a baller—Judge.

Have to Stay In.

Yeast—The paper says that the Cliv-federation in Boston would have rug beating in the back yard stopped. Crimsonspeak—Too bad. Those Boston husbands would be able to "beat it" over the back fence at night now.

Important to Mothers.

Examining catalog for full bottle of CASTOROL safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Altman In Use For Over 30 Years. Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria.

A Pleased Customer.

"Has the lady whose portrait you painted paid you yet?"

"No; she is suing me for defamation."

Not Interested.

"Are you interested in the Hetch Hetchy affair?"

"No, indeed. I prefer the tango."

His Finances.

"Say, Jack, lend me an X."

"That's an unknown quantity with me, dear boy."

A Failure.

"Was your joy ride a success?"

"Not a bit of it. Everybody we met got out of the way."

Our Damned Spot!

He—Have you read "Freckles?"

She (quickly)—Oh, no! That's my veil!—O. S. U. Sun Dial.

Only One "BROMO QUININE"

For the common cold, the LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for signature of E. W. GROVE. Cures a Cold in One Day. 25c.

Worse Still.

"Can you imagine anything worse than marring for money?"

"Oh, yes; having to work for it."

Divided Up.

"Her warm heart is mine."

"And I get a cold shoulder."

Philadelphia has established a new city bureau to care for transportation matters and projects.

Little Rock, Ark., citizens the other day caught a wandering alligator in a street near his home.

Nightly coughing and torturing throat-ticks quickly relieved by Dean's Mentholated Cough Drops—5c at all Drugstores.

Love does not always wait for poverty to enter the door before it flies out of the window.

Putnam Fadeless Dyes are the easiest to use. Adv.

Don't give away all your good advice. Save a little of it for yourself.

THIS WOMAN'S SICKNESS

Quickly Yielded To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Baltimore, Md.—"I am more than glad to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I suffered dreadful pains and was very irregular. I became alarmed and sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it regularly until I was without a cramp or pain, and felt like another person, and it has been six months since I took any medicine at all. I hope my little note will assist you in helping other women. I now feel perfectly well and in the best of health."—Mrs. AUGUST W. KONDNER, 1632 Hollis Street, Baltimore, Md.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

The Wretchedness of Constipation

Can quickly be overcome by CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Purely vegetable—act surely and gently on the liver. Cure Bilelessness, Headache, Dizziness, Indigestion. They do their duty. SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE, SMALL PRICE. Genuine must bear Signature.

PISO'S REMEDY

Best Cough Syrup. In time. Sold by Druggists. FOR COUGHS AND COLDS.

German-American Institute.

Not many institutions for the promotion of international understanding can boast such a record of practical usefulness as the American-Institut of Berlin, which this month completes its third year. Founded under the auspices of the Prussian ministry of education, and located in the new Royal library, its chief province has naturally been that of scholarship. But for the many Americans and Germans who, in public, scientific, and literary pursuits, have found themselves in need of information as to what has been done across seas, it has become an invaluable medium of inquiry. Its services, again, to the great number of students, government officials, professors on sabbatical leave, and representatives of learned societies who are annually interchanged, ignorant often of local conditions and even language, cover a wide range. It has assisted the discovery of 2,500 German books to obtain a copyright in America; it has encouraged the translation of books and articles in both countries; and it has accumulated a large library of Americana in Berlin, for the use of German scholars and exiles or visiting Americans. Such an institution seems peculiarly German in the very thoroughness with which it has substituted systematic methods for the naturally haphazard means of intercourse, but it is all the more to be wished that, as between other European nations and the United States, similar bureaus could be brought into existence.—New York Evening Post.

No Grammar for Her.

In a Fort Scott school the teachers gave orders for all pupils to buy a certain kind of grammar, and bring the book to the class the next day. When school started one little girl walked to the front of the room and carefully laid a note on the teacher's desk. She picked it up, rather surprised when she read the following note: "I do not desire the grammar. Is it to be a higher grade?"

Servant Girl—Have you any love letters?

Clerk—Naturally a large assortment. Is it to be a higher grade?

Servant Girl (bashfully)—Yes, a servant—Fleischmann (Munch)

Electricity for Chickens.

Chickens, which lose their timidity and become bold and pugnacious under the influence of electrical stimulation, were described by Mr. Thorne Baker in a paper read before the Royal Society of Arts at London. Mr. Baker said chickens could be grown under electric stimulus at about double the rate, thus doubling the output of a chicken farm and halving the food bill per chicken. The vitality of the treated chicken was remarkable. During the treatment they were so highly

For Sale Cheap.
Full, wooded, S. C. R. I. Red buckaroos. Call and get a bargain.
Bugs for sale at 15th of March.
325 8th avenue south, Mrs. H. Sherman.

Don't Forget the Number—
ONE-FOUR-SIX
FIRST STREET NORTH

Sam's Shop!

Cabinet and Repair Work,
Picture Framing, Etc.

Agency for the
Waterbury Sanitary Chemical Closet

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

Unfinished Work

won't worry you when we get the order. We put jobs through as quickly as possible, and we don't slight them, either. We don't have to foot around considering how this or that should be done, but we know how as soon as we see it. Let us fill your pipes with knobs, we can tell in ten minutes if your

Plumbing

is defective, and just what it will cost
to fix it.

Prompt Efficient Service
LEWIS J. ERON,
Practical Plumber
Phone 578 3rd Ave. S. near Grand Ave.

Walking the Floor

Did you ever get worried about money matters and walk the floor?

You can fortify yourself against adversity by building up a bank account. It can be done a little at a time and you'll take a mighty big satisfaction in it. When are you going to begin?

First National Bank,

Grand Rapids, Wis.

"The bank that does things for you."

LOCAL ITEMS.

Henry Neuman visited in Kenosha
several days the past week.

City Treasurer Joe Whelan has his nomination papers out for re-election.

Game Warden Will Cole of Vesper was in the city Monday on business.

Herman Binneboese has his nomination papers out for alderman in the Eighth ward.

Miss C. A. Laurie of Sturgeon Bay
arrived in the city on Thursday to visit with relatives for a time.

Miss Beale Parrish, who has been attending the Stout Institute has finished her course and returned home last week.

George Stertz of Junction City was
a business visitor in the city on Wednesday. While here he paid the Tribune office a pleasant call.

Bill Griffin of Marshfield spent several days in the city during the past week visiting with friends. He returned home on Monday.

W. A. Meyers, one of the rising young farmers of the town of Hansen, was among the business callers at the Tribune office on Wednesday.

W. H. Carey departed on Sunday evening for Chicago where he will attend the National Concrete show National Concrete show which is in session at the Coliseum.

M. C. Flanagan, editor of the man-
awa News, spent Thursday in this city looking after some business matters. While here he favored the Tribune with a pleasant call.

J. K. P. Hiles of Dexterville spent
Thursday and Friday in this city
looking after some business matters.
Mr. Hiles has been considerably under the weather for some time past,
but is somewhat better now.

A Missouri editor, who believes in all the comforts of home, says: "We would prefer living in a small town
where the people will sympathize
with you in trouble, and if you have no trouble, they will hunt some up
for you."

Take advantage of the low prices. Only $1.95 for the Wales
Goodyear and Gold Seal rubbers at Zimmerman's.

James Klappa, who moved to Stevens Point from Elron several months ago, where he has since conducted a barber shop, has moved back to this city and has opened up a shop in the Haystack building on the west side.

Dave Woodruff, Jr., of Vesper was
a pleasant caller at this office on Friday while in the city having some administrative work done. Mr. Woodruff represents the sale of his E. M. F. Touring car to Herb Bean who will use same in connection with his livery
at Vesper.

Fire destroyed the planing mill of
the Arpin Lumber Company at Atlanta. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is $35,000 covered by insurance. As soon as the insurance can be adjusted work on the rebuilding of the plant will be commenced.

Ben Smart returned Thursday
from his trip to Madison, where he had been to attend the meeting of independent telephone companies
held in that city on Wednesday and Thursday. He reports a very good attendance and some fine and instructive meetings.

A pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Mayma Martin and Miss Lizette Yeake on Wednesday evening, about thirty guests being present and taking part in a Valentine party. The house had been appropriately decorated for the occasion, and the evening was spent in playing games and kindred amusements.

Officer Roland Payne received a message on Monday from Clouet,
Minn., stating that his brother, Lee
Payne, was seriously ill with typhoid fever and that, after a consultation
of physicians he was taken to the hospital at Duluth for treatment. Mr.
Payne had been employed in the paper mill out there for the past two years.

District Attorney Briere has notified the saloon keepers of Marshfield that they must close their places
of business hereafter on Sunday. This is the result of a complaint by Rev.
Ambrose. Some of the saloon men
there who sent the key to their place
up in a balloon when they opened up
many years ago will now have to place a lock on the front door.

The Wood County Telephone company has contracted for a Ford Roadster for spring delivery. The machine will be fitted up with a box on the back so that it can be used as a light truck for the transportation of men, tools and supplies. It is expected that the time saved in making long trips and the saving on livery will more than pay for the operation of a truck.

Up at Mosinee the people made a kick to the Railroad Commission on the charge for electric light, so the commission went into the matter
and after they had threshed it out
the rates were raised instead of lowered. Under the old scale the charge
had been 12c per kilowatt and under the new scale it is 13c per kilowatt with an initial charge, up to 9 kilowatts, with a sliding scale reduction in
larger quantities.

Frank Gill, has accepted a position as salesman for the Indiana Indestructible Paint Co., of Chicago.
He spent Saturday and Sunday in the city visiting with his father and calling on local dealers. He has the state of Wisconsin for his territory.

Mrs. C. Lind returned to her home at Hillsboro, on Saturday after spending two weeks visiting with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. John Schubel. She was accompanied home by Mr. Lind, who arrived in the city on Thursday.

One of the saloonkeepers of this city has posted the following in his saloon: "Notice to all:—Posted men
are requested not to enter or loiter
in my place. Also, all minors unless accompanied by parent or guardian."
If all saloonkeepers in the state would give this notice, and then enforce it, many of them would have less trouble with the law officers than
they are now having. Many licenses in different parts of the state have been revoked during the past year because of the sale of intoxicating liquors.—Stevens Point Journal.

MORE CONCERNING THE

BEELL-MAMUTOFF MATCH

Marshfield Herald:—As a sequel to our item in last week's Herald telling of Beell's victory on the mat over Mamutoff, the big Russian, at Kansas
City on January 10th, comes the following story from the Kansas City Star, published the morning after the
match:

A corking good little man made a great big man—not so corking good by any means—look like a mussy piece of Roubenoff in Convention Hall
last night, and now the Honorable Gottschalk can remain on his farm and count the pigs.

Mamutoff, the 330 pounds of the Armour product, can return to Russia in the storage; Freddie Beell will be pulled off in the wrestling line during the balance of the season. And right now let's apologize to the Russian; Mamutoff looked more like
the holes in a giant Swiss cheese.

Like nearly all foreign wrestlers,
Mamutoff knew nothing of the catch-
as-catch-can style of wrestling and he was as slow as a one-legged horse.
There is such a thing as too much beef. However, the Russian fooled a large and delighted audience. Those who saw him throw Marvin Busch a month ago firmly believed that he was a catch-as-catch-can wrestler and they assembled in the hall to cheer the little fellow and see the fun. In fact, Beell probably was the only party interested who felt like a winner. It is a certainty that Jack Herman never felt for the moment that his man was going to lose, for had he had that,
feeling he never would have consented
to a match with the "Giant Killer".

Mamutoff was brought to America
and was being groomed for the big match with Gottschalk. Beell was only being used to pave the way for high finance. The Russian was the "aucusp nominee" for the big show to be staged later on, and one little insurgent, "boiled" ticket, and sent scrambled a healthy looking layout.

Beell now have to "rattle" himself in the fun—Jennie Fox.
Americans. It is a certainty that one of the foreigners—barring Zybko—
will hanker after any of his game. A foreigner once defeated doesn't amount to much over here. They come to America heralded as champions and as being in the undefeated class. Europe is a long way off, and we can't tell much about records
printed in foreign languages. Probably they are champions and undefeated in the Graeco-Roman class.

Mamutoff, came heralded as the strongest man in the wrestling game.
He looked the part, but as he didn't get hold of the slipper Beell we have no positive line of his strength. The Russian only showed one thing plainly in his fight—that he didn't know anything of the catch-as-catch-can style of wrestling.

If Gottschalk intends to stay in retirement the United States has a pretty good representative in this about wrestling as the champion and Beell person. He knows just as much
he is pretty strong too. Beell's weight, always has been considered against him, but he had plenty of balk last night for the foreign importation.

The crowd last night was immen-sely pleased with the result. They didn't expect Beell to win, but they were there in large numbers to pull
for him to the limit.

Chicago American:—"Fred Beell,
Wisconsin's speed marvel, outstran-ged 'Stunt' Ed Lewis in their finest wrestling match at the Empire Theatre last night, trimming the Lexington man in the final two out of three after one of the most sensational contests seen here in some time. Lewis won the first fall, but outtricked Beell and winning the toss with an arm scissor and a wrist lock, obtained flying.

The fall came from a standing position, and as Lewis, through sheer luck, was on top at the time, he had 90 per cent the advantage and caught
Beell a trifle stunned as the result of the heavy drop to the quilting. The times of the falls were 9:31, 11:31,
and 13:35.

But after that there was little to
it. The sensational Kentuckian, always winning or losing with something out of the ordinary, was slightly out-jawed by Beell with a desperately tough head-lock. Beell got his forearm across Lewis' head and then the gaping jaw in such a way that the Southerner writhed in pain, and signalled immediately to the referee
for help.

The third fall was a dandy encounter for a time, with both men working desperately. The now confident Beell having found all that Lewis
had, started after the old familiar Gottschalk hold, and getting it on suddenly, switched it to a cross-body and flopped the gasping Lewis hard.

A recent study of 200 boys of a criminal school showed that 85 had drunkards for parents, 24 had an insane father or mother, 52 had parents afflicted with epilepsy or nervous diseases. Commonly the criminal is the wreckage left from abnormal or degenerate parents.

Waterbury Times:—Miss Martha
H. Kuehl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Herman Kuehl of Grand Rapids, and
Mr. Franklin Zuehlke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Zuehlke of this city, were married Monday evening at the home
of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr.
and Mrs. Louis Kronitz, North Fourth street, where she had made her home
for some time. Bishop Karl Mueller performed the ceremony. The bridegroom were attended by Miss Gertha Kronitz and Mr. Herman Harder, cousin and brother of the bride. Following the ceremony a reception was tendered the young couple at the Kronitz home. They will live at Wausau and will be at home to their friends after April 1.

In the Future.
And then, again, when the suffra-
gists assume control of things in this country and we have a woman president, we may perhaps expect to see a cabinet made up of the following:
Secretary of Millinery.
Secretary of Social Functions.
Secretary of Drawings.
Secretary of Eugenics.
Secretary of Cosmetics and Mani-
curing.
Secretary of Bridge Whist.
Secretary of Physical Research.
Ethical Culture General.
Secretary of Music and Art.
Sociological Problem General.

—Legal blanks for sale at this office.

CELEBRATE SILVER WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Schlophoff

Lorville celebrated their silver wedding on Tuesday, February 10th. The home had been very prettily decorated in silver and green, and the bride was dressed in light gray satin,
trimmed with silver. A seven course
dinner was served and the evening
was spent in dancing at the Lor-
ville hall to the music of the Berlin
seven-piece harp orchestra. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents which will serve as remembrances of the occasion. Miss Emma Schlophoff, their only child
was present at the festivities, as well
as friends from Grand Rapids, Red Granite, Perth, Spring Lake, Price-
ton, Green Lake, Fond du Lac, Chicago, Des Plaines, Ill., Davenport,
Ia., Fort Wayne, Ind., and Powell,
S. D. All had a most delightful time
and it was one of the most notable events in the history of Lorville.

WORTH KNOWING.

The third finger is the only one where two principal nerves belong to two distinct trunks. The thumb is supplied by its principal nerves from the radial nerve, as are also the forefinger, the middle finger, and the thumb side of the ring finger, while the ulnar nerve furnishes the little finger and the other side of the ring finger, at the point of extremity
of which a real union takes place. It seems as if it were intended by nature to be the matrimonial finger.

Call at the new east side market, Stewart & Edwards. Nothing
but the best meats.

MEEHAN

E. J. Thompson has been working over in the vicinity of Plover the past week or two.

R. W. Parks is getting material
ready to build a new silo this coming summer. Silos are proving a great success in this section where hay is hard to get.

Rev. Raymond held church Sunday morning. The attendance was small owing to bad weather.
Mrs. Allen Clendenning is quite seriously ill at this writing, being confined to the bed for the past week.
There was a dance at the hall Saturday night, which was enjoyed by
quite a crowd of young people.

It may be of interest to those who have logs to saw to know that a portable saw-mill will be temporarily located on the John Clauser farm this spring.

The play entitled Diamonds and Hearts, which has been arranged by
the teacher and young people will be given at the school house, Feb. 28th.

CAST OF CHARACTERS, AS FOLLOWS:

Bernice Hansen—a young lady of elegant with an education of the best a young lady of her age could receive.
Mrs. Hansen—Her sister, a young lady of elegant with an education of the best a young lady of her age could receive. Mrs. Hansen—a widow and step-mother to the Hansen girls—Miss Hansen—A young lady of elegant with an education of the best a young lady of her age could receive. Mrs.
Hansen—a widow and step-mother to the Hansen girls—Miss Hansen—A young lady of elegant with an education of the best a young lady of her age could receive. Mrs. Hansen—a widow and step-mother to the Hansen girls—Miss Hansen—A young lady of elegant with an education of the best a young lady of her age could receive.

MUSLIN UNDERWEAR SALE

at
COHEN BROS.
Department Store

WE just received our new line of Ladies' Muslin Underwear, consisting of Princess Slips, Combinations, Chemises, Drawers, Night Gowns, Corset Covers and Brassiers, and they should meet with a hearty welcome on the part of all Grand Rapids maids and matrons. It will pay you to inspect our undermuslin offerings while this sale is in progress. We'll have values very much out of the ordinary for you.—
Below we quote some of the bargains:

- Ladies' muslin petticoats, trimmed with lace and embroidery worth 75c sale. 48c
- Ladies' muslin corset covers, trimmed with lace and embroidery sale. 19c
- Ladies' muslin night gowns, neatly trimmed during this sale. 39c
- Ladies' muslin brassiers, boned and trimmed sale. 12c
- Children's muslin petticoats, pants and under waists during this sale. 23c
- Corset cover embroidery, 18 inches wide,
new patterns sale. 10c

We just received our new spring line of dress goods, wash goods, new crepes and plain and figured Ratine, Honey Comb, etc. Our prices are within reach of all and we have only one price to all.

Come and look over our new spring line of children's wash dresses 48c to $1.48
prices from

Cohen Bros.

Warnings! Hints! Reminders
on A Burning Subject!

Who's Who?

We are The People
Who Sell GOOD COAL

What's What?

The Coal We Sell
Is the Best That's Mined,
And that You Know,
Is the ONLY KIND!

Fill Up Your Bins!

BOSSERT COAL CO.
Phone 416 Residence 54

with a Frenchman and was challenged to fight a duel.
He selected shillelehs, but the Frenchman's second informed him that he must choose some kind of a weapon that was familiar to Frenchmen. "Faith, then," retorted the Celt; "we'll fight with guillotines!"

It is a very hard matter to down an Irishman, with any kind of a weapon, especially if it be a battle of repartee or ready wit. We are invincible at the Kellogg Yards on one thing—the logic of facts and fair prices. You can't beat them on those, so please drop in and scrap it out with the boss. He'll give and take with you.

Ben-the-Booster, with
KELLOGG BROS. LUMBER CO.

Let Me Be Your Decorator

THE richest wall hangings can't make up for poor workmanship. And on the other hand, good workmanship can't make up for poor quality wall paper. You need both good wall paper and good workmanship, and the way to get them is to call on N. Laramie, who handles the best ideas in wall coverings. Let us help you pick out an attractive color scheme for your rooms and give you an estimate.
Our prices, as well as our wall paper, are just what you need.

N. LARAMIE
Painter and Decorator

See our 1914 Sample Wall Paper Books, all styles of paper at COST.
Telephone No. 89

Our Prices Get Us the Trade

You cannot buy a foot of lumber anywhere else cheaper than you can from us. And most always you will find our prices a little lower than you can get elsewhere. That is why we are doing the bulk of the lumber business in this vicinity.

But don't lose sight of this fact: QUALITY IS OUR LONG SUITE. Our policy is to always give a little better material than others sell for the same money. It will pay you to come to us for your lumber and building material of all kinds.

W. A. MARLING LUMBER CO.
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

Skin Sufferers—Read!

We want all skin sufferers who have suffered for many years the tortures of disease and who have sought medical aid in vain, to read this.

We, as old established druggists of this community, wish to recommend to you a product that has given many relief and may mean the end of your agonies. The product is a mild, simple wash, not a patent medicine concocted of various worthless drugs, but a scientific compound made of well known antiseptic ingredients. It is made in the D.D. & Laboratories of Chicago and is called the D.D. Prescription for Eczema.

This is a doctor's special prescription —one that has effected many wonderful cures.

The effect of D. D. Disinfectant is instantly, as soon as applied, then it penetrates the pores, destroys, and throws off all disease germs, and leaves the skin clean and healthy.

We are so confident of the marvelous power of D. D. that we have taken advantage of the manufacturers' guarantee, to offer you a full-size bottle on trial. You are to use it as directed, and if it doesn't help you, it costs you nothing.

D. D. Soap is made of the same healing ingredients. Ask us about it cures.

J. E. DALY, Druggist, Grand Rapids, Wis.

Do the right thing and do it right NOW

We urge you to start an account with this bank NOW. We know you will say we are right, later. You need the service we can render—that we do render to all our customers.

Bank of Grand Rapids,

WEST SIDE

LELOFF, The Tailor,
Maker of Guaranteed Clothes.
Grand Ave., West Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

SAM CHURCH
PRESCRIPTION DRUGGIST.
Dealer in Anaco Camera, Camera Supplies, Stationery, Combs and Brushes, Toilet Soaps, Toilet Waters, Perfumes, Rubber Goods, Toilet Creams, School Supplies, Fine Candles, Books and Patent Medicines.

In Winter Pe-ru-na CATARRH TONIC for COUGHS & COLDS

Mr. Samuel McKinley, 1215 Grand Ave., Kansas City, Mo., writes: "I can honestly say that I owe my life to Peru-na. Traveling from town to town, and having to go into all kinds of badly heated buildings, playing my trade as an auctioneer, it is only natural that I had colds frequently."

"Last December I contracted a severe cold which, through neglect on my part, settled on my chest. I heart of Peru-na. It cured me, so I cannot praise it too highly."

Those who prefer tablets to liquid medicines can now procure Peru-na in tablet form.

MADE USE OF THE SAMPLES

Truthful Traveler Tells Remarkable Story Concerning Effects of the Ostrich in Africa.

"Doubtless," said the professor of natural history, to the returned traveler, "you have picked up many strange bits of information regarding the animals and birds of the countries you have visited."

"A few," answered the traveler. "The most interesting thing I ever heard, however, was a story I met in Africa. It seems that a year or so ago a representative of a rubber stamp house went through there and lost his sample case, containing all kinds of office stamping apparatus. It appears that some ostriches found his sample case, broke it open, and swallowed the samples."

"I see nothing odd about that. Ostriches will eat anything."

"Yes," but now every ostrich egg that is found there is seen to be numbered and dated!"

Many School Children Are Sickly. Children who are delicate, feverish and grow will get immediate relief from Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for Children. They cleanse the stomach, act on the liver, and are recommended for complaining children. A pleasant remedy for worms. Used by Mothers for 25 years. Address, A. B. Cummings, 250 Temple Block, New York, N. Y.

The only proof of the bluffer is in making good.

There is always a sure cure for the ills of other people.

If you are going to ride a hobby select one that won't buck.

Life is a game in which mighty few of us cash in our hopes.

Never apologize for having been born. It wasn't your fault.

No man is so fast that trouble won't sooner or later overtake him.

The only sure thing in life are those that have already happened.

Unfortunately the peanut politician doesn't always get roasted.

Geneva is building a natural history museum at a cost of $230,000.

Pride goeth before a fall, and it doesn't soften the bumps any at that.

An expert is any person who is able to impress us with how little we know.

It is mighty seldom that you find hard work and hard luck going hand in hand.

Diamond production in German southwest Africa is reported unusually large.

The man who is a knocker isn't always the one who makes the greatest impression.

Most of these mother-in-law jokes are composed by men who never enjoyed that blessing.

Uncomfortable. "Is Boomer still on the water wagon?" "No, very restless."

Never Goes. "I understand he's an osteopath." "I don't know, but if he is, I'll tell you one thing—he never goes to church."

A Bad Beginning. "Did you tell pa you wanted to marry me?" "Yes, and he gave me his consent; then asked me to lend him $10."—Baltimore American.

Love's Power Limited. Most thick women's love to be last without any effort on their part to retain it. But a woman's love cannot live any longer on a starvation diet than that of a man.—Manchester Union.

Appetite Finds Ready Satisfaction

In a bowl of

Post Toasties

and Cream.

Thin, crisp bits of Indian Corn—cooked and toasted so that they have a delicious flavour—

Wholesome Nourishing

Easy to Serve

—sold by Grocers everywhere.

WASHINGTON AS A PRACTICAL JOKER

POSTERITY sees a stiff, formal picture of Washington standing in the bow of a boat crossing the Delaware amid floating blocks of ice on that memorable "Christmas night," to fight the battle which turned the tide of the revolution in the right direction. But no painter could delineate the heroism of the actual scene. His men were ragged—half naked. Besides the running ice in the river, there was a blinding blizzard, and it was so bitter cold that the chief loss on the American side was of the men who, though mired to plumes, troze to death that awful night.

Did General Washington stand in his boat in that dangerous current during a driving storm and stare pompously at the opposite shore? Not he. Instead of that, he "sat tight" and calmed the men, using every device that might make them forget their terrible situation; even telling them a facetious story, which, coming from him, startled them, set their blood tingling and made them oblivious to the cold and dangers around them. That was the grandest deed in the military strategem which made Frederick the Great of Prussia, and, indeed, the whole world, wonder at the genius of Washington.

Nearly every one knows the outside of the story of the siege of Boston by the new commander-in-chief, who had come to the continental congress as a wealthy Virginia colonel, and his nondescript crowd of raw recruits, wholly unused not only to military discipline, but even to military forms. But few know of the transcendent bluff General Washington had to put up when he discovered that there were but a few rounds of gunpowder in the possession of the whole American army, while the British were amply supplied with ammunition and might sally forth any hour against the American "irregulars."

"Some one had blundered," Many a commander would have shown up the imprudent officers who had that matter in charge and peevishly thrown up the command as ridiculously impossible. But General Washington did not tell his most trusted officers of the exasperating dilemma he found himself in. He knew the awful secret would spread if known to a few, and the great cause of justice might be lost. He began quietly to scour the country for gunpowder. He soon found that the nearest place at which any quantity could be had was in a magazine on the island of Bermuda. To get that required a secret expedition, much hazard and many weeks; but Washington's nerve was equal to the fearful strain.

During that long, tense interval the American troops were working away upon the fortifications, preparing for a grand attack. Meanwhile the young commander-in-chief was entertaining hospitably at his headquarters, the Craigie mansion, now best known as "Longfellow's Home," in Cambridge. As a pleasant diversion, "Lady" Washington, then one of the wealthiest women in America, came to visit the general, and all the countryside was agog over her coach-and-four with six black postilions in white and scarlet livery. Even the British, cooped up in Boston, were impressed by the resources and apparent confidence of the American generalissimo.

While one expedition was gone to Bermuda for powder, General Knox, with a small force, succeeded in bringing a number of cannon several hundred miles on ox sleds in midwinter from Fort Mifflin. In those "times that tried men's souls" it was Washington's iron nerve, supported by his broad sense of humor, sometimes scintillating with a radiant wit, of a Franklin or a Lincoln, which saved the day. This was only one of many occasions on which Washington had to fight out the revolution alone. A friend of Lincoln's once said of him, "The president's laugh is his life-preserver." This was true of Washington than any one seems to have realized in a day when strict gravity without levity was expected of public characters. To laugh or to see the humorous side of an incident was considered the sign of a frivolous disposition.

Washington's early biographers were solemn men. To have told in their books how much their hero laughed would have been, in their opinion, wantonly exposing his weakness to public gaze. Mon like "Parson" Weems, renegade preacher and tramp fiddler though he was, had been brought up to this laughing was "worse than wicked—it was vulgar!" In editing, just after their hero appear to have been a demigod, those pedantic biographers related not what George Washington really did, but what they imagined such a boy or man ought to have done under given conditions.

Washington would have laughed heartily at Weems' hatchet-and-cherry-tree story if he had ever heard it—which he never did, for it was not invented till a later edition of the erring rector's juvenile history, six years after Washington's death. Yet the real hero of the cherry-tree fiction would have found it the occasion of gravity as well as mirth. In the edited story of "Little George and His Pa," Weems was only carrying out the idea of his time; to tell not what the small boy actually did, but what the consummate little prig he conceived little George Washington to have been would have done if he had out down his father's favorite cherry tree.

If little George Washington had been the insufferable little prig described by Mr. Weems, his half-brothers would not have loved him better than their own brothers, or their own children, for that matter. His early life was fuller of exciting experiences than any fiction. Yet the life of young Washington is yet to be told as an adventure story. Even in his earliest diaries he early discloses a lively sense of humor, and a humor sometimes, but broad and boyish. He showed this by telling only the jokes against himself. When he was a lad of sixteen he led a surveying party to lay out the lands of his old friend, Lord Fairfax, in the wilderness of the Shenandoah. Here is one of his own experiences as a "tenderfoot," recorded on Tuesday, March 15, 1747-8:

"We got our Suppers & was lighted into a Room, and I, not being so good a Woodsman as ye rest of my company, stripped myself very early, & went to ye Bed, as they called it, when to my surprise I found it to be nothing but a little straw—matted together without sheets or anything else but one threadbare blanket, with double its weight of Vermen, such as Lice, Fleas, &c."

"I was glad to get up (as soon as ye light was carried from us) I put on my Clothes and lay as usual."

USE 15,000,000 COBS IN PIPES

Peculiar Missouri Industry Output for the Year 1912 Was Half Million Dollars.

Millions of corn cobs discarded by farmers were in 1912 turned into an available and useful commodity worth more than half a million dollars by six factories of the state, according to advance information of the 1912 Red Book of the bureau of labor statistics. The industry is one peculiar to Missouri.

First to Win Recognition

Earliest of American Authors to Gain the Coveted Praise of Europe Was Washington Irving.

The first American author to win general recognition of his genius in Great Britain was Washington Irving, who died in his seventy-seventh year at Sunnyside, N. Y. The immortal humorist, historian and essayist was born in New York, the son of a native of Scotland. He was educated for the law, but his tastes were all in the direction of literature, and his legal career was a brief and almost brief one. At eighteen he wrote "Letters of Jonathan Oldstyle," which were published in the New York Morning Chronicle, a newspaper owned by his elder brother, Dr. Peter Irving. He was only twenty-five when he wrote the celebrated "History of New York" by Diedrich Knickerbocker. From 1815 until 1832 Irving resided in England, where his genius was fully recognized. Later he returned to Europe, as United States minister to Spain, and spent several years in Madrid. In the opinion of both American and English critics, Irving has few equals for grace, style and purity and elegance of diction, and his works seem destined to take their place among the great classics of the English language.

Inventions in Their Order.

A vote of its readers taken by the Scientific American is interesting as showing what the average opinion is as to the relative importance of the modern inventions. Wireless telegraph received the highest number of votes; next in order came the aeroplane, the X-ray machine, the automobile, motion pictures, reinforced concrete, photography, incandescent electric lamp, steam turbine, electric car, calculating machine, internal combustion engine, gramophone, submarine boat, picture cinematograph, Diesel engine, color photography, cinematograph, light balloon, Kodak camera, Washburn liquid air, etc.—Pathfinder.

my Companions. Had we not been very tired, I am sure we should not have slept much that night."

The next night he related that they "had a good dinner & a good Feather Bed, which was a very agreeable repast."

In describing an Indian war dance, he went on, "Some liquor elevating their Spirits put them in ye Humor of Dancing. Ye best Dancer jumped about ye ring in a most comical Manner!"

Others of that wilderness gang told a story of the boy surveyor which he was too modest to relate about himself—how young George turned the tables on Big Bear, the wily chief, who was in the habit of holding out his sinewy hand with seeming friendly intent and saying, Indian fashion, "How?" Was to the unsuspecting white man whose hand Big Bear seized in his terrible grasp, while he laughed in savage glee at the pale-faced anguished contortions.

Young Washington had been warned in time. He had a huge, strong hand of his own and knew a trick or two that he thought he would like to try on that Indian's wily claw if he could just get the right hold. His chance came soon enough for Big Bear, who presented a seemingly amicable paw with an innocent "How?"

The young surveyor seized the Indian's hand with such friendly enthusiasm that Big Bear did an agonizing little dance "in a very comical manner," while the spectators, both white and red, stood by and shouted with glee to see the cruel savage caught in his own trap. Never again did Big Bear show such solicitude for the health of George Washington.

At the age of twenty George was the chosen envoy to carry a "notice to quit" from the governor of Virginia to the French commander encamped in the Ohio region. He wrote in his journal of that expedition concerning the supper given him by the French and Indians at the fort at Venango:

"The wine, as they dozed themselves pretty plentifully with it, soon banished the restraint which at first appeared in the conversation; and gave a license to their tongues to reveal their sentiments more freely. They told me that it was their absolute design to take possession of the Ohio—and by G— they would do it!"

At the French fort, while awaiting the commander's reply, the young envoy from Virginia played a diplomatic game for the friendship of the Indians. When the French piled the Indians with liquor, young Washington promised them guns; and the game of diplomacy, seasoned with savage wit, went on between the grizzled cavalier, old in the arts of war and duplicity, and the young Virginia major, who possessed common sense and humor within.

After the awful slaughter of Fort Duquesne, into which he had rushed from a bed of fever, in a vain attempt to save Braddock and his army, Major Washington was left in command of the scattered forces. At this time he wrote to his brother "Jack" a letter, which at least suggests Mark Twain's attitude toward the "grossly exaggerated" story of his own death:

"Dear Brother, As I have heard, since my arrival at this place, a circumstantial account of my death and dying speech, I take the early opportunity of contradicting the first, and of assuring you that I have not as yet composed the latter."

ing two bowls to each cob and figuring for those which were wasted in the process of manufacture.

Artificial Wood.

French experimenters at work in the city of Lyons have just produced an artificial wood, according to the American consul at that place. The new product has been found after years of study and practical experiments; the most recent of which have given eminently satisfactory results. The process consists in transforming straw into a solid material having the resistance of oak. The straw, after being cut into small pieces, is reduced to a paste by boiling. Certain chemicals are then added. When the paste has been reduced to a homogeneous mass it is put into presses, and planks, beams, lathe and moldings of all sizes are readily made. This new material can be sawed like natural wood. As a fuel it emits a bright flame and little smoke. It is further said to be adaptable to the manufacture of match stumps.

Seeing Paris.

"This," said the guide, "is Paris proper."

"We didn't come all this way to see Paris proper," snorted the tourist. "When do the diodes commence?"

Between Friends.

Allice—Somehow, Jack cannot seem to get up courage to propose.

Marie—Perhaps he's afraid you'd say yes.

You'll wake up with a good taste in your mouth

if you chew this after every meal.

The refreshing digestion aiding mint leaf juice does it.

This clean, pure, healthful purifies you —sweetens your a pleasant pastime.

BUY

Each box contains twenty 5 cent packages

Chew it after every meal
It stays fresh until used

BUILT ON GREAT ORE BANK

Site of Minnesota City Will Be Moved
So That Riches Underneath
May Be Mined.

One billion dollars of value is concentrated within the six miles square of a single township in the Minnesota iron region. Stuntz township, containing the cities of Hibbing and Chisholm, is an almost continuous mass of high-grade ore, about five hundred feet in depth. The value of the score of big properties—including the two greatest iron-ore producers in the world—is not less than one billion dollars. But Hibbing, sitting on a mine, is not happy. It has to move. The property was acquired subject to mineral rights (says the World's Work). The mining pits, opened by steam shovels from one to five miles in three directions and converging at the city limits, show that the city's 10,000 inhabitants dwell on a great bank of solid ore. The fee and leaseholders express a desire to be liberal and to pay generous damages to property owners; but the city must change its base. It is moving along on the installment plan, and soon a brand-new Hibbing will appear nearby, with schools, churches, banks, parks, and libraries.

Very.

Two well-known aviators were discussing the progress of aviation in France.

"I see," one of them remarked, "that the Aero Club de France is going to set up a monument in honor of Santos-Dumont."

"Really?" exclaimed the other. "Where will they erect it?"

"At St. Cloud," was the reply.

"How appropriate!" commented the other.

Or Baby-Island.

The baby in the little Broadway (see Evanston avenue) home was slow about learning to talk and his aunt was deploring that fact. Four-year-old Elizabeth listened anxiously.

"Oh, mother," she ventured at length, "do you think he'll grow up English? We couldn't any of us understand him if he turned out to be French!"

Its Drawback.

Jinks—"You don't mean to say your wife wants to sell that prize toy terrier you bought for her?" Binks—"Yes, she does."

"Why, I thought that dog was said to be the smallest dog in the world!"

"That's the trouble. It's so small she keeps mistaking it for a mouse!"

Improved Typewriter Keys.

Safety speed keys, equipped with springs and cushions, for typewriters have been devised, which are said to increase the key area, thus lessening the chances for striking wrong keys, and reducing the jar and wear on both machines and operators.

Seeing Paris.

"This," said the guide, "is Paris proper."

"We didn't come all this way to see Paris proper," snorted the tourist. "When do the diodes commence?"

Between Friends.

Allice—Somehow, Jack cannot seem to get up courage to propose.

Marie—Perhaps he's afraid you'd say yes.

Be Interested in Something.

Many persons waste their energies and time by taking a sham interest in life or some phase of it. They pretend they are interested in art, music, books, because their friends are interested or they devote themselves to charity because it is expected of them.

No one grows old so fast or unattractively as those whose minds are inactive. You can prove for yourself that this must be so. Let your mind become passive for a moment and you will note how the jaw drops, the facial muscles sag and the eyes grow dim. Imagine the effect of a mind never, or only spasmodically, active. Verily to be interested is to keep the mind alert, and that spells youth.

Of One Accord.

Two men who had long been on bad terms with each other met one day and said one to the other, "What's the sense of two intelligent men going along month after month like a couple of wild cats spitting at each other? It's a burnin' shame that we two be actin' like a couple of boobies. Shake hands and come and have a drink!"

The other assenting, they went to the nearest bar. After the drinks had been taken, a silence fell between the two. "What are you thinkin' about?" asked one. "O'm thinkin' the same thing that you are," was the reply. "So," said the first, "ye're startin' agin, are yer?"

The Oldest Ship.

Said to be the oldest ship in the world in active service, the Copenhagen yacht Constantine has been sold to a fisherman of Skaw, in Iceland, who will use the ancient craft in his trade. The Constantine was built one hundred and ninety-three years ago, and in her long life she has sailed into almost every port in the world. Her timbers are still staunch, and her new owner declares he can see no reason why she should not sail the seas for a century to come.

A Discrimination.

"Does your husband play cards for money?"

"I don't think so," replied young Mrs. Hopkins. "But those who play with him do."

Breakage Not Feared.

"Columbus stood an egg on end to illustrate the shape of the earth."

"Yes. But that was when eggs were cheap enough to take chances with."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules. Easy to take as candy. Ad.

The Next Thing.

"Appearances are against you."

"Then tell me quickly what it is that fronts me."

Currie's Tested Seeds

For the Garden and Farm are Pure and Reliable; they never disappoint. Nearly forty years of honest, upright dealing your sure guarantee. A trial will convince you. New Farm and Garden Annual cataloging the best varieties of Farm, Vegetable and Flower Seeds, House Plants, Hardy Perennials, Shrubs, Vines, etc., fully illustrated and containing much valuable information on everything pertaining to gardening. To get acquainted we are offering one past year's catalog free of charge. Send for it. It is free.

To get acquainted we are offering one past year's catalog free of charge. Send for it. It is free.

velope worth 25 cents on future orders—a total 45 cent value—for only 10 cents, and the catalogue goes with it. An opportunity no one can afford to miss. Send today.

CURRIE BROS. COMPANY, ESTABLISHED 1875
312 Broadway, Milwaukee, Wis. Mention the paper when you write

35 BUSHELS PER ACRE was the yield of WHEAT on many farms in Western Canada in 1912 some yields being reported as high as 50 bushels per acre. As high as 100 bushels were recorded in some districts for oats. 50 bushels for barley and from 10 to 20 for flax. J. Keys arrived in the country 5 years ago from Denmark, with very little means. He homesteaded, worked hard, is now the owner of 320 acres of land, in 1912 had a crop of 200 acres, which weighed about 4,000 lbs. The wheat weighed 35 lbs. to the bushel and averaged over 30 bushels to the acre.

Thousands of similar instances might be related of the homesteaders in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. The crop of 1913 was an abundant one everywhere in Western Canada.

Ask for descriptive literature and reduced railway rates. Apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada.

Geo. A. Hall,
123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.
Canadian Government Agent.

CHILD'S GIANT SUMMER COSMOS

It is possibly the most epoch making and beautiful garden flower known. Cosmos, perfectly free from disease and insect pests, producing thousands of flowers. Superb and more exquisite than the full Cosmos, white, pink, blue, red, yellow, etc. 10 cents per plant, 50 cents per dozen. Free literature. Write for it. John Lewis Childs, Floral Park, N. Y.

FREE TO DETROIT, FLORIDA—CLUB

For information about free trip to Detroit's Celebration, February 20th and 21st. Complete free canal and rock paved road from Detroit, also miles to Biscayne Bay, see Detroit, the farthest south town in the continent. Agents bring luggage, register commissions, and service. Last boat leaves Co. Detroit, Dade Co., Southeast Florida.

READERS

of this paper desiring to buy anything advertised in its columns should insist upon having what they ask for, refusing all substitutes or imitations.

FARMERS

Wear Overland Aluminum Shoes, which keep feet warm and dry, no corns, blisters. Write for special prices. Overland Shoe Co., Madison, Wis.

Cancers!

Deposit $2 with your banker or post office, and receive a coupon for a bottle of Dr. Goro's, 624 E. St., Madison, Wis.

Boys and Girls

Want a beautiful watch, compass, etc., for Christmas? Write for particulars. Maplet Spooling, Maplet, Wis.

EYE

ACHES. Pettit's Eye Salve.

W. N. U., MILWAUKEE, NO. 7-1914.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

The following licenses have been issued by County Clerk Eberhart during the past week:

Wm. C. Whittingham and Cora Hauke both of Arpin.

Harry Newton Bowker of Stevens Point and Norma Bado, Rudolph.

Wm. H. H. of Rudolph and Irma Hassel of Grand Rapids.

Oot Gaupp and Amelle Belgert, both of Nekosca.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Glise are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brnsner are happy over the safe arrival of a bouncing 10 pound baby girl this Wednesday morning.

Ford Sanitation

Lubrication and sanitation take on a new significance when applied to a plant that turns out approximately a thousand cars a day and employs about 16,000 men. With the Ford Motor Co. these two necessities involve an extraordinary amount of material and labor. For example, there are 300 men, a force large enough to run many a factory, in the main Ford plant at Highland Park, Detroit, who do nothing but scrub. These men are employed in three three shifts of eight hours each, seven days a week. Their work is the main feature of the labor necessary to keep the Ford plant dirty. Huntington & Lousig are agents for the Ford car which is selling this season for $550 fully equipped. 1t.

A Man of Lawyers

An old man, charged with stealing of a car, was arrested in court and self when he was brought to your law. "Ah a said the "Very "I'll say "Oh, do dat! "Why won't you wa "We said th old m dis w chle Chron

Slide Talks With Girls

Do not marry a man who bites his finger nails. It indicates a very nervous disposition and a nervous husband is more of a liability than an asset.

If he is in the habit of noticing bits of dust on the parlor table or goes about straightening pictures or smoothing the wrinkles out of hall rugs, pass him up for good. There is nothing more distressing than a fussy man around the house. One who is right right grouchy is better. One who will not notice for a week at a time the ideal bed has been made is the ideal. Never marry a man who carries his small change in a pocketbook wrapped in eight or ten yards of string. There's a reason.

The Difference

The following notice appeared in a recent edition of the Sheboygan Daily Press:—"Am now ready to receive taxes at my place near west city limits in Koerner's Add. Will be at the following places for collection of taxes: Phil Juckem's Saloon, Jan. 22; Erdman's Saloon, Jan. 23; H. Wither's Saloon, Jan. 26; Ed. Widder's Saloon, Jan. 27; Wm. Friedrich's Saloon, Jan. 28; John Lutz's Saloon, Jan. 29; Bartenz and Schubert, Jan. 30. Two per cent will be charged after Feb. 1st.—Henry Ogendorf, Town Treasurer."

What a tremendous difference in opinion on some things—especially on the saloon question—between the people in different sections of the state! The people of Grant county would not stand for a notice like the above one minute.

Is it any wonder there is so much dispute over political questions in Wisconsin?

ADDITIONAL LOCAL

Atty. R. E. Andrews of Marshfield was a business visitor in the city on Tuesday.

—250 good reserved seats at 10c for Long Stock Co. All next week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Warner and family have moved into the residence recently constructed by Julius Nelson.

—Ladies Free Monday Night Daily Theatre.

Miss Ruth McCamley expects to go to Manawa the latter part of the week to attend the Junior Prom over there.

Mrs. Olson of Milwaukee and Miss Anna Falzer, of Appleton are visiting at the home of their sister, Mrs. Henry Welland.

Mrs. E. M. Pease received word on Monday that her mother, who resides in Texas, was quite sick. Mrs. Pease left next day for Texas.

Chas. Holmgren of Milwaukee this week attending the annual convention of the Wisconsin Retail Lumbermen's Association.

J. L. Brooks has been acting as teacher in the public schools during the past couple of weeks in place of Miss Kivto, who has been confined to her home by sickness.

Big Stock Co. all next week. Daily's Theatre, good reserved seats 10c, better ones 40c, best 30c. All seats reserved. Ladies Free Monday night usual condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brostowitz of the town of Sigel spent the past week in the city visiting with relatives and attending the Mission at St. Lawrence Catholic church.

The city of Marshfield is experiencing trouble with her water supply, there being barely enough during the cold weather to supply the needs of the people, the wells being pumped dry most of the time.

W. D. Dodge of Spokane, Wash. arrived in the city Tuesday to spend a few days in this vicinity visiting his friends. Mr. Dodge is on the road most of the time now selling his patent which is used on paper machines and which is proving a great value where it has been tried out.

Over at Stevens Point a couple of guys are carrying on a debate in the columns of the Journal as to "Where are the dead?" When they get the matter settled we will tell our readers where they are, for there are a lot of people who would like to know.

Local icemen have been gathering their supply of ice of late, and it is about 18 inches thick and as clear as a crystal. Any apprehension that might have been felt earlier in the season on account of the continued warm weather has been dispelled during the past two weeks, when mercury went below zero nearly every night.

Mrs. F. MacKinnon entertained a number of friends at her home Saturday afternoon at a Valentine party in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Zachary Lansdowne, who is a guest of her parents. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in playing bridge, concluding with a five o'clock supper. The favors were awarded to Mrs. L. E. Phillee and Mrs. Mayme Pomerville.

Peter Schantz was among the business callers at the Tribune office on Tuesday. Peter is sporting a piece of court-plaster on the bridge of his nose, but when questioned by the Tribune man he stated that nobody had hit him on the nose, as appearances might suggest, but that he had been struck by a piece of wood. This is a pretty old story to work off on us, but then Peter has a reputation for veracity which causes the story to carry considerable weight.

Some of us spend so much time looking for an alibi that we never get down to the job!

Almost anybody is now able to realize that this ground hog does "it" all bunk. That there is nothing to it. That if the groundhog staid out last Candlemas day he has probably frozen to death long before this. It is probable that the story about the groundhog originated down in Tennessee or Kentucky where winter begins to let up a trifle the first of February and was never intended to be transplanted to Wisconsin, where winter invariably lasts until about the middle of May, and sometimes longer, if we happen to have a late spring.

Out of Sight

Young Hopeful (who has lately started to study mechanics)—"Why do you always pull your barrow, Grubbs?"

Grubbs (a pessimist)—"Cos. I 'ates the very sight of it.—London Punch.

Hause-Schmidt. Miss Gertrude Hauke and Charles Schmidt, both of Arpin, were married in this city on Thursday. Justice John Roberts officiating. They were accompanied by Miss Myrtle Hauke and John Schulte. They will make their home near the village of Arpin where the groom is engaged in farming.

MARKET REPORT

Pork dressed	10-10 1/2
Veal	10-12
Hay, Timothy	10-12
Potatoes	45
Butter	24-28
Eggs	28
Hides	10-11
Hens	36
Jats	11
Spring chickens	53
Eye Flour	53.80
Patent Flour	55.20

—Legal blanks for sale at this office.

TWO BIG EVENTS!

JOHNSON & HILL COMPANY launch another Big Event in connection with their Great 14c Sale. "The Annual Sale of Undermuslins" commencing Friday, February 20th. Every woman in Grand Rapids and vicinity knows that it is to her advantage to buy her undermuslins during this annual event.

Annual Sale of Undermuslins

Women will find it a pleasure in choosing new undermuslins during our February Sale. The dainty laces and embroideries used on our undermuslins are more beautiful and durable than you have ever before seen on garments at so low a price.

GOWNS

Gown, of good quality muslin, trimmed with embroidery, and lace edging. Slip over style with sewed-in short sleeves, sizes 15, 16 and 17, price48c

Gown of good quality muslin, trimmed with embroidery edge and insertion, open front style with V-neck and long sleeves, sizes 15, 16, 17, price48c

Muslin gown, slip-over style with short kimono sleeve, trimmed with ribbon run embroidery beading, sizes 15, 16, 17, price75c

Gown of fine quality muslin, trimmed with Swiss embroidery, "slip-over style" with short sewed-in sleeves, sizes 15, 16, 17, price75c

Gown of fine quality muslin, trimmed with embroidery edge and insertion, open front style with V-neck and long sleeves sizes 15, 16, 17, price98c

Gowns of fine quality muslin in V-neck or round neck with open front and long sleeves. Nicely trimmed, sizes 15, 16, 17, price98c

Crêpe "slip-over style" gown with kimono sleeve, trimmed with narrow lace edge, sizes 15, 16, 17, price85c

Gowns in "slip-over style" trimmed with valenciennes lace and ribbon run embroidery having a dainty split wing sleeve trimmed with the lace, sizes 15, 16 17, price1.25

Nainsook gowns, "slip-over style" trimmed with dainty embroidery edge sizes 15, 16, 17, price1.25

Gown of nainsook, "slip-over style" with sewed-in sleeves. Trimmed with valenciennes lace and embroidery medallion, sizes 15, 16, 17, price1.65

PETTICOATS

Petticoat of good quality muslin with tucked ruffle and embroidery edge each only48c

Muslin Petticoat with neat flounce of embroidery and fine tucks, each 59c

Muslin petticoats, flounce trimmed with two rows of lace insertion and bottom finished with lace edge to match, each75c

Muslin petticoats flounce trimmed with fine tucks and embroidery edging each75c

Petticoats of good quality muslin, flounce trimmed with wide embroidery edging, .98c

Fine quality muslin petticoats with deep embroidery flounces1.25

Muslin petticoats, flounces trimmed with wide shadow lace and insertion, each1.65

Petticoats of fine quality muslin, flounce of 18 inch embroidery, each1.95

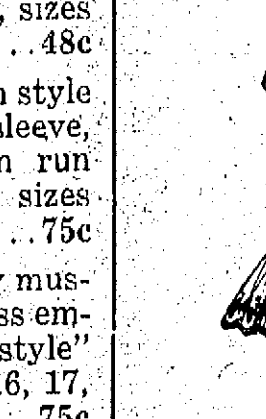

Petticoats made of nainsook, flounce of shadow lace set on with two rows of wide insertion to match, each2.25

Petticoats made of fine quality muslin with deep embroidery flounce with wide embroidery insertion underlaid with ribbon,2.45

CORSET COVERS—Continued

Corset covers made of fine quality nainsook, trimmed with fine lace and dainty embroidery, sizes 34 to 44 each48c

Corset covers, made of fine quality nainsook, trimmed with lace and embroidery, sizes 34 to 44 each75c

DRAWERS

Muslin drawers, open or closed style, trimmed with fine tucks, price19c

Drawers made of good muslin, trimmed with fine tucks and embroidery edging, open or closed styles, price24c

Drawers of fine quality muslin trimmed with wide-embroidery, price43c

Drawers in circular style, made of fine quality muslin, trimmed with embroidery edging, price59c

COMBINATIONS

Nainsook combination corset cover and drawers, trimmed with valenciennes lace and embroidery beading, sizes 36 to 44, each only1.25

Nainsook combination corset cover and drawers trimmed with pointed lace, insertion and lace edge, sizes 34 to 40, each.1.85

Nainsook combination corset cover and drawer, trimmed with valenciennes lace and embroidery medallions, sizes 34 to 40.2.25

PRINCESS SLIPS

Princess slips made of good quality muslin, trimmed with embroidery around yoke and on bottom of flounce, sizes 34 to 40, each98c

Princess slip made of fine quality muslin, trimmed with lace and embroidery around yoke and a lace trimmed flounce, sizes 34 to 44.1.20

Princess slip made of fine muslin, yoke trimmed with embroidery and an embroidery flounce, sizes 34 to 44 $1.45

Nainsook Princess slip, yoke trimmed with dainty embroidery and deep embroidery flounce, sizes 34 to 44 at each1.95

Nainsook slip, yoke and flounce trimmed with Swiss embroidery, sizes 34 to 44.2.25

Nainsook slip, trimmed around yoke with embroidery medallions and lace, flounce trimmed with lace2.45

CORSET COVERS

Corset cover made of good quality muslin, perfect tight fitting, sizes 38 to 44, each1.4c

Corset cover, made of good quality muslin, trimmed with lace insertion, sizes 36 to 42, each1.9c

Corset cover, made of fine quality muslin, trimmed with lace and embroidery, sizes 36 to 44, each2.4c

Second Week of the Great 14c Sale

The second week of our Great 14c Sale starts Saturday, and it is our aim to make this week as big a success as the first part of the sale has been. The following prices will hold good until Saturday, Feb. 28, unless the items are sold previous to this date:

One lot huck towels with red borders, special value for this sale14c

All linen toweling regular price 18c per yard for this sale per yard14c

One lot of white goods that formerly sold from 18c to 25c per yard14c

One lot of Normandy laces and insertion ranging in widths up to 4 inches, special for this sale, 2 yards for14c

One lot of embroidery flouncings, regular price 18c yard, for this sale per yard.14c

Ladies' plain white handkerchiefs, special value for this sale 6 for14c

One lot fancy ribbons, the regular 24c grade for this sale per yard14c

2 boxes of shoe polish "2 in 1" this sale 14c

10 pair 6-4 shoe laces, this sale14c

Men's wool and cotton mixed work sox special a pair14c

One pair men's canvass gloves with gauntlet14c

Men's knit mufflers, this sale each14c

2 pair men's canvas gloves, this sale14c

One lot men's four-in-hand neckties.14c

Curtain Swisses, regular price 20c per yard, for this sale per yard14c

36 inch cretonne and figured satens, regular prices 18-20 and 25c special for this sale per yard14c

Table oil cloth, white and colored, 5-4 width this sale per yard14c

25c can Glidden's wood stain, any color 14c

1 pt. Moore's furniture varnish regular price 25c per can for this sale per can.14c

1 5-lb. package Lythite cold water paint during this sale14c

25c can Johnson & Hill Co. paint during this sale14c

All 25c roll wall paper during this sale per roll14c

20 and 25c cans tinting colors14c

25c Japanese pictures each14c

24c dozen tumblers during this sale per dozen14c

25c cuspidors during this sale14c

25c decorated bread and butter plates.14c

One assortment of bon bon dishes, pin trays and many other useful articles that sold for 25c, your choice14c

20 and 25c pictures, during this sale.14c

One lot of white plates, 6 plates during this sale for14c

One lot of decorated plates 3, during this sale14c

25c Persian varnish stain per can14c

25c Heisey finger bowls, for this sale14c

20c Heisey individual salts14c

30c cake plates, for this sale14c

One lot of Grand Rapids Pillow tops in cross stitch design, each14c

One lot of linen crash pillow tops in conventional designs, each14c

One lot granite ware, special for this sale, each14c

6 tin pie plates regular 3c each, for this sale the six14c

The Queen flour-sifter regular price 20c for this sale14c

6 9-inch tin cake pans, regular price 3c each, for this sale, the six for14c

5 10-inch cake pans, regular price 4c each, for this sale, the five for14c

Your choice of any 5c articles in our basement, 4 for14c

Your choice of any 10c articles in our basement, 2 for14c

25c "Glad Rags" polishing cloths, during this sale14c

2 bottles of 10c writing ink at this sale. 14c

Donald's face powder, flesh or white, at this sale14c

One lot of hair brushes, specially priced for this sale14c

Donald's complexion powder, 25c size for this sale14c

25c box No. 18 Theatre Rouge for this sale14c

Velvette, an ideal liquid substitute for powder, regular 25c size14c

One bottle Gravel's tooth powder and one tooth brush, the two for14c

One bottle J. & H. Antiseptic tooth powder 25c size14c

GROCERIES! GROCERIES!

The Last Week

1 clothes line and 5 dozen clothes pins14c

4 cans Bestine Cleanser14c

1 pkg. Jersey Corn Flakes and 2 pkgs. La France Laundry Tablets14c

2 pkgs. Honey Krisp Corn Flakes, regular 10c grade14c

4 lbs. White beans14c

4 5c bars floating toilet soap worth 25c.14c

4 bars Electric Spark Soap14c

1 mop rag worth 25c14c

1 scrubbing brush and mop handle.14c

1 lb. chocolate candy, worth 25c.14c

3 1/2 lbs sugar14c

2 1/2 lbs. fancy head rice14c

4 1/2 lbs. oatmeal14c

1 lb. smoking tobacco14c

CANNED GOODS.

We still have some bargains in canned goods. Those of our customers who have already bought some of the goods consider themselves lucky to be able to buy goods at such low prices.

Below are a few items that are going at 14c

Curtice Bros jams in glasses, worth 25c.14c

1 qt. jar olives, worth 25c14c

1 3-lb. can peaches, good ones14c

2 cans wax beans14c

2 cans salmon14c

2 cans sauer kraut14c

A lot of fancy canned peas that sell at 18c and 20c per can, now14c

EXTRA SPECIAL---FREE. With every 49 lb. sack of Victoria Flour one package of Kleeneze FREE. You will like this Cleanser.

See our Bargains we are offering in Canned and Bottled Goods at one-third off

Johnson & Hill Company

GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN.

SIGEL

A large and happy crowd attended the "Valentine Bazaar" held at the Carl Kronholm home on Saturday night. Refreshments were served and a royal good time was enjoyed by all. A neat little sum was cleared up by the venture.

Misses Anna Heden and Anna Heden, of Grand Rapids attended the Valentine party at the Kronholm home on Saturday night.

Misses Anna Heden and Mary Wellock of the Rapids visited relatives here on Saturday.

Wladimir Lindqvist has gone to Grand Rapids where he has secured employment.

John Larson contemplates building a new barn in the spring.

ALTDOFF

"There is a class of men who have no use for an uplift movement unless they can sell themselves into it at a pretty good price."

Mrs. Peter Wirtz has gone to Berlin to visit her daughter Gertrude who is quite sick.

Leopold Taunzer and Julius Kuntz are both seriously ill at this writing.